200,000 MOURN AT FINAL RITES FOR HINDENBURG

Grave Will Become National Shrine.

TANNENBERG, East Prussia, Aug. 7.—The last parade for the field marshal who commanded 12,000,000 Germans in the world war was more splendid than any Germany ever staged for king or emperor.

Two million persons paraded throughout Germany in honor of their late commander and president, Paul Beneckendorff und von Hindenburg, as impressive funeral services were being conducted at the memorial in his honor here. The services were climaxed by an address by Chancellor Hitler, in which he made only one political reference. He said Von Hindenburg had opened the door for the Nazis to come into power.

As night was falling, many of the 200,000 mourners who had been at Tannenberg since dawn were still marching past the Von Hindenburg tower of the memorial, in which the body of their field marshal rests. His grave will be turned into a national shrine.

Light Sacrificial Fires.

Today's ceremonies began with the arrival at dawn of a funeral cortège from Von Hindenburg's ancestral home at Neudeck. Tens of thousands of persons wended their way to the memorial, which is similar to a fortress, with its eight squat, square towers rising 100 feet above the plain on the site of the battle of Tannenberg, where Von Hindenburg and Gen. Erich Ludendorff 20 years ago directed the battle which crushed the mighty Russian army.

When the soldiers standing guard on the towers, like statues of bronze, espied the approaching cortège they gave a signal and from giant cressets atop the towers flames blazed up to the blue summer sky. All day long fire brigades in quaint costumes mounted watch over these sacrificial fires while below in the court the ceremonies proceeded.

The tower opposite the main entrance was sheathed in black cloth which served as a background for the huge white cross facing the cemeteries where the thousands of men who fell in the battle are in enternal sleep—Russians and Germans alike.

A Sea of Uniforms.

Soldiers and sailors stood on the battlements connecting the towers, their feet wide apart and hands folded on their rifles, immovable for hours.

The arena was crowded with men in uniforms. Generals in the splendor of bygone days; world war veterans; black-coated Schutzstaffel men [Hitler's hand picked guard]; blue-coated airmen; Storm Troopers and Hitler Youths in brown; labor volunteers in drab olive; police and sailors in dark blue; Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering's own police in blue-green. Foreign military attachés and foreign diplomats in their gala outfits presented the brightest spots in the gay picture.

The only women in the assembly were Von Hindenburg's daughters, his daughter-in-law, and his granddaughters. The late president's favorite grandson, Paul Hubertus, appeared in a dignified white smock and black pants.

Crowd Salutes Hitler.

Immediately after the family entered and took seats near the giant center cross, in front of which a catafalque had been erected, a detachment of the reichswehr [regular army] emerged from a doorway carrying the battle scarred flags of regiments which fought under Von Hindenburg at Tannenberg. They stood behind the tribune from which Hitler was to speak. A hillock was formed by 1,000 wreaths from all parts of the world.

Promptly at 11 o'clock Hitler entered the arena. The audience arose and extended arms in silent salute. The fuehrer [leader] shook hands with Col. Oscar von Hindenburg, the late president's son, and the colonel's wife, and bowed ceremoniously to the other members of the family. Paul Hubertus returned the bow of his grandfather's successor with courtly dignity befitting a scion of the Von Hindenburgs.

Officers and soldiers then emerged from one of the towers carrying the coffin. They were preceded by six generals carrying black velvet cushions with the baton, sword, and decorations of the deceased soldier. In silence the coffin was set down on the catafalque and covered with flowers.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—The National Labor Relations board ruled unanimously today against company dominated unions. The board ordered the Tamaqua Underwear company of Tamaqua, Pa., to reinstate 61 employés held to have been discharged for refusal to join a company union.

A majority of the Tamaqua employés had voted in favor of the company union in an election held June 20 under supervision of the Philadelphia Regional Labor board.

Calls Pact an Oddity.

The National board in its decision signed by Chairman Lloyd Garrison, Edwin S. Smith and Harry A. Millis, assailed company officials and company union leaders, declaring that "a collective bargaining agreement which provides merely for the closed shop is an oddity in the annals of labor relations."

The board had to decide, it said only whether "the Tamaqua employés' union is a company union within the intent of that part of Section 7A [of NIRA] which provides that 'no employé and no one seeking employment shall be required as a condition of employment to join any company union.'"

The decision indicates that the board intends, in all cases brought before it, to enforce the doctrine that company unions cannot become "exclusive." The board has yet to rule on the case of the Houde Engineering corporation of Buffalo, in which it must decide whether employers may bargain with two unions.

Cites Closed Shop Pact.

On June 22, the decision in the Tamaqua case declares, "Dr. Auchmuty for the company and Allison L. Hallman, president of the 'company union' signed the following agreement:

"It is hereby agreed that the Tamaqua Underwear company agrees to recognize the demand of the Tamaqua employés' union for a closed shop, beginning June 22, 1934.

"On June 25, the Monday following the elections, when the sixty-six members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America [affiliated with the A. F. of L.] came as usual to work they were told by Dr. Auchmuty that they would be refused their old posts unless they joined the 'company union.' This sixty-one of them have not done so and are accordingly denied employment by the company."

Resents Company Guidance.

Without attempting to decide "the validity of a closed shop agreement with a bona fide labor union," the board found that "the hands which guided the organization of this union were those of employés who were in an executive or supervisory capacity, and its present destinies are controlled not by the female stitchers and cutters of which almost the entire membership is composed, but by an assistant floor lady, Mrs. Evans, a comparatively well-paid machinist, Hallman, and a male employé of the shipping department."

Husbands See Painting; Twit D. A. R. Wives

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

"Daughters of the Revolution," from the satirical brush of Grant Wood, Iowa painter, is proving the most popular painting at A Century of Progress art exhibit, outranking the works of such sacred names as Whistler, Sargent, and Reynolds, it was revealed yesterday at the Chicago Art institute.

Artist Wood is the creator of "American Gothic," a farm scene in his native state which has brought a storm of Iowan protest since it was hung in the institute two years ago. Wood's paintings, some critics say, are a forerunner with those of John Steuart Curry ["Kansas Cyclone"] of what may become the first truly American art uninfluenced by European masters. The third of Wood's trilogy in the current show is "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere."

Painting Is "Popular."

One index to the exhibit favorites is the post card counter in the center gallery, where is was learned that many Daughters of the American Revolution are taking exception to Artist Wood's gentle caricature.

The painting shows three women, their stern faces set grimly. One of the women holds a teacup. In the background hangs another painting, "Washington Crossing the Delaware." That is all, but apparently it is enough—or not enough.

"We sell more 'Daughters of the Revolution' postcards than any other picture in the exhibit," the girl at the counter confided. "I know a lot of the D. A. R.'s buy the pictures because they wear pins. Also a lot of husbands buy them who have got tired of hearing about the family tree."

"Egyptian Girl" Next.

According to the general public's tastes, the next most popular paintings in ranking order are Sargent's "Egyptian Girl," Whistler's "White Girl," El Greco's "Assumption of the Virgin," Copley's "Lady Wentworth," Gainsborough's "Mrs. Thicknesse," Reynolds' "Mary Hickey," Eakins' "Agnew Clinic," and Bellows' "Dempsey and Firpo." Another favorite brought up by public request from the basement and unveiled recently by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, is Brenton's "Song of the Lark."

Last Sunday was the peak day this year, 5,000 visiting the galleries. The attendance curve is going up, officials stated, pointing out that attendance last year did not show substantial increases until after Aug. 1. The $75,000,000 exhibit will continue to Nov. 1, when many of the valuable paintings will be returned to their lenders.

The most valuable of these is El Greco's "Assumption of the Virgin," which is worth between one and two million dollars.

POSE AS POLICE IN TWO HOLDUPS; TAKE SQUAD CAR

Two unusual robberies involving police equipment occurred last night within a few hours of each other. In one holdup two bandits stole a police car, after posing as policemen and holding up a detective, and in the other the bandits riding in a siren equipped car and with a leader wearing a policeman's hat held up and robbed a dentist.

The police victim was Detective Forest Benz, who sat alone in an unmarked car in the 3600 block on Polk street while other members of his squad were making an investigation. Two men, carrying pistols, stepped up to his car.

"We're police officers," one of them said. "We want to use your car."

Benz protested that he was a policeman, too.

Two young men riding in an automobile equipped with a siren forced the automobile of Dr. W. R. Cruikshank, 6603 South Campbell avenue, a dentist, to the curb at Rockwell and 62d streets.

They took $25 from him at the point of a shotgun.

Bandits' Victim, Left Lying in Street, Run Over by Car

After leaping into his car when he slowed down for the intersection of Crawford avenue on Fifth avenue and robbing him of $4, bandits last night struck John Gilligan, 41 years old, 716 South Kildare avenue, over the head with their pistols, tossed him into the street, and drove away in his car. A minute later a car driven by Carlo Tomelli, 3220 Flournoy street, ran over him. He was taken to the Robert Burns hospital.

Mister Oyster Must Roister; Wife Demure

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—The real life of an oyster was subjected to scientific exploitation today.

It was explained by the highest authority, a man who has spent years in studying the home and habits of the American bi-valve. He was positive that the male oyster has a rather low level of behavior. It seems that Mike Oyster has about the moral standard of a gray alley tomcat; he goes about considerable in the oyster beds.

While the Missus Stays Home.

Mrs. Oyster, on the other hand, is quite a stay-at-home body. She will listen only to her first cousin, a gentlemanly oriental who resides in the waters off Japan.

It was all explained by Paul S. Galtsoff, chief oyster investigator of the United States bureau of fisheries. He was talking before the joint convention of the National Oyster Growers and Dealers' association and the National Shellfisheries' association.

"The male responds very readily to the clam, quahaug, scallop, mussel, and to a great variety of hormones," the expert said.

About Mme. Oyster.

Of the female he said:

"It is true that our Atlantic oyster can be interested by the Japanese oyster, but attempts to induce reaction by the soft clam, quahaug, scallop, mussel, starfish, and sea urchin have failed."

Maybe, after all, part of the blame attaches to the human race. The members like their oysters stewed. Sixty per cent of the three million bushels of oysters sold annually in the Long Island area go in stews, a survey shows, while the next largest amount are sold on the half shell. Fried oysters are next in popularity, while a small percentage are served in fancier styles.

CONRAD NAGEL'S WIFE OBTAINS MEXICAN DIVORCE

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Conrad Nagel obtained a divorce from Conrad Nagel, the motion picture star, in Juarez, Mexico, courts late today on grounds of incompatibility. Nagel filed a waiver to the action.

Settlement of property was made before divorce proceedings were begun, Mrs. Nagel said. She will have custody of their child, Ruth, 8 years old, a point which Nagel agreed to before the divorce.

"Conrad was away in the east engaged in theatrical work so much of the time that it was hard for us to make a go of it," Mrs. Nagel said. "We still remain perfect friends."

The Nagels were married in Chicago on June 23, 1919. Mrs. Nagel, the former Ruth E. Helms, was the daughter of Mrs. Alma C. Helms, 6573 Lakewood avenue.

Riots of Jews and Arabs in Algiers Spread

CONSTANTINE, Algeria, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Fighting between Jews and Arabs has spread to towns surrounding Constantine, reports reaching here today revealed, giving rise to fears that the death toll may be considerably higher than officials have stated.

The French military authorities were in complete control of the situation here today, but strengthened their forces to prevent an outbreak tomorrow when funerals are held for 27 persons killed in the rioting.

Three persons were killed and five men were injured, all of them Jews, in fighting at Ain Beida, sixty miles from here. The mayor of the town also was injured when he tried to stop the battle.

Families Burned.

A correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic agency after a tour of Constantine reported scenes of desolation and horror, including the mutilation of girls and children. He reported whole families of Jews had been locked in their homes and burned to death.

"It will take days before the world obtains a true picture of atrocities during the pogrom in the Jewish quarters," the correspondent said.

"Just as in Palestine in 1929, the lists of dead and injured run into the hundreds with no official estimates available. Hospitals are filled with Jewish victims and their doors are besieged by half-crazed wives and mothers.

"The Jewish ghetto is heavily guarded by troops, but the ruins are still smoking. The famous Algerian Jewish families, Halini and Dadoun, were completely exterminated by Arabs. The city is calm now, but authorities are prepared for renewal of rioting."

Troops Cut Off Jewish Quarter.

The Jewish Telegraph agency reported renewed riots broke out in the neighboring towns of Hamma and Bizot. The list of dead and injured was reported to have been increased in these towns.

The French governor general, Jules Carde, rushed back from a vacation when violence broke out. More troops were constantly arriving in the city, and 300 persons were arrested today.

French officials insisted that the rioting had no political significance, but was an outbreak of the anti-Semitism which smoulders among the Arab populace. About half the residents of this city of 100,000 are Jews.

Frenzied in Killings.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Aug. 7.—Accounts of the rioting in Constantine, Algeria, reaching Paris today describe the savagery of the killings and a frenzy in the actions of the Arabs that could only have been the result of long standing animosities toward the Jews. Many of the bodies in the morgue show mutilations—from beatings, from tearing jewelry off fingers and ear lobes. Most of the dead had their throats cut. Four children, one a baby of 2, were among the murdered.

The Intransigeant correspondent tells of interviewing a printer named Attili in a hospital. The printer, his wife, daughter, and two sons barricaded themselves and then Arabs beat at their doors and windows for two hours until they broke. Once inside the Arabs beat him and his wife senseless with clubs. The children are dead with their throats cut.

The Parisien correspondent writes of another Jewish family, composed of the parents, three children, and the grandparents, all of whom were murdered by having their throats cut.

Arabs Lose on Crops.

The whole affair has been a great shock to the French people who criticize the failure of authorities to call reinforcements sooner.

Most observers, however, place the blame on two things. Constantine is in a wheat growing area and the Arabs had poor return on their crops. The rioting gave the Arabs a chance to settle many debts and old scores generally with Jewish shopkeepers and bankers. Secondly, there is the constant animosity based on religious differences between the two races.

Makes No Promises on Relief.

President Roosevelt will broadcast over W-G-N at noon today [Chicago daylight saving time] from Rochester, Minn., in connection with ceremonies honoring Dr. William J. Mayo and Dr. Charles H. Mayo.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

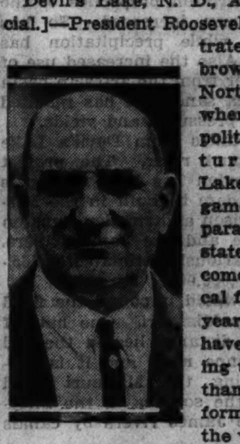
Devil's Lake, N. D., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today penetrated the rust brown prairies of North Dakota, where nature and politics are topsy-turvy. Devil's Lake, once the game and fishing paradise of the state, has now become a geographical freak. For 50 years its waters have been receding until it is less than a third its former size, while the water table in the region has been steadily dropping.



SEN. L. J. FRAZIER.

A project to shake 65 million dollars off the Christmas tree of the Public Works administration and fill up the lake again with flood waters from the Missouri, which is in a different watershed, is proposed in the region.

President Makes No Promises.

The farmers have become "dam conscious." The project, however, has no approval from the army engineers, and in his speech today the President gracefully remarked in substance that although he would see what could be done, still some forces are beyond the control of man and he could give no promises.

"I saw some signs along the road," said the President, "which said: 'You gave us beer; now give us water.'

"Well, the beer part was easy. That was something that could be controled by human agency. When the people made it clear they wanted beer back again they got it. But when you come to this water problem you are up against two things. First, you are up against the forces of nature, and, secondly, you are up against the fact that man in his present stage of development cannot definitly control those forces.

Would "Love to Do It."

"It's all very well to say, 'Let's have a dam across the Missouri.' I would love to do it, but when many engineers tell me they haven't found a safe place for that dam, there isn't a man or woman in the Devil's Lake area that would ask me to build a dam that might go out and drown many thousand people."

Some 20,000 people had flocked to this town of 6,000 population, bearing banners reading: "Our wells are going dry; divert the Missouri." They had driven in from miles around and the parked cars filled acres.

In a way, too, President Roosevelt today was at the cradle of some of the ideas of the New Deal. In earlier years North Dakota was a breeding place not only of wild fowl and fish, now disappearing, but also of socialistic experimentation.

State Once Under "Brain Trust."

Here, under the old Nonpartisan league, fifteen or twenty years ago a socialized state was to be established. The league got control of the state government and the courts. A "brain trust" of professors and wild theorists under A. C. Townley framed measures at Bismarck in caucus and put them through a rubber stamp legislature fifteen years ago as easily as the New Deal gets its measures through congress.

Experiments in planned economy took the form of a state elevator and flour mills—still operating, but having piled up much red ink in the course of years. There was a state of Dakota bank, which now has been lifted into prosperity by getting rid of its frozen asset farm paper to the government. It had a house building scheme which blew up.

Frazier Greets President.

Greeting the President today was Senator Lynn J. Frazier of the Frazier-Lemke bill that congress passed in June, which in effect gives a six year moratorium on farm debt. It is an echo of the old Townley league. Frazier was made governor by the league, then recalled by the people and later sent to the senate, while Lemke, now a congressman, was Townley's legal adviser.

Last winter Gov. William Langer by edict made a similar moratorium proclamation for North Dakota. Langer is now under federal sentence in connection with the collection of political funds from relief workers. Due to his conviction he has been deposed as governor. Ole Olson, his successor, has proclaimed a moratorium. So, as some view it, the New Dealers have drawn some inspiration for some of their policies from North Dakota.

This morning President Roosevelt was taken for a drive around the perimeter of shrunken Devil's lake. When the President left the train the lake could not be seen from the station. Its shore line was six miles away. But in 1883 when the first Great Northern train pulled in the steamer Minnie H. met it at the dock a stone's throw from the depot. For miles on the drive all the President saw was a broad expanse of alkali flats, the old lake bed with a glimmer of water in the far distance.

The lake once had an area of more than 100 square miles—about half the area of Chicago—but now it is only six miles long and four to five miles wide. Where its depth was 35 feet it now is only seven feet at its greatest depth, and it is lowering at the rate of eighteen inches a year. At points on the trip great gray clouds of alkali dust rose from the old lake bed and swirled over the prairie.

Lake Vanishing.

The lake has been vanishing like an ink drop on a blotter. What is left is a shallow stretch of salt water, almost as briny as Great Salt lake, filled with poisonous salts that make it dangerous to drink, while bathers have to sponge off immediately after a dip. The wild fowl have gone. When gold was found in the Black Hills year ago fresh water fish used to be transported to the miners by the covered wagon load. Now there are no fish. The lake is a dismal, stagnant pool.

At one time, the President was told, North Dakota had 5,000 lakes and five rivers. Today it has the Missouri, a stretch of sand bars, and the others are dry river beds. Of the lakes perhaps a hundred are left, many of which have receded to the point where they contain little water.

With the cultivation of the land, the President was told, and the removal of the natural prairie sod and vegetation, the absorption properties of the land have been increased. So has evaporation, while precipitation has diminished. Also the increased use of artesian water from the artesian basin of the Dakota sandstone has resulted in decreased pressures and yields.

Some 108 miles from Devil's Lake is the Missouri river. The project which the region has been urging is that a large dam be built in the Missouri at Garrison and smaller dams on the Sheyenne and the James rivers. The cost is variously estimated at $65,000,000 to $80,000,000.

The dams would impound the flood waters of the Missouri. One half of the 108 mile distance lies in the bed of the Sheyenne river and it is proposed to bring the Missouri flood waters into the sources of the Sheyenne and the James rivers by canals or tunnels.

Seen as Benefit to Old Rivers.

The water thus impounded and diverted, it is argued, would seep into the old rivers and lakes and gradually fill them again, while a normal flow of water could be maintained in the James and Sheyenne river valleys for the use of people in both Dakotas. Many cities and villages are now shipping water in by train, while farmers in many cases are hauling water for their stock ten to fifteen miles because their wells are dry.

The diversion project, its adherents told the President, would give water supplies on the James river for Jamestown, N. D., Aberdeen, Huron, and Mitchell, S. D. On the Sheyenne river among cities benefitted would be Devil's Lake, Fargo, and Grand Forks, as the Sheyenne runs into the Red River of the North near Fargo.

Some engineers say it might cause floods in the Sheyenne and James rivers and inundate large areas at times. Also, it has been pointed out, if the dam were built it would open up litigation from water users along the Missouri against diversion from the Missouri basin into another watershed. A commission is studying the proposal and is soon to make another report, but strong indications are that the project will get nowhere.

On all this dam building criticisms are being heard that politics has had considerable influence. Fort Peck, Mont., it is strongly suggested by some who have been busy on various enterprises to extract easy money for dams from the federal grab-bag, was picked as the site for the dam to impound the flood waters of the upper Missouri because the Montana congressional delegation swooped down with insistences.

Argue for Different Site.

Some diversion enthusiasts here were saying today that if the dam had been located further down river it might have given more benefit. Enough floodwater might then be impounded, it is argued, to take care of Missouri navigation and also to give the Devil's Lake region a few drops of water.

A great scurrying of the politicians to be seen at the President's side is taking place. At Fort Peck yesterday big election banners for Senator Burton Wheeler were stuck at points where the President's car stopped.

At Devil's Lake Senator Gerald Nye [Ind. Rep., N. D.], who has followed Senator William E. Borah [Rad. Rep., Idaho] in denouncing the NRA and some aspects of the New Deal, introduced the President and was at his side. So was Senator Frazier [Ind. Rep., N. D.], who is up for reëlection.

Political pressure for President Roosevelt to make a Democratic speech was renewed late today, this time by Minnesota Democrats. But they met with word that the President would adhere to the White House dictum at the outset of the trip—that the cross-continent journey would have no flavor of politics.

The Minnesota Democrats were desirous of a few words for Congressman Einar Hoidale whom they are running against Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite.

Both have supported the New Deal administration, and both are traveling on the President's train.

Outside of a crop of dirty looks the effort to get the Roosevelt benison for Hoidale seems unproductive.

POWER PLANTS TO FLOAT YACHT FOR ROOSEVELT

Make Mississippi Dam Trip Possible.

Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—If President Roosevelt carries out plans for an inspection trip of government dams and locks near Winona, Minn., his yacht will move off tomorrow on water borrowed from the power companies of Wisconsin. This was revealed today as final preparations were completed for the presidential visit despite reports that Mr. Roosevelt will forego the river trip to save time.

Just where the President will take to the water or how far, if at all, he will travel on the upper Mississippi was undecided tonight as the time element left plans in doubt. But in any event there will be water on which to float the yacht, thanks to the power companies which have failed to find favor in the eyes of Secretary of the Interior Ickes and the administration.

Feared Wheels Would Be Needed.

Things looked black for a satisfactory demonstration of the locks and dams as late as last Friday, it was learned. With the Mississippi at its lowest ebb in 50 years, it was feared that the improvements at Alma and Fountain City, Wis., 30 and 10 miles upstream from Winona, could not be demonstrated to their best advantage. Older residents of the vicinity expressed the fear that the presidential yacht would have to be equipped with wheels.

Quick action by the administration, however, saved the day. The war department requested the power companies along the Chippewa river, which empties into the Mississippi at Wabasha, Minn., some 40 miles above Winona, to furnish the water to float the yacht and save the demonstration.

Use Reserve of Power Companies.

The power companies had been building reserve for the hydropower projects by closing dam gates during the night, when little power was needed. Urged by the war department, the companies threw open the gates, so that the hoarded water might bolster the Mississippi in its New Deal work. From Saturday night until Tuesday morning the water was poured into the Mississippi each night, with a reported rise of four inches.

The cost to the power companies was a matter of conjecture tonight. Residents of Eau Claire, where the last of the dams is situated before the Chippewa joins the Mississippi, pointed out that any extra strain on the water supply in previous drouth years has necessitated the purchase of steam power from Minnesota companies. Officials of the Northern States Power company of Wisconsin, which controls the dam, merely shook their heads, however, and refused to comment on the matter.

REDS MOURN AS MOTHER NATURE BALKS WALKOUT

Flood Halts Plan for Farm Strike.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—In Union Square today a group of forlorn workers for the national communist party gathered to report sadly that mother nature, that interfering, meddling old crone who already has proved herself such a nuisance to the government's crop reduction program in the west, had postponed indefinitly the plans for a general farm strike in southern New Jersey.

Thousands of workers on farms and in canneries who were being urged to walk out now are idle in the region surrounding Bridgeton, N. J., because of a cloudburst and flood last weekend which wrecked the city's waterworks and tore away three bridges. As a result, three tomato canning plants and other canneries have shut down and the vast vegetable farms in the vicinity are hampered in the disposal of their products.

Workers Turn on Reds.

Commenting bitterly upon the ingratitude of the human race, the communists who returned to New York because there seemed no further use for their activities after the calamity, revealed that the workers had turned upon the agitators.

"They seemed to think we were to blame for the storm," one speaker told a small but interested gathering in the square. "They were ready to strike, but now that they have enforced idleness they clamor for their jobs."

"They are sheep," another reminded him. "Poor, blind minions of capital. That is why we must continue to labor to lead them out of the darkness."

Three Bridges Gone.

Reports from Bridgeton said that the community must remain paralyzed until the water supply is restored. A pontoon bridge, built by army engineers, has connected the sections of the city severed when the flood wrecked three bridges over the Cohansey river, but this bridge is available only for foot trafic.

The bridge cannot, of course, be used for trucks transporting vegetables to canneries.

Authorities in the district had mapped a general defense plan to cope with the threatened strike. The police of four towns have been receiving daily instructions in the use of tear gas and riot and machine guns. A group of "minute men" was organized by the farmers and canners to stop possible attempts of strikers to damage crops.

But the storm and flood changed all that. Police laid aside their weapons. The unrest among the workers, skilfully fomented by the radical agitators, dissipated with the closing down of many factories. Many of those contemplating a strike, who were not laid off because of the factory closings, now consider themselves fortunate to be working.

Agitators Are Dejected.

And the agitators, who work out of headquarters in the lower east side here, returned dejectdly for new assignments.

Several weeks ago the Bridgeton district was the scene of bloody rioting between 1,000 farm workers and farmers. The principal agitator at that time was a young man in overalls who posed as a farm worker until he was revealed as Donald Henderson, Columbia university faculty member, who puts in his summers working for the communist party. Henderson was almost treated violently by the workers when he sought to restrain them from returning to work even after the farmers had agreed to the substance of the strikers' demands.

FARMERS LOOK TO WINE GRAPES FOR CASH NOW

New York Scene Changes with Repeal.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bath, N. Y., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Western New York farmers in the grape growing sections of the Chautauqua and Erie belt and Steuben county expect to receive handsome profits this year while wine makers revive an industry that has been asleep for fifteen years.

Here in the Cohocton river valley and along the shores of the Chautauqua and Erie lakes grape juice plant operators are getting their equipment and cellars ready to take care of the grapes that will begin to come in from the vineyards in about two or three weeks.

In Wine, Prosperity.

Gray haired wine makers who had not had their cellars open since the day of the adoption of the eighteenth amendment are busy rearranging their nests of casks and tanks to be filled with still and sparkling wines. Shining up the wineries means more prosperity for these rural communities.

Farmers are leaning heavily on the grape crop this year, because they expect to go into the winter with a shortage of grain and roughage for heir dairy herds, their chief source of revenue. Grape money will help buy feed for the cows.

Every one of the twelve wine cellars in Steuben county will be operated this season and a new one is being built. In Chautauqua county one of the largest grape juice plants has been transformed into a wine cellar. Some of the small plants in that county also are to be used in making wine this season.

Rains Help Grape Crop.

Thousands of gallons of potential wine and juice are hanging on the vines. Chautauqua county with 26,000 acres of vines is one of the largest sweet juice producing areas in the country. Recent rains have helped the grapes in both sections where the crop was beginning to show signs of injury from dry weather.

C. K. Bullock, agricultural agent of Chautauqua county, estimates that the 1934 grape crop in his county will be about 50 per cent of normal, or yield a total of approximately 26,000 tons, averaging one ton to the acre. William Stempfle, agent for Steuben county, expects growers to pick a crop equal to about 65 per cent of normal from 4,000 acres grown in this county. Concords yield about three and a half tons to the acre in this county when there is a full crop and the season is favorable. The production of wine grapes falls somewhat below the average yield of Concords.

Both wine and sweet juice varieties of grapes are grown here. Two-thirds of the grapes in Steuben county are Concords and the other are of the wine varieties, including Delaware, Ives, Elvira, Dutchess, and Catawba.

In Chautauqua county fruit growers have been holding a series of meetings recently, laying their plans to set a minimum price on grapes.

One hundred farmers attending a general meeting at Westfield, N. Y., a few days ago unanimously agreed that $40 a ton would be their minimum price for grapes this fall. In 1932 when they had twice as many grapes in Chautauqua county as they expect to harvest this year growers received an average of about $12 a ton.

Steuben County Fares Better.

Steuben county growers usually get more for their grapes than is paid in Chautauqua county. Special wine grape varieties brought as high as $100 a ton in this county last year.

POLICE CONTROL CROWD AT GATES OF N. Y. BALLET

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Police reserves were called to the Lewisohn stadium tonight when several thousand persons who had gone there to attend the Fokine ballets saw themselves in danger of being turned away and tried to push through the Amsterdam avenue gates.

After the 15,000 seats in the stadium had been filled and 1,000 standees had been admitted more than 10,000 persons were turned away. Officials said the crowd was the largest ever to seek admission to a musical performance there.

No serious disorder marked the storming of the gates, and no one was injured. The crowd began arriving at the stadium as early as 5 p. m. By 5:30 o'clock long queues stretched out from the gates. By 7:30 o'clock, when the gates were opened, the crowd in Amsterdam avenue spread all the way across the west sidewalk.

'It's the Humidity,' Says Pal, Last of White House Dogs

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The heat got Pal, last of the White House dogs. Pal, an English bull terrier owned by Gus Gennerich, the President's personal attendant, began acting queerly some days ago, and today he was in a dog hospital for treatment. About two weeks ago Winks, a setter puppy owned by President Roosevelt, ran headlong into an iron fence and was killed.

103,911 ATTEND FAIR, BREAKING TUESDAY RECORD

Chicago Week Program Draws Throngs.

BY EARL MULLIN.

Merrily clicking turnstiles registered a new attendance record at the World's Fair yesterday. Drawn by special Chicago week programs and ideal summer weather, more people than ever had visited the Fair on a Tuesday trooped into the grounds.

From 9 a. m., when the gates opened, until midnight when they closed, the steady inflow continued. At the hour of closing the automatic toll board in the administration building showed 103,911 admissions had been paid.

The greatest attendance this year was 181,356 on Wednesday, July 4. Memorial day, also on a Wednesday, was second with 132,489. The first children's day when 470,000 are estimated to have entered the gates no longer is counted as official. A new estimate of paid admissions, based upon the income of concessionaires, is 138,000.

Fair Officials Jubilant.

Following a Monday on which, despite rain most of the morning and afternoon, 66,785 paid admissions were recorded, officials were jubilant over yesterday's attendance.

"It is impossible to forecast attendance," Maj. Lohr, general manager, said, "but the records of the last few days would seem to indicate the truth of what hotels and transportation agencies have said. That is, that August and September will be our big months. We were not discouraged during the few bad weeks and we are optimistic now. Of particular interest to us is the fact that a majority of our attendance now is from out of town. This indicates, I think, that the real out of town business is just starting."

Loop Hotels Are Full.

A survey of hotels in the loop yesterday showed that all except one were full. Despite this influx of visitors, there was no difficulty reported by any one over obtaining hotel accommodations. This is due, officials said, to the steady flow of incoming and outgoing guests.

The highlight of today's Fair, the third special day of Chicago week, will be the masquerade and jubilee celebration in the evening. All visitors have been urged to wear carnival costumes in the evening. The main event will be staged in the court of the Hall of Science commencing at 8 p. m. Six prizes for the best costumed men and women will be given.

Beach Midway Gay.

The Beach Midway on the island has entered into the occasion and there will be colored lights, showers of confetti and special shows.

Street dancing and serenading during the evening hour and a fireworks display that can be seen from 10,000 free seats in the Lagoon theater will complete the night of hilarity.

Last night some 10,000 visitors found seats in the Lagoon theater and more than 5,000 others lined the banks of the lagoons to witness the Venetian water carnival. More than 300 lighted and decorated floats, sampans, outriggers and cutters took part in the parade and maneuvers. For the first time in two years the lagoons were thrown open to private craft and scores took part in the carnival.

MILITARY TANK AND RADIO CARS SHOWN AT FAIR

An armored tank car with sponge rubber inner tubes and two military radio automobiles arrived yesterday at A Century of Progress from Fort Knox, Ky. The three vehicles are the latest equipment of the United States cavalry.

A detachment of 32 cavalrymen under the command of Lieut. G. V. Morse accompanied the cars and they will remain in Camp Franklin D. Roosevelt until Thursday.

The armored tank is a five ton, eight wheeled vehicle, capable of speeding sixty miles an hour on any kind of a road. It can be converted into a tractor in ten minutes and is equipped with four machine guns.

County Employes to Get Two Weeks' Pay Friday

The 4,000 county employés will be paid on Friday for the first half of July, County Treasurer Thomas D. Nash announced yesterday. The pay roll amounts to approximately $450,000.

World's Fair Notes

Venetian glass blowers from the Italian governmental exhibit at the Fair will visit the Art institute at 11 a. m. today to view Sargent's painting, "The Venetian Glass Workers." Last week had the biggest attendance to date, with 5,000 visitors passing through.

Edward J. Scanlon, stage director of the Municipal opera of St. Louis, arrived in Chicago yesterday to assume direction of "The Pageant of the Celt," to be presented in Soldiers' field on the nights of Aug. 28 and 29. Mr. Scanlon was loaned to Irish Historical Productions by J. J. Shubert. One thousand voices, mostly from Irish societies in Chicago, will take part in the production.

The world's biggest ham sandwich, now being prepared by the John R. Thompson restaurant exhibit at the Fair, will be a special free feature of children's day tomorrow. The sandwich, eight feet square, will be the main dish at a party for one thousand children on the stage of the Lagoon theater at noon.

More than one thousand orphans from a score of orphanages in Chicago and vicinity will be guests of A Century of Progress tonight as part of the Chicago week program which got under way on Monday.

The third of five preliminary beauty contests for the prettiest Irish girl in Chicago to rule over the Fair on Irish day was held last night at the Irish Village. Miss Kathleen Drennan, 17 years old, 642 West 32d street, and Miss Kathleen Ryan, 18 years old, of 6132 South Bishop street, were chosen as the fifth and sixth of the ten finalists.

TWO ROOSEVELT SONS SPEND DAY AT WORLD FAIR

Two sons of President Roosevelt, James and Franklin Jr., spent yesterday afternoon and last evening visiting the World's Fair after granting interviews to reporters and posing for photographers during the morning in their rooms at the Blackstone hotel. The two young men begged and received the promise that during their Fair visit they would not be "dogged," but would be allowed to "just wander around as they pleased."

They arrived in Chicago Monday night by plane from Portland, Ore., where Franklin landed with the President from their Pacific cruise and where James greeted his father. At 12:25 o'clock this morning the two brothers departed from Chicago for the east on an American Air lines sleeper plane, Franklin to prepare for the opening of his sophomore year at Harvard and James to tend to his insurance business.

Today another Roosevelt son, Elliott, will arrive in Chicago with his wife, the former Ruth Googins of Fort Worth, Tex., to visit the Fair.

SAMPSELL JURY IS COMPLETED IN SINGLE DAY

Evidence in Embezzlement Trial to Begin Today.

A jury was chosen in five hours yesterday to try Marshall E. Sampsell, former president of the Central Illinois Public Service company, an Insull concern, on a charge of embezzlement.

Taking of evidence will begin today before Acting Chief Justice Michael Feinberg of the Criminal court. The case is the first criminal trial growing out of the collapse of the Insull utility empire.

Sampsell is charged with the embezzlement of 4,000 shares of stock from the company treasury. The state alleges that he used the stock as collateral for a $200,000 personal loan obtained from Springfield and Chicago banks.

Sampsell Sees Jury Chosen.

Sampsell, whose attire suggested the successful business man, was an interested spectator as his attorneys questioned prospective jurors. From time to time he conferred with Edward Evans, an investigator retained by the defense.

Court attachés expressed surprise at the speed with which the jurors were selected. It had been expected that days would be used in getting a jury because of the defense and state agreement to excuse any one who had purchased Insull stocks.

Only four veniremen were excused on this ground during the day. A fifth avoided service in the muggy courtroom because his brother-in-law had once purchased stock in an Insull enterprise.

Defense Quizzes Veniremen.

Examination of the veniremen by Defense Attorneys Charles E. Lounsbury and Harry S. Ditchburne failed to disclose the strategy to be used by the defense. The attorneys worked diligently, however, to exclude any one from the jury box who might be prejudiced against the defendant because of his connection with the Insulls.

Assistant State's Attorney John O'Hora, in charge of the prosecution, questioned the jurors closely to determine whether they would let sympathy interfere with their consideration of the evidence. The veniremen also were asked if they or any of their relatives had ever been employed by any of the Insull companies.

Speedy Trial Predicted.

As attorneys prepared for the taking of testimony today it was predicted that the case would be finished before the end of the week. It was pointed out that there are only eight state witnesses and that only one transaction is involved.

The jurors are: James B. Pucci, 5041 Erie street, a salesman; Adolph Lams, 2733 North Troy street, electrotyper; John E. Dockter, 2205 Giddings street, an unemployed chauffeur; Edward G. Hayman, 6811 Lakewood avenue, a clothier; Carl Kulibert, 1508 East 68th street, a butter maker; Edward J. Jay, 2140 Wellington street, an employé of a manufacturing concern; Charles De Camp, 8148 South Elizabeth street, a railroad employé; Harry Bierma, 1247 Clarence avenue, Berwyn, an unemployed railroad man; Joseph R. Bohus, 4923½ Quincy street, a shipping clerk; William G. Hallgreen, 1208 Webster avenue, a tile setter; Harold K. White, 8015 Crandon avenue, a salesman, and Herbert Wedell, 5959 South Damen avenue, a bindery foreman.

Lincoln Park Zoo Buys Senegal Lion for $400

The Lincoln park zoo has purchased for $400 a 4 year old male Senegal lion left at the zoo "on consignment" early last spring, Floyd Young, director of the zoo, reported yesterday. The lion was bought from Dr. W. H. Harwood, 7739 Stony Island avenue, an animal importer who purchased it in Italy. "It's the best lion for show purposes I've ever seen," Mr. Young said.

Nine Are Injured as Cruiser Burns in Jackson Pk. Harbor

Six women and three men were injured in an explosion and fire on the 30 foot cabin cruiser Capri as it was leaving the dock of the South Shore Power Boat club in the inner harbor of Jackson park last evening. Four of the women passengers and one of the men were severely burned. The others were treated for minor injuries.

Decorated with flags, bunting, and lanterns, the boat was departing to take part in the Venetian night carnival at the World's Fair when the explosion occurred.

Explosion Starts Blaze.

The cruiser was piloted by its owner, Chauncey C. Fauquier, 54 years old, 4223 Oakenwald avenue, chief clerk in the purchasing department of the Illinois Central railroad. As it pulled away from the dock there was an explosion in the engine room and the boat was enveloped in fire. The passengers fled from the cabin to the bow. There they aided one another in beating out the flames on their clothing.

In the meantime Fauquier scrambled down to a dinghy tied behind the Capri and rowed around to the bow. He assisted some of the women into the little boat and carried them ashore. The remaining passengers were removed by volunteer rescue crews from neighboring yachts.

While hundreds of persons crowded the edge of the harbor to watch, the burning cruiser was floated away from the boats in the harbor to a safer spot where firemen finally extinguished the flames. The loss was estimated at $2,000.

Five Taken to Hospital.

The most seriously injured of the passengers are Miss Gladys Keyes, 34 years old, 506 West 113th street; Miss Nina Berger, 38 years old, 7545 South Park avenue; Miss Rose Hradek, 28 years old, 18902 Page avenue, Hazel Crest; Miss Josephine Broderick, 24 years old, 7652 Langley avenue, and Leonard L. King, 48 years old, 4659 Drexel boulevard. All were taken to the Illinois Central hospital.

Mr. Fauquier and his wife, Myra, 53 years old, as well as two other passengers, Miss Mary Murphy, 38 years old, 4932 Lake Park avenue, and W. J. Larson, 43 years old, 7300 Yale avenue, were only slightly burned. All the passengers except Mrs. Fauquier are employés of the Illinois Central.

While the exact cause of the explosion was not determined, Mr. Fauquier said he believed sparks from the engine's exhaust had ignited gr in the bilge water.

AUSTRIA ACCEPTS PAPEN AS SPECIAL ENVOY OF HITLER

Takes New Measures to Crush Nazis.

BY HAROLD ETTLINGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Aug. 7.—The Austrian cabinet tonight announced that it would accept Franz von Papen as special envoy from Germany twelve days after his hasty appointment by Chancellor Hitler during the height of the Nazi revolt in Austria.

This action was announced in a laconic communique, and leaves for conjecture the question of whether any commitments had to be taken by Germany before Von Papen was accepted.

The cabinet tonight also took further action to curb Nazi activities. A decree was promulgated giving employers the right to discharge Nazis from their firms. The economic situation must be considered in every case, however. This is believed to be aimed at protecting the big steel plants at Donnawitz from a breakdown, since in this Nazi center many experts sympathetic with Hitler could not readily be replaced.

Another Nazis Is Hanged.

Ernst Feike, 25 year old Nazi, was hanged here tonight, just three hours after his conviction by a special military tribunal on a charge of high treason.

Feike, an infantry trooper on active service, was a member of the band which stormed the chancellery on July 25 and killed Chancellor Dollfuss. He was the seventh man sentenced to death and the fourth executed since the revolt was suppressed by the heimwehr and the federal army. Feike shouted "Heil Hitler" when sentence was passed upon him.

Just before Feike heard the verdict the sixth death sentence was passed by the Klagenfurt military court on Karl Kostelnik, leader of the uprising at Wolfsberg. His sentence was immediately commuted to fifteen years imprisonment by President Miklas.

The Klagenfurt court also sentenced Johann Brunner, Kostelnik's chief aid, to twelve years' imprisonment.

Tailor Gets Six Years.

Johann Reinisch, 38 year old tailor, who led the rebels in the Styrian village of Deutschlandsberg, was sentenced to six years' imprisonment by the Graz military court.

Four Nazi terrorists, including a woman, charged with bombing a Vienna café, were tried here. One was sentenced to twelve years' and one to eight years' imprisonment. Two, including the woman, were acquitted. Their trial presented a curious case of a Jewish lawyer defending a Nazi. The lawyer had been appointed by the court.

Further death sentences are likely tomorrow, when nine regular policemen who took part in the raid on the chancellery face the tribunal here.

The government announced today that 100 physicians working for the state and known to have engaged in Nazi activity will be discharged.

Otto Leaves For Italy.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Archduke Otto, claimant to the Austrian throne, arrived tonight at Wenduyne-on-Sea on his way to Italy, where those who profess to know say he will press his suit for the hand of 19 year old Princess Maria of that country.

They say also that, as he seeks to marry the youngest daughter of King Victor Emmanuel, the question of eventual restoration of the Hapsburg dystany possibly is in the back of his mind.

May Meet Mussolini.

ROME, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The departure of the Archduke Otto from Brussels today strengthened reports current here that he will meet Premier Mussolini despite denials by government attachés.

Since the assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss many believe that the return of a Hapsburg to the Austrian throne is needed as an assurance against the final triumph of the Nazis in Austria.

It is accepted here as a fact that the new Austrian chancellor, Schuschnigg, will come to Italy shortly to visit Il Duce, but whether Otto will participate in the conference is conjectural.

Grave Will Become National Shrine.

huge hawk which had been hovering over the assembly for an hour.

When the music ceased the chaplain general rose to his feet and delivered the sermon, using texts which were dearest to the late president,

"Our field marshal, before his death, expressed the wish that the war dead be remembered with special thankfulness at his funeral service," the chaplain said. "His other request was that no word of praise or glory should be spoken. Once, in summing up his life, the field marshal said he had done nothing more than to exercise those gifts which God had given him.

"'Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.' This truly epitomized the field marshal's life."

(The text is from Revelations, ii., 10.)

Hitler Delivers Oration.

Chancellor Hitler then delivered the final funeral oration. Veterans thrilled to his words:

"For a century to come Germany will not need to fight to rehabilitate her honor in arms because of the unparalleled courage, perseverance, and spirit of sacrifice shown by the German soldier in the world war.

The chancellor reviewed the late president's life, remarking that in 1870 his name was unknown among uncounted thousands of officers.

"When the German people 44 years later remembered Von Hindenburg's name the clouds of war hung over Europe," he said. "In the worst of these times Kaiser Wilhelm called upon Von Hindenburg to take over supreme command of the army.

"Six days later guns were booming and three days later church bells rang in celebration of the victory of Tannenberg.

"The unfortunate end of the war can under no circumstances be charged against him. It merely passes judgment on the inability of the politicians of that day."

Of Von Hindenburg's presidency Hitler said:

"It was under his presidency that preparations could be made for the national rebirth of the German nation: It was he who opened the door to the representatives of that national rebirth. In his name a union was achieved between the past and the future."

The coffin was then lifted by officers and carried to the tower, while a military band played: "I Had a Comrade," and a 101 gun salute started booming.

GERMAN VETS HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR VON HINDENBURG

Under crape hung banners, German veterans of the world war, who fought under the command of Field Marshal Paul von Hindenburg, formed a guard of honor at memorial services last night for the late president of Germany. More than 2,000 Chicagoans of German birth or descent crowded into St. Paul's Lutheran church, Fullerton parkway and Orchard avenue, for the rites held in conjunction with the funeral services for the German patriot in East Prussia.

The memorial services were arranged by Dr. R. L. Jaeger, German consul general in Chicago. Representatives of all foreign consulates the United States army and navy and state, city and county officials occupied prominent pews in the church, which was hung with mourning and bedecked with wreaths.

Following solemn music and prayers, Dr. George L. Scherger, pastor, delivered a eulogy. Hhe acclaimed Von Hindenburg as one of the great men of history.

The services closed with the solemn notes of taps while the German veterans stood at attention.

164 POLES GIVE UP 14 FRENCH HELD CAPTIVES IN MINE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LENS, France, Aug. 7.—A unique drama staged in the bowels of the earth came to an end at Escarpelle mine near here tonight when 164 mutinous miners came to the surface after thirty-six hours of voluntary imprisonment 1,000 feet below the ground level. With them were fourteen French miners whom they had held as hostages since Monday morning.

The trouble arose over the dismissal of two Polish miners by the Pas de Calais Mining company, owners of the Escarpelle mine, under circumstances which their Polish comrades considered to be unfair.

Shut Off Air and Light.

Without saying a word the 164 Poles, preceded by the fourteen Frenchmen, went down the shaft yesterday to their usual positions. As soon as they had reached the bottom, however, they overpowered the Frenchmen, shut down the ventilators, and turned off the electric current, remaining there with their hostages in the black mine shaft without food, water, or light.

The Frenchmen were allowed to send a message up to the chief engineer, but the Poles ignored orders to release their prisoners, announcing that they were going to stay in the mine shaft until they died of hunger and thirst, and that they intended to keep the Frenchmen with them.

The mine foreman was sent below to investigate shortly before noon yesterday, and he was likewise held a prisoner.

Until late this afternoon nothing more was heard from the mine, and local authorities were at a loss as to how to subdue the desperate Poles without loss of life.

Late this evening the mine owners got into communication with the rebels and they, suffering acutely from thirst and hunger, agreed to come up under terms not yet revealed.

Miners Strike at Lyon.

LYON, France, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The excavators' syndicate today declared a 48 hour general strike in protest against the use of Arab strikebreakers, resulting in a riot yesterday. One of the wounded rioters died in a hospital today and two others were reported in a serious condition.

MOST OF TEACHERS' PAY WILL GO TO END DEBTS, LEADER SAYS

Approximately $18,000,000 of the $22,500,000 which the teachers will get in back pay from the government loan will go for the immediate payment of debts, according to Miss Agnes Clohesy, organizer of the Elementary Teachers' union.

"Many teachers have had to go to loan agencies and pay an annual interest of 45 per cent on loans," said Miss Clohesy yesterday. "They have done this by assigning their salaries to the agencies. Others have assigned their salaries for food, clothes, and rent."

Among the heaviest creditors of the teachers, Miss Clohesy said, are the landlords. Next come the food stores. Third come the State street stores, which have been most liberal, she said, in extending credit. Fourth come the loan companies, and fifth the doctors and dentists.

"I know the teachers will pay those bills,' Miss Clohesy said, "because I know that the thing a teacher is most sensitive about is her credit.

"The teachers are being flooded at present with colorful literature advertising trips east, south, west, and north, but I doubt if many teachers take those trips. They are very fine for those teachers who will have a surplus, but few of them will have it. The bills they have contracted are their first obligation.'

29 MILLION PAY IN SIX WEEKS IS SCHOOL HOPE

Checks for June Will Go to Teachers Today.

Teachers and civil service employés of the Chicago schools today will receive their pay for the month of June. The checks, totaling $2,230,647, will be the first instalment of approximately $29,000,000 in salary payments which the board of education hopes to give out in the next six weeks.

The June checks will be sent out by the board at 9 o'clock this morning. The pay day was announced on Monday by James B. McCahey, president of the board, immediately after Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, had authorized a federal loan of $22,500,000 to pay the teachers their back salaries for the seven months from Nov. 1, 1933, to June 1, 1934.

$24,730,000 in Three Weeks.

School officials believe that the federal money will be available for disbursement to the teachers within three weeks. This, with the $2,230,000 to be paid out today, will make a total of $24,730,000.

In addition the board will have $1,770,000 cash remaining on hand after today's pay roll is met. This money, together with the income from $2,500,000 worth of 1934 tax anticipation warrants which the board plans to sell, will finance pay rolls for employés up to Sept. 15. Thus the salary payments which the board hopes to make before the opening of the fall term of school on Sept. 17 will total about $29,000,000.

After the opening of the schools it is expected that regular sales of warrants from the $18,700,000 amount available for 1934 will insure regular cash pay days to Jan. 1, 1935. Board officials believe that the school budget will provide for cash pay from current income from that time on.

"The RFC loan eliminates a lag which has kept us from meeting pay days when due," said Mr. McCahey. "With the lag eliminated it is now possible for us to meet the pay rolls on time. There will be no further waiting for teachers and other employés."

Arranges Pay Day for Today.

Arthur C. Schweitzer, assistant school business manager, yesterday arranged for the distribution of the June pay checks to five district headquarters, where high school and elementary school principals will call this morning to receive the checks and pass them on to the teachers at their various schools.

High school principals are instructed to call at the board of education offices at 228 North La Salle street for their checks. Elementary school principals in the First district are to go to the McPherson school, 4728 North Lincoln street; in the Second district to Lafayette school, 2714 Augusta street; in the Third district to Hammond school, 2819 West 21st place, and in the Fourth district to Hookway school, 8101 South La Salle street.

Teachers are to go to their own schools to receive the checks from their principals during the day. Checks to civil service employés will be mailed.

Of the $2,230,647 pay roll, the teachers will receive approximately $1,900,000 for the two week period from June 1 to the close of school on June 15. The $330,000 to civil service employés is for the entire month of June.

Continue Loan Conferences.

Mr. McCahey and Mayor Kelly yesterday again conferred with Mr. Jones at the Blackstone hotel on the final details of the $22,500,000 RFC loan. The conference will continue in Washington tomorrow, when Mr. McCahey and Richard S. Folsom, school board attorney, will present to the RFC board of directors mortgages on school properties not used for educational purposes and other legal documents to complete the loan transaction.

The loan, under the plan originated by Mayor Kelly, will be secured by 20 year sinking fund bonds of the school board, and by the noneducational property of the board, which was valued by RFC appraisers at $37,404,000.

It is expected that the board of education and the city council will meet next Monday to ratify the entire loan transaction. Ten days later the ordinances to be passed in the council meeting will become law, and the transfer of funds can be effected. The bonds, bearing 4½ per cent interest, which are to be turned over to the RFC, are now being printed and will be completed before the ten day period ends.

The $22,500,000 loan is to be retired in 20 years, but Mr. Jones suggested at the conference yesterday that the board of education may be in position to retire some of the bonds in ten years to reduce interest charges.

"With a favorable market, the RFC may dispose of some of the school bonds to keep its funds liquid," he said. "In that event the school board may be able to purchase its paper in the open market and reduce interest costs."

Trustee Banks Are Chosen.

The Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company will be trustee for the sinking fund for the retirement of the loan bonds, Mayor Kelly announced. The bank will receive the moneys from taxes levied to retire the bonds, will pay the interest to the RFC, and conserve the balance of the tax money until the bonds are retired.

The First National bank will be trustee for the rents collected on the noneducational properties to be mortgaged to the government. These properties have yielded an income of about $850,000 annually, and this income will be applied to the retirement of the loan, Mayor Kelly said.

The mayor was jubilant over the success of the loan negotiations.

"The turnover from this $22,500,000 loan should approximate $100,000,000 for Chicago," he declared.

Teacher Leader Thanks Mayor.

Mayor Kelly received a telegram from Mrs. Helen R. Orrell, president of the Elementary Teachers' union, thanking him for his efforts in putting through his loan plan.

During the evening a delegation of teachers, headed by John M. Fewkes, chairman of the Teachers' Volunteer Emergency committee, called on Mr. Jones at the Blackstone and expressed their gratitude for his authorization of the loan.

Mr. Jones and his wife left Chicago for Detroit at 12:30 o'clock this morning on a Michigan Central train. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the former President, who accompanied the Joneses to Chicago, is to go to the Pacific coast from here, it was said.

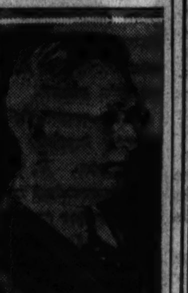
Ten Per Cent Perfect

Only about 10 per cent of the automobiles driven over the Evanston police department's "safety lane," in Orrington avenue, between Clark street and University place, are mechanically perfect, it was announced by Sergt. Frank Kreml yesterday, the second day of the test. Of the first 321 automobiles to be given the free tests, only 36 were marked with the official "O. K." stickers. Most of 285 rejected were found to have faulty brakes or defects in the lighting systems.

BOARD TO NAME DEANS OF JUNIOR COLLEGES TODAY

Bogan Recommends Men for Three New Posts.

The board of education today is expected to appoint deans for the three new city junior colleges which will open on Sept. 17.



DR. BUTLER LAUGHLIN.

Superintendent William J. Bogan submitted his recommendations for the deanship appointments last night. It was reported that these recommendations will be approved by the board.

Those recommended are: Dr. Butler Laughlin, president of Chicago Normal college, 6800 Stewart avenue, for dean of the junior college at that location; Dr. Edwin Lide, for dean of the junior college in the Wright school, 3400 North Austin avenue; and Dorph Brown for dean of the junior college in the Medill High school, 1326 West 14th place.

Dr. Laughlin has been president of the Chicago Normal college for six years. Before that he was principal of the Parker High school. He has been employed by the Chicago school system for 17 years. He received his Ph. D. degree from Indiana university.

Dr. Lide has been a teacher in a number of Chicago high schools. He received his LL. B. degree from Georgetown university, his M. A. from the University of Chicago, and his Ph. D. from the same university in 1930.

Mr. Brown is a former teacher in the Crane junior college. Last year he taught in the Manley High school. He received his A. B. degree from Indiana university and his M. A. from the University of Colorado. He was an instructor in English and public speaking at Crane.

Enrollment Now 3,500.

The advance enrollment for the new junior colleges is now more than 3,500. The curriculum to be offered at the three schools is nearing completion under the supervision of Supt. Bogan and an advisory committee named by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The board of education authorized the creation of the junior colleges last March and appropriated $215,000 for their operation. The schools will replace Crane junior college, closed a year ago, and will be operated at less than half the cost of Crane.

Recently the board appropriated $30,000 to purchase equipment for the colleges. Classroom and laboratory supplies now in the buildings the colleges will occupy will also be utilized.

SEEKS RFC LOAN FOR LAUNDRY AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

County Commissioner Peter M. Kelly tomorrow will seek a loan of $175,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to begin the construction of a $275,000 laundry for the county hospital, he announced yesterday. Mr. Kelly proposes to offer $175,000 in county relief bonds as security for the loan, he said, and he will try to have the county board appropriate sufficient funds to complete the unit.

"A new laundry is needed," Commissioner Kelly said. "The present one was built for 1,400 hospital inmates, while we now have 4,200. I have presented a tentative plan for a loan to Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, and he seemed favorably impressed."

TRUCK OWNERS ASSAIL U. S. PLAN TO HALT STRIKE

Employers of Minneapolis Explain Stand.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—A direct attack upon the federal plan of settling the Minneapolis truck strike was made today by employers who have refused to accept its provisions in entirety. Joseph R. Cochran, chairmen of the business men's group, declared its adoption would enable strikers to "claim a victory for communistic leadership."

THE REV. F. J. HAAS.

Mediation proceeded, nevertheless, and Father Francis J. Haas and E. H. Dunnigan, Washington conciliators had not given up hope that peace is possible. They would not comment upon the Cochran statement.

Court action Thursday, in which the employers will seek a federal injunction wiping out the martial law imposed by Gov. Floyd B. Olson, is the next big chapter in the controversy, which entered its fourth week today. Originally scheduled for tomorrow, the hearing was postponed so that the governor and others could meet President Roosevelt at Rochester, Minn., tomorrow.

"So the Public May Know."

Cochran and his committee issued their statement because "the issues in the strike are so obscured that the public may well be confused as to what are the points of difference between them."

Paramount in the differences is the recommendation that all men now on strike be taken back at the end of the strike and reinstated as of their former seniority.

The employers' reaction to this was as follows:

"The employers are asked to discharge men hired since the strike began, men who have risked their safety and their very lives to work for the support of their families, and to replace these men with strikers, some of whom are the very men who have attacked the working drivers whom the employers are asked to discharge."

Stand on Wages.

As to wages, which the mediators would set at a higher scale than now paid, the business men said:

"The employers are asked to grant the drivers and truck helpers an immediate increase of wages, following an increase given less than four months ago, and then to arbitrate with them the question of whether an even greater increase shall be granted."

Then, touching upon a point to which they have already agreed—elections in 166 firms to decide if the union shall speak for the workers—the statement said.

"Moreover, all of these concessions are to be made, on the demand of the union, through the mediators before any election is held to determine whether that union represents the employés, which the employers have claimed from the outset it does not. Every effort of the employers to have the mediators hold an election first is evaded, although the law provides that the national labor relations board, which Father Haas represents, can enforce such an election in the public interest, which it certainly is under the present circumstances."

Truck Permits Partly Restored.

Several thousand trucks have been given permits to operate since Sunday midnight, when Gov. Olson issued an ultimatum that only those vehicles carrying milk, ice and other necessities, or whose owners signed an agreement with the Haas-Dunnigan proposal could use the streets.

They were said today to represent less than 30 per cent of the usual movements, the 166 firms for which the Cochran committee speaks represent by far the greatest majority of the trucking interests. Speaking to that point, Cochran said:

"One hundred fifty firms or persons have signed the Haas-Dunnigan plan at military headquarters in order to get permits to drive trucks. But at least that number of prospective applicants, after going to headquarters and reading the one sided terms of the mediators' proposal, have indignantly refused to sign these terms and have walked away without asking for permits. We doubt whether those who have signed know clearly to what they are committing themselves."

On their communist contention, the business men continued as follows:

"If the Haas-Dunnigan proposals were accepted by the employers it would enable the union to claim a victory for communist leadership in this strike, having secured an increase in wages without or before arbitration, and thereby give prestige to the communistic leaders of the strikers. Such a victory would be followed, naturally, by a campaign to get more men into that union and commit that many more to taking orders from the communists.

"With this accomplished, other unions would be seduced by the communists and shortly all or most of Minneapolis union labor would be communist.

"Thus communism, after all, is still the real issue in this strike. The mediators' proposal is that the employers surrender. The employers will not surrender to communism."

About 40 truck operators placed their vehicles on the streets today without permits. They were stopped by the troops and warned not to attempt operations without sanction. It was indicated that future violators would be brought before a military court.

LINK WITH MINE WAR IS SOUGHT BY POLICE IN RAIL BRIDGE BLASTS

Waltonville, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Authorities tonight were investigating the dynamiting of two railroad trestles during the day, one of which blasts derailed a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad train, on the theory they may have been perpetrated by persons involved in the warfare between rival mine unions in the southern Illinois coal fields.

Little damage was done in the explosion of a bomb under a Chicago and Illinois Midland railroad viaduct a mile west of Taylorville, but the blasting of the C., B. & Q. bridge four miles north of here attained serious proportions.

It is believed the bridge, which spans the Little Muddy river in the south section of Jefferson county, was dynamited about three hours before the arrival of train No. 72, a mixed freight, passenger, and mail train, at 4 a. m. The train roared into the damaged bridge and upturned rails, overturning the engine and derailing nine cars.

The only persons injured were the engineer, E. M. Robertson, and the fireman, C. J. Jones, both of Centralia, and they were only slightly bruised.

Jefferson county authorities expressed the opinion that the dynamiting, like similar occurrences in the coal area, may be traced to the bitter mine union feud.

Authorities also are investigating the alleged attack on a Burlington railroad train crew at Christopher last night by a man who identified himself as Lee Cummings, 40, of Chicago. He was held at the county jail at Benton.

ASKS FOR $100,000 AS VICTIM OF A HOLLYWOOD JOKE

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A $100,000 damage suit was filed today by Mrs. Mary Miner Bitgood, who charged a Hollywood practical joke prevented the birth of a child to her.

Named as defendant was William Wellman, screen director, who she said pressed a button which transformed what appeared to be an "innocent looking" box into an electric chair.

Mrs. Bitgood identified herself as a "stand-in" for Irene Dunne, film actress. She said the practical joke took place at the studio where she was working March 19.

FEDERAL BOARD ISSUES FIAT ON COMPANY UNIONS

Intends to Bar Them if Exclusive.

siery mills at Harriman, Tenn., decided today to make it a test case of the collective bargaining provisions of the NRA.

President William Green described the council as "tremendously disappointed" at the action of A. R. Glancey, divisional compliance representative at Washington, in restoring that company's Blue Eagle.

Green said he was directed to call upon Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, immediately Johnson returns from his western trip, "to repudiate the action of Glancey."

In his call to labor unions to attend the federation's annual convention in San Francisco Oct. 1, Green said experience had shown that notwithstanding the provisions of section 7-A, workers had been prevented from exercising the right to organize and to resort to strike measures "in order to force employers to concede the exercise of a right guaranteed them by law."

DEFIES CODE AGENTS

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—O. B. Fish, dealer in raw feathers, spoke his mind to two employés of the artificial flower and feather code authority when they called at his office in East 10th street today and demanded that he let them examine his books.

Fish told the callers that he hadn't signed the feather code, didn't intend to sign it, and showed them the door.

Fish explained to reporters that he had a small business, importing and dealing in feathers and other commodities. He also does a little manufacturing in fancy feathers.

Observes Code Hours.

Although he did not subscribe to the code, his place is run on a forty hour five day week, with working hours corresponding to those provided in the code.

The code employés who visited him, Fish said, were John J. Taylor and D. Goldenberg. He didn't trouble to ask them why they wanted to examine his books and they volunteered no explanation.

"I am taking the same stand that Mr. Ford did," he said. "I am standing on what I believe to be my constitutional rights in refusing the code authority [members of which I understand are mainly competitors] the right to examine my books."

Lives Up to Principle.

Mr. Fish said that although he doesn't subscribe to the code he tries to live up to what it stands for.

At the offices of the code authority, in West 37th street, it was said there were no specific violations of wage or hour conditions against Mr. Fish. The principal complaint, it appeared, was simply that Fish hadn't signed the code. Signing the code would mean that Fish would have to contribute to the cost of maintaining the authority.

FARLEY ESTABLISHES 1,885 NEW JOBS FOR LARGER POSTOFFICES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Nearly two thousand new jobs in the larger postoffices throughout the country were created by Postmaster General James A. Farley today in an effort to solve one of the most irritating problems of his department.

Within a fornight the positions, numbering 1,885, will be filled by postal "substitutes" now working part time on the rolls of the postoffice department. In recent years, the system of employing substitute workers in the postal service has been subjected to scorching criticism in congress on the ground that such employés were unable to make a living.

Announcing the creation of the new jobs, Mr. Farley explained that the need for additional help in the major postoffices of the country was "developed during a recent survey." The appointment of senior substitutes to the permanent rolls, he said, will "provide satisfactory postal facilities for the patrons" of the postal service.

The Chicago postoffice force will be augmented by 78 new workers under the job program. In the New York postoffice, 687 jobs are to be created, while Boston is to receive 119 of the new positions.

Meanwhile, today Mr. Farley declined to make any prediction as to the recommendations which will be handed President Roosevelt regarding possible alteration of the federal ocean mail and foreign air mail contracts. The ocean mail system is to be subjected to public hearings by direction of congress, on Oct. 1, and the postmaster general refused to forecast the outcome of the inquiry.

"I have formed no judgment as to any of the ocean mail and foreign air mail contracts which, under an executive order of the President, will be inquired into at public hearings, beginning on Oct. 1," Mr. Farley stated. "In advance of these hearings I cannot discuss my probable recommendations to the President as to the disposition of any of these contracts."

NRA'S 'CLEAN UP' AWAITS RETURN OF GEN. JOHNSON

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—The results of the NRA's "clean up" campaign, aimed at herding all remaining industries under codes, awaited Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, Blue Eagle chief, as he returned tonight from a month's vacation.

Johnson's own retirement from leadership of the recovery administration also loomed again. Johnson himself has recommended that President Roosevelt relieve him as soon as the "clean up" drive is over and put a commission at the head of NRA.

Approximately 200 new codes out of 262 pending when Johnson left four weeks ago have been whipped into shape and are ready for his final action, it was learned today. When these pacts are crammed through and are in effect, the NRA will consider its regimentation of industry accomplished.

As soon as this cleaning up process is completed, according to Johnson's own recommendations, he would turn over the reins to a commission. The President has not yet acted on the recommendations but is expected to do so soon after he returns. Johnson's displacement in favor of a commission would be taken here as the signal for the long awaited shakeup and overhauling in the NRA.

FIVE INJURED DURING RIOTING AT PEKIN PLANT

Big Distillery Is Closed by Labor Strife.

Pekin, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Five men were injured here today, two seriously, during rioting as 200 nonunion men attempted to crash their way through the blockade of pickets surrounding the American Distillery company's plant.

Men were felled by clubs. Bricks were hurled toward the plant entrance. It was reported that several wounded men were taken to physicians for treatment of bruises.

The nonunion men had mobilized at the Tazewell county courthouse for their march on the distillery. At a signal they swept forward toward the picket lines, but the strikers apparently were forewarned.

Reports were current that the National Guard was to be called. The distillery, one of the largest in the Peoria area, was closed by a strike, but authorities apparently have made no request for the militia.

The rioters, by their threat of a general strike, forced deputy sherifs to abandon attempts to conduct workers through the picket lines. Several hundred of the 1,100 men and women employed at the plant showed a desire to return to work, if the deputies could clear the way. The pickets permitted the deputies to pass, but closed in behind them and blocked the way of the workers.

Previous Dispute Is Revived.

Picketing at the plant, which is located south of the city, began late Monday night. Since then lines containing 200 to 300 men and women have besieged the distillery.

The present controversy is a revival of the labor dispute that forced the plant to close two months ago. At that time a federal arbitrator supposedly effected a settlement satisfactory to both sides.

The unionists charge, however, that the company has not lived up to the conditions of that settlement. They assert that employés have been discharged because of their union affiliations and that the company has refused to grant hearings before a grievance committee, as provided in the arbitrator's decision. The employers deny the charges.

St. Paul Council Names F. R. Cullen Police Chief

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Frank R. Cullen, detective lieutenant, today was named chief of police here and his appointment confirmed by the city council which had refused to confirm Frank Somer, former chief of police, and later Alexander Jamie, who was a former director of the "Secret Six" in Chicago.

BUILDING TRADES TO ASK MORE, NOT LESS PAY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—William Green hinted today that organized building trades workers, instead of accepting a pay reduction, would ask for more money once the administration's housing program starts.

Some administration officials had hinted that labor take a cut in hourly or daily wages to lessen the cost of building and thus speed the housing program.

Writing in the American Federationist, President Green said:

"These men need work and incomes to get back on their feet, yet as soon as help was in sight for the industry the issue of wage reductions was raised.

"Wages averaged only 36 per cent of construction costs and a wage increase would not mean much to builders or owners, but to the building tradesmen and their families it would mean everything in living, and to the retail merchants it would be most important."

Higher wages for the so-called "heavy" industry workers—steel, cement, machinery, and the like—also were suggested by the A. F. of L. chief.

PLATFORM DRAFT GIVEN APPROVAL BY COUNTY G. O. P.

Delegates Leave for State Convention.

On the eve of departure for the state convention at Springfield, the Republican county central committee met yesterday at the Hotel La Salle and approved the proposed platform outlined by the subcommittee under James B. Waller.

WM. H. WEBER.

William Weber, chairman of the central committee; Jacob D. Allen, secretary; Edward F. Moore, Mr. Waller, and other leaders were to leave for Springfield last night.

In that city downstate representatives were meeting yesterday to draft their tentative platform. Today they will meet with the Cook county group and from that meeting will come a platform to be submitted to the convention as a whole when it is called to order tomorrow.

Downstate Chief Hinted.

In addition to adopting the platform yesterday's Cook county meeting decided to vote as a unit in the organization of the convention. Just who the group will back for permanent chairman is still a question, but the consensus seemed to be that it would be some one from downstate.

Harmony has been the keynote of the early Republican meetings, and it was understood that a downstater would be backed for permanent chairman to obviate any possibility of friction.

Among those mentioned are Col. George G. Seaman of Taylorville, first state commander of the American Legion; former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, and others.

The platform presented to the Cook county meeting by Mr. Allen, the Republican candidate for clerk of the Probate court, involved a bitter attack on the New Deal, but avoided any personal attacks on President Roosevelt himself.

"Radicalism" Denounced.

In the opening planks the Democratic party was denounced for fostering "radicalism and dictatorship in government," and for the "introduction, inauguration and establishment of a burocracy, extending its ramifications into every section of the United States."

The Democrats were charged with having instituted a nation-wide reign of fear, to the injury of the whole industrial life of the nation; with having set up an ever-increasing army of federal employés; and with squandering the public money despite the promises of 1932 that the tax burden of the country would be lessened.

Striking out at the local Democratic organization, characterized in the platform as the "corrupt Nash-Kelly machine," one plank charged the city government with fostering an open alliance with syndicated and commercialized gambling, liquor privileges and prostitution.

Condemning the recent challenge to the freedom of the press by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, the platform read in part:

"The Republican party views with alarm the direct and indirect attacks of the Democratic national administration upon the freedom of the press.

Demand Freedom of Press.

"Freedom of speech, the rights of assembly, and the constitutional guarantees and American traditions of free speech and a free press remain in these days of the so-called New Deal, burocratic autocracy, the last refuge and bulwark of a free people."

In another portion of the platform the New Deal was dealt a blow, the plank declaring that "liberty is too sacred for experimentation. We are unreservedly committed to a free government in its fullest aspects, and we bow only to his majesty the American citizen."

After Mr. Allen had given a brief summary of the platform there were only two comments. They were requests for the reading of the plank on the freedom of the press and the plank dealing with 1 per cent tax limitations.

The entire platform was then passed by a unanimous vote. The entire meeting took less than fifteen minutes.

Pendergast Man Leads in Missouri Senatorial Race

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 8 (Wednesday).—(AP)—An overwhelming victory for the Kansas City Democratic organization of T. J. (Big Tom) Pendergast in yesterday's primary election was indicated early today as Harry S. Truman increased his lead in the bitter senatorial race to more than 73,000 votes.

Returns from 2,506 of the state's 4,269 precincts gave Truman 188,642 votes, Representative John J. Cochran 114,792, and Representative Jacob L. Milligan, 85,325.

Supported by Clark.

These figures included 478 precincts in Jackson county—center of Truman's strength—and 267 in St. Louis, home of Cochran. Milligan, supported by Senator Bennett Champ Clark for the nomination, obtained a large share of his strength from rural territory.

Political observers said Truman, barring an unexpected show of strength by one of his rivals, was assured of the nomination and would meet Senator Roscoe Patterson, unopposed for the Republican nomination, in November.

In the most spirited of the congressional contests Representative Ralph F. Lozier was trailing William L. Nelson, a former congressman, for the Democratic nomination in the new Second district.

Labor Man Is Leading.

In the Sixth district Congressman R. T. Wood, president of the state Federation of Labor, was leading three opponents.

Missouri's other congressmen who sought reëlection by districts after being elected at large two years ago, appeared to have won nomination.

Clarence Cannon of the Ninth district and Joseph B. Shannon of the Fifth were unopposed.

Landon Leads Brinkley in Kansas.

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Supporters of Gov. Alf M. Landon, 46 year old Republican, claimed his renomination tonight on the basis of early returns from today's primary, giving him nearly a 5 to 1 lead over his sole opponent, John R. Brinkley, of goat gland fame.

Landon, who defeated Harry H. Woodring, now assistant secretary of war, for the governorship two years ago, took his lead in the first tabulation to report and held it through several hours of counting.

The six-cornered race for the Democratic nomination appeared to lay between Omar B. Ketchum, who turned two years ago from the printer's trade to become mayor of Topeka, and Thurman Hill of Wichita, former member of the state public service commission, who promised stringent regulation of utilities in the event of his election.

The Returns.

Unofficial returns from 640 precincts out of 2,680 give for the Republican nomination: Landon, 56,315; Brinkley, 13,784.

Returns from 318 precincts gave for the Democratic nomination: Ketchum, 12,600; Hill, 8,076; Charles E. Miller, 6,217; Kirk Prather, 4,150; George Rogers, 718; Walter Eggers, 753.

Kansas congressmen apparently were renominated handily, three without opposition, and the four facing opposition having substantial leads.

In the First district W. P. Lambertson, Republican incumbent, of Fairview, was far in the lead over his three opponents. In the Second U. S. Guyer of Kansas City, Republican incumbent, had 3,897 votes, to 1,841 for Frederick R. White of Kansas City.

In the Third district Harold McGugin of Coffeyville, Republican incumbent, had 2,217, to 766 for Arthur Johnson of Parsons. Edward W. Patterson of Pittsburg had 817 votes and Joe D. Boyd of Coffeyville 580 for the Democratic choice.

Hatfield, Holt in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A bitter fight over the Rooseveltian New Deal—to be staged by a 29 year old liberal Democrat and an old guard Republican—was virtually assured tonight on the basis of returns from West Virginia's off year primary.

Rush D. Holt and Henry D. Hatfield, incumbent Republican, apparently won their party's nominations for the United States senate on the basis of incomplete but mounting returns.

Holt is an outspoken advocate of the policies of President Roosevelt, while Hatfield on many occasions has taken the senate floor to assail the New Deal.

With 1,058 of the 2,335 precincts counted, the results of the Democratic senatorial race were: Rush D. Holt, 44,622; Clem Shaver, former chairman of the Democratic national committee, 23,081; William E. Chilton, 14,470; J. A. Taylor, 13,154; Arthur Koontz, 8,331; Graham Sale, 3,053.

On the Republican side, returns from 905 out of 2,335 precincts gave: Henry D. Hatfield, 48,804; Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, 8,075.

M'NARY INDICATES HE WON'T ENTER PRESIDENCY RACE

Salem, Ore., Aug. 7.—(AP)—To personal friends who have talked to him at his country home near Salem, Senator Charles L. McNary has indicated definitly he is not a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1936.

For many months the name of McNary, leader of the minority party in the senate, has been mentioned frequently in comment on a standard bearer for the Republicans two years hence.

No explicit reason has been advanced by the Oregon senator for his disinclination to seek the presidency, but those who know him well have left his comfortable home with the conclusion Senator McNary would not accept the 1936 nomination if it were offered him.

He is, so he has told his friends, perfectly content to go on representing Oregon in congress.

M'FADDEN WARNS OF TYRANNIES UNDER NEW DEAL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—An address assailing the New Deal by Representative Louis T. McFadden tonight apparently formally signalized the end of the rift between the Pennsylvanian and the regular Republican organization over McFadden's attempt to impeach Herbert Hoover in 1932. The speech was under the auspices of the Republican national committee.

"Don't spend your time worrying over the alleged tyrannies of Hitler," McFadden said. "Look first to your own case."

In virtually every speech McFadden has made over the last few years he has assailed "international bankers." He did so again tonight, urging the country to watch the action of federal reserve officials on international financial dealing.

NEW DEAL PAYS IDLE TO STUDY RED DOCTRINS

FERA Funds Finance an Unusual School.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—An unusual government school—at which communist diatribes against President Roosevelt and the NRA are tendered students as part of their supplementary fare—is being conducted on FERA funds at 302 East 35th street, Manhattan.

The institution, known as the New York City summer school for workers, pays its pupils, all idle men, $8 a week and provides free lunches from moneys of the Federal Emergency Relief administration—one of the most important New Deal ventures.

It is a member of the Affiliated schools, operating kindred education dispensaries throughout the nation, and is sponsored by Hilda Smith, blonde Washington New Dealer and famous educator, and friend and coworker of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Administration Assailed.

One of the most popular pieces of student brain fodder in the supplementary study rack in the second floor headquarters of the school in a Columbia university building is "What every worker should know about the NRA."

Earl Browder, head of the official communist party of the United States, the author of the work, tells the federal endowed seekers after light that they should:

"Push aside the capitalists, open the warehouses, distribute the goods to all who need them."

The Browder screed goes on to state that the administration's planning, which includes the paying of students to read his tract, means "more starvation and catastrophe for the workers."

Claims Cut in Real Wages.

"Roosevelt promised that the NRA would increase the purchasing power of the toiling masses, the workers and the farmers," the exhortation continues. "But in reality the opposite has occurred. There has been a tremendous cut in real wages. Under Roosevelt and the NRA the millions of workers are getting less food, less clothing, less shelter, than they did under Hoover.

"More starvation and catastrophe for the workers. That is what Roosevelt and the NRA have given the workers in the matter of jobs. The reality is the opposite to the promise."

Other works provided for students include: "The Soviet Union, Your Questions Answered," "Why a Workers' Press?" "The Working Women in the Soviet Union," and "Education and the Worker-Student," a tome by Miss Smith herself in collaboration with Jean Carter.

Miss Smith frankly admitted that she knew all about the radical literature in the school.

An equivalent amount of hidebound conservative economic and political literature also is available for supplementary reading at the institution, she said, but this observer found the Red and "pink" works in the ascendant over the literature of other schools of thought.

Says Taxes Paid Red Teacher.

Tucson, Ariz., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—How the government operated a summer industrial school held at Occidental college, Los Angeles, for training social workers, employed as an instructor Miss Mariam Bonner, a former instructor in a communist party school in San Francisco, was told today by G. S. Ballam. He also described how that school became a hotbed for the dissemination of communist propaganda. Mr. Ballam has been in charge of the government transient camp at Phoenix.

Mr. Ballam has just returned from the government operated school where he and four other Arizonans were sent, at federal expense, for instruction. The summer school closed last Friday. Mr. Ballam brought back with him an armful of communist propaganda.

Spreads Red Doctrine.

A story was told by him as to how Miss Bonner, who was hired to teach English, used her classes for the purpose of propagating communism. The students became so resentful of her teachings, Ballam said, that the directors were forced to curb her activities. Nevertheless, she was retained until the close of the summer school.

As a part of their course in English instruction, Mr. Ballam told how they were handed a pamphlet containing Woodrow Wilson's inaugural address, Eugene V. Debs' speech on the 1893 railroad strike, and an essay by Nicolai Lenin. That pamphlet was studied, not merely as giving examples in English prose, but as one discussing the various theories of government.

RETIRED FARMER DEAD.

While lacing his shoes in his home last night, James O'Donnell, 80 years old, 4918 South Wood street, a retired farmer, died of a heart attack. His body was found by his wife, Jennie, 77 years old.

SUES HER PROFESSOR IN $50,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Miss Susanne Allemand, who studied German under Dr. John L. Campion, sued him today for $50,000, charging that he broke "his solemn promise of marriage."

Dr. Campion, 55, is professor of modern languages at the University of Pennsylvania. Miss Allemand, 35, conducts private classes in French. Her broken romance, she avers, was born in Dr. Campion's classroom. They were to be married this month and he is now living in the apartment she selected, the affidavit reads.

Miss Allemand is a native of Amiens, France, and her mother now lives in Paris. Dr. Campion was married twice. Both wives died.

UNION ORGANIZER FACES 28 TRAFIC CHARGES TODAY

George Basso, an organizer for the Chicago Flat Janitors' union, is scheduled to appear in the Trafic court today on twenty-eight charges of parking illegally. Basso was arrested last week when a letter containing four parking slips which had been issued to him did not reach the addressee, a Municipal court clerk, but fell into the hands of Police Commissioner Allman. An investigation disclosed that twenty-eight arrest summonses which had been given to Basso since last November had been "fixed."

Willie Grecco, the clerk, has been suspended pending an investigation by his superior, Joseph A. Gill, clerk of the Municipal court.

Inquiry disclosed yesterday that although Basso has lived at 1007 South Mayfield avenue for the last three years his state automobile license plates were issued to him at 5901 Roosevelt road, Cicero. This is the address of the Capital Auto Parts company. No one could be found yesterday to explain Basso's connection with the company, if any.

SOVIET DOCTRINS IMPERIL NATIONS; ROTARIANS TOLD

Communism has become a menacing threat to the existence of constitutional America, Chicago Rotarians were told at their weekly meeting in the Palmer house yesterday by Lloyd D. Heth, former assistant state's attorney under Maclay Hoyne, who prosecuted communist cases.

"In our government we find reflection of what our colleges are teaching," Mr. Heth said. "We find public officials openly sympathizing with the doctrine of communism. There has sprung up a philosophy of government that challenges the existence of the present form. It has found its way into legislative enactment and has gone beyond all political party lines.

"Recognition of the soviet government has given impetus to the cause of revolution and has emboldened propagandists to preach their destructive doctrines, one result of which has been the wave of general strikes, originally inspired or later encouraged by agents of soviet Russia."

'SILVER SHIRTS' ARE ACCUSED BY EX-MARINE

Says Officer Tried to Have Rifles Stolen.

Los Angeles., Cal., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Virgil Hayes, former marine, told a congressional subcommittee here today he was offered money for stolen government machine guns, rifles, and ammunition by W. W. Kemp, an officer of an organization known as the "Silver Shirts."

Consul Refuses to Talk.

Previously published reports that the "Silver Shirts" had Nazi affiliations were recalled today when Dr. George Gyssling, German vice consul here, refused to appear before the subcommittee. "The committee will have to get the consent of the German embassy in Washington," Dr. Gyssling said, adding he understood he was wanted "for questioning in regard to a $215 check made out to cash and indorsed by a person whose activities are under suspicion."

Later Dr. Gyssling displayed a $215 check to newspaper men. It was indorsed by E. W. Rehmer.

"Somebody must have made a foolish confusion," he said, "as E. W. Rehmer is a lady—my personal secretary."

Joins "Silver Shirts."

Hayes testified he was assigned to intelligence work for the marines and obtained membership in the San Diego "Silver Shirts."

"I was made an instructor," Hayes said. "The Silver Shirts were armed with rifles, pistols, and shotguns, but mainly Springfield rifles bearing a United States government mark.

"I was told the rifles had been purchased from members of the military forces in San Diego.

Accuses Two Corporals.

"I saw 2,000 rounds of ammunition and was told there was another 12,000 rounds hidden in four places near San Diego. The ammunition, I was told, had been purchased from Marine Corporals Huddle and Edelson at the North Island naval base."

Hayes said Kemp, as commander of the San Diego Silver Shirts, offered him $10 for rifles, $50 for machine guns, and $20 a case for ammunition. Hayes quoted Kemp as saying "anything the Silver Shirts did would be countenanced by the San Diego sherif's office with the exception of the undersherif, who is a Jew."

Told Roosevelt Aids Reds.

Hayes said the objective of the Silver Shirts was to "take charge of the United States government and, if necessary, to use force to effectuate the change." He quoted Kemp as saying: "President Roosevelt is being advised by many persons sympathetic with communists," mentioning Secretary Morgenthau and Assistant Secretary Tugwell.

Hayes said he had known Kemp as "a motorcycle dealer in Los Angeles and I was a motorcycle officer." He added Kemp claimed to be "west coast commander of the Silver Shirts."

Hayes said he pretended he would obtain the arms, but had reported instead to the marine corps intelligence service.

Hayes added that William Dudley Pelley, national organizer of the Silver Shirts, told me the plan was to incorporate the nation, giving each adult a share of stock. This would bear a monthly dividend of $80 a share, he said. He also planned to deport the Jews."

Gunfire Alarms New Orleans, Perils City's Armed Truce

New Orleans, La., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Firing of shots by guardsmen at Jackson barracks and in the registration office opposite the city hall today, for a moment threatened to overturn the armed neutrality which has existed for the past eight days between militiamen and police officers on opposite sides of Lafayette street.

An explanation that a bullet which tore through a floor of the registration office building and crashed out through a window on the second floor directly opposite the window of Mayor Walmsley's private office, was the result of the accidental discharge of a riot gun while the weapon was being unloaded, served to relax the tension.

Soldier Makes Apology.

Feeling was further allayed when the sergeant in whose hands the weapon was thus discharged, called in person at the city hall to present his apologies to the mayor.

Earlier in the day a sentry at Jackson barracks fired twice at a "snooper." The sentry said the man was hiding behind some bushes. When he challenged, the sentry said, the man ran away and the soldier fired. The shots apparently did not take effect.

Menwhile in Civil court Judge Nat Bond continued the scheduled hearing of an injunction restraining the guardsmen from occupying the registration office, setting next Tuesday as the new date for the hearing because no service of the court papers had yet been made on Adjt. Gen. Ray H. Fleming. Judge Bond continued the temporary injunction which the soldiers have disregarded to date, in effect.

Senator Huey P. Long failed to appear in court to answer the charge of contempt, his attorney, Alfred D. Danziger, saying that "the senator will appear when he deems it necessary." Late this afternoon the sherif's office claimed to have obtained service on Adjt. Gen. Fleming. This consisted in handing a subpena to a guard at the gate at Jackson barracks, where Gen. Fleming is supposed to be quartered.

The guard let the subpena drop on the ground and then kicked it into the street. The sherif's office said, however, that they regard this as domiciliary service. What action the court will take remains to be seen.

Other Developments.

Other developments of the "war" were:

A flurry of excitement following the arrest of a civilian disturber at the registration office, the military authorities taking him to the first precinct station and charging him with drunkenness.

The release of Curtis H. Grandstaff, arrested and convicted of disturbing the peace, the militiamen charging him with having called them "tin soldiers." Grandstaff, who is a Memphis sales executive, was freed when the Jung hotel paid his $150 fine.

Woman and Saloon Owner Fined for Nude Fan Dance

Lucille Howard, 29 years old, was fined $25 yesterday and her employer, George Economakos, owner of a saloon at 1171 South State street, was fined $200 by Judge Gibson E. Gorman on charges growing out of a nude fan dance by Miss Howard in the saloon.

CHEF AT PRISON GLUM AS REDS SCORN HIS SOUP

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The chef at the city prison moaned today because 31 alleged communists on the fourth day of their hunger strike wouldn't even sample his delicious soup.

"What is the use of building up a reputation for dainty viands among the highest class criminals in the world when a bunch of these guys come along and blow up the whole thing by refusing even to sample the soup," said Herman Schibusch.

The prisoners hoped by their hunger strike to get their $1,000 bail on vagrancy charges reduced.

SCOUTS TO BUILD PIONEER SCENE IN SOLDIERS' FIELD

4,000 Will Take Part in Music Festival.

Buy Your Tickets Now! Tickets for the Chicagoland Music Festival, to be held 7:30 p. m., Aug. 18, in Soldiers' field, may be purchased at The Tribune Public Service offices, by mail, or from your Tribune carrier.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

More than 4,000 Chicago Boy Scouts will play a part in the Chicagoland Music Festival, sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE on Saturday night, Aug. 18. Within seven minutes they will transform Soldiers' field into a pioneer scene with evergreen trees, flaring campfires, and Indian ceemonial dances to the music of bands—youth's contibution to an evening of melody and pageant.

And even while this scene is being created groups of scouts will be performing signaling drills and tumbling and bicycle maneuvers in the center of the field. In the seven crowded minutes the multitude in the stadium will be viewing a circus with all the rings in action.

Reherse Ceremonial Dances.

Scout executives have been planning the spectacle for weeks. Last night at the scout headquarters at 9 West Washington street C. H. Engberg, who with A. C. Nichols, is developing the program, watched groups of boys rehersing the ceremonial dances.

"I believe this is the largest scout spectacle ever attempted," Mr. Engberg said, "and our boys are coöperating fully. Our plan is to give a spectacle with many acts in one. All the scouts will be in action at once, different groups doing different things, but the whole effect will be one of unity."

As the bands strike up the tune for the scouts' entrance at the festival, nearly a thousand boys will race onto the field and begin building the scene. They will set up tents and place 200 evergreen trees around the border of the field. Then 200 campfires, constructed of logs and red flares, will spring up—the reproduction of the pioneers' nights on the prairies.

150 Scouts to Dance.

While this is going on 150 other scouts, in full Indian regalia, will move to the center of the stadium and divide into four sections, each section whirling into a different ceremonial dance. One of these is the pipe tomahawk dance, signifying that the braves could smoke the pipe of peace just as willingly as wield the deadly tomahawk.

Another section is doing the Hopi snake dance—the prayer of the tribe for rainfall. The Hopi sun dance—in which the Indians showed their bravery by torturing themselves—is performed by another section. The fourth ceremonial is the plains war dance, in which the braves with their shouts and motions are recounting their deeds of valor.

By now two Indian tepees have been set up at opposite corners of the field and rustic bridges, built of logs, are appearing near the tents. On two sides of the dancing braves' performance, other scouts are engaged in a mass signal drill.

On the other two sides of the dancers the bicycle teams go through cavalry maneuvers. Beyond one of the drill teams 45 boys come on for a tumbling act. They spread their mats on the ground and in perfect unison do acrobatic feats.

400 Troops Represented.

Along the border of the field signal towers now appear. A log blockhouse and log cabin and lean-tos, built of small logs, are swiftly constructed. Other scouts are illustrating primitive methods of fire making by friction and by flint and steel.

And now the center area clears and the bands break into a patriotic air and down the long field come marching 1,600 scouts, representing 400 troops. Each troop delegation carries an American flag and the troop's own banner.

The scouts along the border of the field cease their work and stand at attention. Into the center of the flagbearers comes another group of scouts, carrying over their heads an American flag, 20 by 30 feet, which has been lent for the occasion by THE TRIBUNE.

The tableau, formed by 4,000 scouts, is stationary now, the boys' voices raised in song. They stand there until the huge fireworks exhibition is given and the festival is over.

He named the others, who were arrested at their homes. They are Joseph Vinci, 27 years old, 2808 Lowe avenue, and Frank Spoto, 20 years old, 718 West 25th street. The truck and most of the radios were recovered. The merchandise had been consigned from the Ford Motor company's plant at 12600 Torrence avenue to the Advance Transfer company, 4100 South Union avenue, by which Bransley was employed.

River Forest Youth Killed by Freight Train in West

Robert Swaufield, 17 years old, son of J. E. Swaufield, 740 Forest avenue, River Forest, an insurance broker, was killed yesterday when he fell under a freight train which he was trying to board near Rock Springs, Wyo., according to a dispatch. The boy's father said that Robert and Jeannette Kaltenbach, 739 Forest avenue, River Forest, her brother Harry Kaltenbach Jr., and their aunt, a Miss Jakes, left on an automobile tour of the west six weeks ago. Mr. Swaufield was seeking information last night on why his son was trying to ride a freight train.

ANOTHER WARM DAY FORECAST; POSSIBLY RAIN

Another warm, moist day was in prospect for the Chicago area this morning. The weather bureau forecast partly cloudy weather, with possibly a shower tonight, followed by lower temperatures tomorrow afternoon.

Chicago escaped the excessive heat which continued to sear a large part of the middle west yesterday, but high humidity made the day uncomfortable. The temperature went no higher than 88, which was reached at 3:45 p. m.

Although rain has fallen in Chicago for three consecutive days, the total precipitation has been only .30 of an inch, representing a deficiency for August of .39 of an inch.

Temperatures above 100 degrees were recorded yesterday in many cities. Kansas City had a maximum of 108, and St. Louis, Mo., Keokuk, Ia., and Springfield, Ill., each reported 104. Carbondale, Quincy, and Pana, Ill., also recorded marks above 100.

CUSTOMS AGENTS ARREST SIX AS LIQUOR RUNNERS

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Federal customs officers surprised a gang of alleged liquor runners near Frostproof early today and captured an airplane, three new automobiles, 35 cases of bonded liquor and six prisoners, including a 17 year old girl.

THE LOCH NESS MONSTER NOW ROAMS ATLANTIC

PARIS, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Loch Ness monster of Scotland, or possibly a near relative, now appears to be disporting himself in the open Atlantic.

Officers of the French liner Cuba today reported seeing a strange sea beast 800 miles southwest of the Azores July 1. Capt. Sylvestre of the Cuba entered the following in the ship's log:

"A marine monster about 75 feet long, 12 to 15 feet high, with a small head and a long neck adorned with two distinct humps was sighted.

"Officer of the watch, Maquerre, and two helmsmen saw the strange animal rise to the surface four times in 30 seconds. Each time it raised its flexible neck and seemed to look at the ship. Unfortunately the witnesses were unable to distinguish the exact shape of the body and tail."

Carson Pirie Scott & Co. is celebrating its 80th birthday this year—and is feeling in a reminiscent mood. Perhaps the store's many friends will be interested in a little of its history. Eighty years ago this summer, two young men of Scotch-Irish stock, over in Belfast, conceived the idea of going into the dry goods business in "the States." The thriving town of Amboy was chosen as the most promising location, and the firm of "Carson & Pirie" was introduced to retail trade. It was a modest beginning, if reckoned in terms of this world's goods, but it was backed by an almost fanatical insistence upon quality—a determination to give the customer his every cent's worth. It's the same sense of quality, carried through the years, that has made Carson Pirie Scott & Co. of today known to its many friends for the dependability of its word and the worth of its goods.

GEORGE BANCROFT SAYS HE THOUGHT HE HAD DIVORCE

Film Actor Testifies at Alimony Hearing.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 7.—(AP)—George Bancroft, in snappy attire but with a frown on his face, testified today he "didn't remember" marrying Mrs. Edna Bancroft, but "thought" he had obtained a divorce from her.

Asked by the attorney of the woman who claims to be the screen actor's first wife about the divorce, Bancroft replied:

"I thought I had. Do you think I would have brought a girl who is now 17 years old into the world if I hadn't thought I had a divorce?"

Asks For Record.

"Well," asked the attorney, "have you any record with you of your divorce or your remarriage?"

"No, they got lost some place," Bancroft replied, turning with a plea to the judge. "Your honor, don't you realize how this is? I didn't think anything like this ever would come up."

The judge was silent.

Bancroft testified in a hearing to determine whether he shall pay temporary alimony to Mrs. Edna Bancroft pending adjudication of her separate maintenance suit.

She charges the actor deserted her in 1917 and married Mrs. Octavia Broske without having obtained dissolution of the alleged first marriage. She named Mrs. Octavia Bancroft as co-respondent and asked $1,000 a month alimony and a division of community property.

Girl, 17, by Second Wife.

Bancroft and his second wife are the parents of a 17 year old girl.

The two Mrs. Bancrofts met for the first time as the hearing convened, but they sat on opposite sides of the courtroom and did not exchange glances.

A fetching smile was given the actor by Mrs. Octavia Bancroft as he answered the questions of the other woman's attorney, S. S. Hahn.

The attorney waved a marriage license at Bancroft and asked him if he knew what it was. The actor looked at it and said he did.

Recognizes Marriage License.

"Is this your marriage license?" Hahn asked.

"Yes, that's it."

"Were you married to Mrs. Edna Bancroft before a justice of the peace in Buffalo, N. Y.?" Hahn wanted to know.

"I don't remember," Bancroft replied.

"How long did you and Mrs. Edna Bancroft live together?" asked the lawyer.

"About a year."

"You introduced her to your friends as your wife, did you not?"

"No, I didn't."

"Why not?" asked Hahn in surprise.

"Because I didn't have any friends."

"Well now, Mr. Bancroft, you introduced Mrs. Edna Bancroft to your brother as your wife, didn't you?"

"Yes."

Bancroft wore a gray Norfolk jacket, shepherd's plaid trousers, and a vivid green tie with white spots as large as a pigeon's eggs.

TELLS OF CO-ED BEAUTY'S LAST EVENING ALIVE

Norman, Okla., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Events that preceded the death of Marian Mills, 19 year old beauty queen at the University of Oklahoma, were told today by Mrs. Hazel Brown, a fraternity house cook. She testified at the preliminary hearing of Neal Myers, a university junior, charged with the girl's murder to prevent maternity.

"Neal came to me last March and said he was in trouble—that a girl friend of his was in trouble, too," Mrs. Brown said. She told of sending him to a doctor, who, the youth said, "was willing to take the case, but wanted $75."

"Neal told me he didn't have the money," she added.

Mrs. Brown further testified that Neal said "a doctor in Chickasha had prescribed a simple remedy."

She said he wanted to bring the girl to her house, but she refused, and added:

"The next time I saw Neal was July 9, the night before Marian died. She was with him that time.

"We sat around and talked for about thirty minutes or an hour. She got up from time to time and took some white capsules. She said she had started taking them about 1 o'clock that afternoon."

Medical witnesses who conducted postmortem examinations testified earlier that death apparently was caused by shock following an attempted criminal operation.

FAST WORKING GANG GETS $226 IN 4 ROBBERIES

Three fast working bandits wearing smoked glasses yesterday took $226 in four robberies in the North Damen avenue district.

The men first entered the office of the Lincoln-Boyle Ice company at 1800 Cornelia avenue and took $40 from the manager, Emil C. Miller, and two customers. A few minutes later they robbed Walter Jankowski, 3248 Belle Plaine avenue, a department store driver, of $80 after they had forced his truck to the curb at Cornelia and Hoyne avenues.

As police were investigating these reports another department store driver, Lewis Paur, 4231 Ozark avenue, notified them that he had been robbed of $16 at Dakin street and Western avenue. The final holdup took place at 2232 Irving Park boulevard, where the robbers took $90 from Evart Schmidt, 4729 North Troy street, a beer truck driver.

Father to Prosecute

The Kensington police yesterday started proceedings to extradite John and Henry Wozniak, brothers, who were arrested in Gary after they had held up their father, John Wozniak Sr., in a saloon at 11755 South Michigan avenue Monday evening. The father, who is the owner of a jewelry store at 11725 South Michigan avenue, told the police he would help prosecute his sons for the robbery of the saloonkeeper and the customers.

Wozniak said he had not seen his sons in ten years until they entered the saloon on the robbery expedition. He said that when they recognized him they cursed him and assaulted him. It was his information to the police that led to the arrest of the two in Gary yesterday morning.

John Wozniak Jr., who is 26 years old, was released last February from the Michigan City, Ind., penitentiary, where he served a term for burglary. Henry, who is 22, has been arrested several times before, according to the police.

He refused to heed advice that he postpone the fast, which he announced some time ago as his means of expiating injuries inflicted by his followers upon Pundit Lal Nath, orthodox Hindu leader and opponent of the campaign against untouchability.

YOUNG SLAYER'S PLEA FOR AN AIR GUN IS REVEALED

Mother Will Go to Boy in Springfield Today.

Billy Atares, 13 years old, wrote only one letter home to his mother, Mrs. Roy Kenoff, 2817 North Damen avenue, before he shot and killed his playmate, 11 year old Raymond Wylder, last Thursday in Auburn, Ill., but in that letter he made one request.

"Please send me 35 cents," he wrote. "I want to buy a beebe [air] gun."

"Of course I didn't send him the money," his mother, a stout little blonde woman, who married Billy's father when she was 14 and divorced him six years later to marry Roy Kenoff, a cab driver, told a neighbor. "Billy didn't know what to do with a gun. He might have hurt himself."

Billy, who was spending part of his summer vacation in Auburn, got a gun, however, a shotgun. He stole it from a farm house and with it he shot the Wylder boy, because, he said, Wylder "told" about the theft. Billy is being held in the Sangamon county jail at Springfield for the shooting.

Mrs. Kenoff arrived in Chicago yesterday from London, Ont., where she was on a vacation with her small daughter, Marion Barbara, when she was informed of the shooting. She refused to comment on her son's misfortune other than to say that it couldn't "possibly be true." She plans to go to Springfield today.

GARAGE OWNER FOUND GUILTY IN AUTO THEFT RING

Max Hense, 33 years old, garage owner of Oak Lawn, was found guilty by a jury yesterday afternoon in Judge Benjamin P. Epstein's Criminal court as an accessory in automobile larceny. He faces a sentence of 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary.

The actual thieves are charged with having stolen 103 automobiles before the gang was broken up by State's Attorney Courtney's assistants.

Chief of Police John Paller of Evergreen park, is now serving a 1 to 5 years' sentence for conspiracy to defraud an insurance company and William Rossner, a tavern owner in Oak Lawn, is serving a 1 to 20 year sentence for receiving stolen property.

John Mills and William Grenko, two of the thieves, have entered pleas of guilty and have been testifying for the state. They will be sentenced later.

OFFICER KILLS HIMSELF TO SAVE $250,000 POLICY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 7.—An extraordinary story of what the coroner described as a "cold blooded, calculated method to defraud an insurance company" was revealed at the inquest today for Maj. William Saint John Rowlandson, who was found shot to death in a taxicab outside his flat in London last Friday.

The evidence showed that the dead man was heavily in debt and that he had been given until 3 p. m. that day to pay the final instalment of $35,000 on his $250,000 insurance policy. Just before 3 p. m., the evidence revealed, he told his lawyer that he would be dead before 3 o'clock.

The taxi driver testified that Maj. Rowlandson beckoned him and asked him the time. The driver told him it was eight minutes to 3 o'clock. Then, the driver said, he was ordered to drive the man home. Upon arrival there he was found shot dead.

TOKIO, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The rescue of three Americans—two women and a man—who had drifted on the Pacific ocean in their sailing vessel with its mast broken since June 24, was reported to the United States consulate today.

The consulate was informed that the Japanese surveying ship Koshu called at isolated Fey's island near Yap July 20 and rescued the three Americans. They are: William L. Tewaro, a painter; Mrs. Tewaro, a writer, and Miss Marion Phillips, a nurse, of Santa Barbara, Cal.

They sailed from San Diego March 1 in a seven ton vessel. The mast was carried away. Island natives rescued them from the sea. The Koshu took the Americans and their vessel to Pelew. The Americans said they wanted to repair their craft and continue on to Manila but that they had only $17.

JUDGE DEMANDS ACTION TO STAMP OUT ARSON RINGS

Asks Grand Jury to Push Prosecution.

Members of the August grand jury were sworn in yesterday and charged by Judge Michael Feinberg, acting chief justice of the Criminal court, to direct their attention toward the suppression of organized arson gangs.

Success of State's Attorney Courtney's drive against other branches of organized crime, the acting chief justice said, has left the jurors free to concentrate on stamping out arson. He pointed to the fact that twelve kidnapers have been prosecuted and convicted, that automobile thefts have been reduced from 97 to 36 daily, and that cases are now being tried in the Criminal court within thirty days after indictments are returned.

36 Already Indicted.

Judge Feinberg told the jurors that 36 defendants, said to be members of a gang who have collected a percentage of more than $1,000,000 in fire insurance, already have been indicted.

"The court is informed by the state's attorney," Judge Feinberg said, "that he has further facts to present to this grand jury for investigation on the subject of arson, and I charge you diligently to devote your time to an investigation of this subject and bring to the bar of justice by an indictment those whom you have reason to believe from the facts presented are guilty of such crimes.

"It has been more than twenty years since the detection and prosecution of a highly organized arson ring in Cook county. The smashing of that ring put an end, so far as was known, to any organized effort at arson until the present time. Recently it has been brought to the court's attention that arson on an extensive scale has been operated by a supposed organized ring possibly more vicious than that of 20 years ago.

Calls Arson Vicious Crime.

"In the judgment of this court the crime of arson, from the standpoint of the possible catastrophe to property and life, is more vicious and extensive than the individual crimes of kidnaping, automobile thefts, or robbery with a gun.

"If there is such a thing at the present time as an organized ring to commit arson it must be met quickly and brought by its roots to the surface, by indictment of those guilty and by vigorous prosecution of them."

Judge Feinberg also directed the attention of the jurors to the recommendation made by the July grand jury that the August grand jury continue the investigation of fraud in connection with the administration of relief by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission.

Gordon D. Beckley of La Grange was appointed foreman of the grand jury.

LAUNDRY IS FINED FOR VIOLATION OF CITY SMOKE LAW

Charged with violation of the smoke ordinance, the Marquette laundry, 6553 South Kedzie avenue, owned by Joseph Nestor, was fined $150 yesterday by Municipal Judge Eugene Holland. Women residents from the neighborhood of the laundry testified that on May 23 and 24 the chimney of the laundry emitted dense clouds of smoke for periods longer than the maximum six minutes allowed by city ordinance.

9 ARE INJURED AS PLANE CRASHES AT MILWAUKEE

A huge twelve passenger plane, operating on the Northwest Airways from St. Paul to Chicago, last night crashed a mile east of the Milwaukee county airport after it had taken off for Chicago. Seven passengers and two pilots were aboard the plane.

The passengers and the pilots were helped from the wreckage by emergency squads from the airport and rushed to the County Emergency hospital in Milwaukee. None was said to be seriously injured.

Officials at the airport said that it was evident the pilot, Joseph Ohrbeck of Minneapolis, had realized something was the matter with the plane and had kept close to the ground so as to avert a serious crash in case of a complete failure of the engines. Copilot of the plane is John Woodhead, also of Minneapolis.

There were no Milwaukee or Chicago passengers on the plane.

YOUTH STRUGGLES WITH POLICEMAN; BADLY WOUNDED

George Callaghan, 23 years old, 7722 South Sangamon street, a coal salesman, was in a critical condition at the Auburn Park hospital last night following an affray with a policeman. He is alleged to have tried to hold up the policeman.

According to the story of the police officer, Joseph Schepferman of the Gresham station, Callaghan tried to drag him into an alley as Schepferman was passing along Halsted street near 83d street. He resisted, and when the young man brandished a pistol he drew his own revolver and fired three shots. The first bullet struck the policeman's right hand and the other two penetrated Callaghan's chest near his heart. He is not expected to live.

SERIOUSLY HURT IN CRASH.

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—J. Lawrence Michael, 43, of 536 Cuyler avenue, Oak Park, was believed to be dying in a hospital here tonight of injuries suffered when his car crashed into a tree eight miles north of Rockford.

FEDERAL RAIDS NET $2,000,000 BOOTLEG GOODS

241 Stills Seized Here in Three Months.

More than $2,000,000 worth of illegal distillery equipment, mash, and spirits has been seized in a three month campaign against violators of the internal revenue laws in Chicago. This was announced yesterday by Maj. W. L. Ray, head of the Chicago enforcement bureau of the federal treasury department.

Since the consolidation last May 10 of the old alcoholic beverage unit and the bureau of industrial alcohol, both of the treasury department, to form the present bureau, 241 unlicensed stills, many of them capable of producing 2,000 gallons of spirits every 24 hours, have been discovered and dismantled. The seized equipment was valued at an average of $7,000 per still, so the total value was estimated at $1,687,000.

$500,000 Liquor Seized.

During the same period 41,542 gallons of spirits—moonshine or high proof alcohol—also were seized, and 1,403,052 gallons of mash, capable of producing another 155,000 gallons of alcohol, were destroyed. In all its raids the bureau has taken possession of nearly 200,000 gallons of illegally distilled "hard" liquors, which, at $2.50 a gallon, the current bootleg price for spirits, were valued at $500,000.

This work has been done by 119 investigators, most of them trained during the prohibition era. Treasury department officials feel that this number is not sufficient to stamp out bootlegging in Chicago and it was announced yesterday in Washington that 57 additional men are being sent here. Most of the newcomers, however, will be stationed in branch offices of the enforcement bureau in smaller urban centers in this district comprising the states of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Describes Changes in Industry.

Some of the changes in the wildcat alcohol industry as a result of prohibition repeal were discussed by Maj. Ray. He disclosed there is a "bottle exchange" where bottles which once held properly licensed and taxed liquors are refilled with bootleg stuff. Untaxed spirits thus masquerade under legitimate stamps. Counterfeiting of labels, a common practice of prohibition days has now been extended to government tax stamps.

But the greatest change, the major explained, is in the attitude toward bootleggers of the public and of the liquor interests, which have 400 million dollars invested in legitimate distilleries and breweries.

"The men on the street, particularly the business men . . . know that every bottle of tax free liquor which is sold increases individual tax bills," Maj. Ray said. "The government expects to get from $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year out of liquor taxes and the business men want to see that the money actually comes in."

Held Unfair Competitors.

Naturally the beer and whisky people want to stamp out bootlegging. The bootleggers who put up stills for $5,000 and $6,000, uninspected by the government and built to no expensive government specifications, producing unlicensed and untaxed spirits, are unfair competitors.

"Just now this department is in a transitional stage between the old enforcement outfit of the prohibition days and the new inspection and enforcement unit. We expect to profit by this changed attitude."

On Monday evening, the major said, 75 agents visited night clubs in the loop area. All the places were found to be selling properly taxed liquor save one. In that place, the name of which he refused to disclose, several bottles "suspected of being filled with bootleg liquor" were taken for investigation.

FOUND DEAD, THROAT CUT.

William Brubaugh, 57 years old, 2342 Jackson boulevard, a barber, was found dead yesterday in the garage at the rear of his home. His throat had been cut and a razor lay nearby. The Warren avenue police said Brubaugh apparently had committed suicide.

M'ADOO DIVORCE JUDGE IS BROTHER-IN-LAW OF SENATOR'S PARTNER

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Disclosure that Superior Judge Allan Campbell of Bakersfield, visiting judge who recently granted a 42 minute divorce to Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, is a brother-in-law of a law partner of United States Senator McAdoo today added to the fire of controversial comment that followed the divorce.

"The fact that Frank Swain [of the McAdoo law firm] is my brother-in-law had nothing whatever to do with my actions in the McAdoo divorce suit. He never spoke to me about the case," Judge Campbell said.

Following the McAdoo divorce trial, in which the daughter of former President Wilson obtained an uncontested decree within 42 minutes of the time her attorney first filed the divorce papers, Presiding Judge Frank Collier of the County court conducted an investigation and wrote a statement criticizing Attorney Henry Grivi, which the presiding judge caused to be appended to the file of court papers in the action. Grivi represented Mrs. McAdoo in filing the papers and obtaining the decree.

LOUIS LOVED A PLANE; STEALS AWAY WITH IT

WARSAW, Aug. 7.—(AP)—For the third time, an airplane has been stolen in Poland. Authorities today frankly admitted their inexperience in policing the clouds and likewise admitted they had been unable to find the stolen machine.

They asserted the theft was committed by Louis Antowiez, a noncommissioned officer of the reserves who was deprived of his pilot's license in 1930 because of poor health. Antowiez, however, was permitted to aid in the construction of an airplane undergoing tests by the military authorities.

The ex-pilot loved that machine. Military police who were watching over it say he loved it too much for, even as they watched, he "gave it the gun" and flew away.

Tobacco is sold in open auctions. We buy the right kinds—mild and ripe—for Chesterfield—and pay the price

..but even that's not all there is to it

AFTER you receive the tobacco from the farmers you have to dry it just right and then store it away for ageing for over two years.

Then you take the different types of home grown and Turkish tobaccos and weld them together in such a way as to make a balanced blend.

The Chesterfield process of blending and cross-blending tobaccos is different from others, and we believe it helps to make a milder and better tasting cigarette.

YOUTH ADMITS EXTORTION PLOT ON H. H. ROGERS

Note Threatens Harm to Oil Millionaire's Wife.

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—A former chauffeur for Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers was arrested tonight and confessed, police said, to a blackmail extortion plot against the Standard Oil millionaire.

The police had watched the man's movements since last Friday, but had waited until their evidence would prove incontestable. When the arrest was made the prisoner was carrying an old suitcase which he believed contained the $10,000 he had demanded on the threat of doing violence to Mrs. Rogers, the former Mrs. Pauline Van Der Voort Dresser, whom Mr. Rogers married almost a year ago.

Held on "Lindbergh Law."

The prisoner, who described himself as John Cvaniger, 26, was charged with extortion, blackmail, and violation of the federal statute known as the Lindbergh law which covers use of the mails to extort funds by threats of kidnaping or violence. Police said Cvaniger also went by the name of Allen and that he was a native of Pueblo, Colo.

On July 23, according to detectives who made the arrest, Cvaniger wrote a letter to Col. Rogers which read as follows:

"If you love your wife you had better do as we tell you or some trouble may happen to her. Get $10,000 in cash in $10 bills and get it ready in five days. Be sure you do the work yourself. If money is marked or trap is set, we will know. You will only endanger your wife's life reporting this. Wait for our next note."

Second Letter Sent.

The first note, and a second which followed promptly after the five day interval, were both signed "X. O. Delta." The second letter gave instructions concerning delivery of the money. It demanded that it be wrapped elaborately, placed in an old suitcase, and delivered to a tailor's shop at 59th street and Third avenue.

On the suitcase, according to the instructions, was to be placed a card with the name "Mr. Dubera" inscribed on it. The bag was then to be left at the tailor's establishment with instructions that "Mr. Dubera" would call for it within a few days.

On receipt of the second note Col. Rogers communicated with Inspector John J. Sullivan. Inspector Sullivan assigned three detectives under Lieut. Charles E. Newman of the bomb squad to the case and they proceeded to carry out the demands of the notes to the last detail.

Detectives Start Vigil.

The suitcase was placed in the shop and the detectives began the long vigil which ended in Cvaniger's apprehension. Inside the bag were scraps of newspapers and about $100 in cash, which the detectives used to disguise the "money" package.

Cvaniger first appeared last Friday. He walked into the shop, according to the police, and surveyed the surroundings. He made a casual inquiry of the proprietor, whose innocence the police said was unquestionable, and went away.

In the afternoon he returned, but still did not ask for the suitcase. He came back again Saturday and Sunday, apparently to make certain he was not being watched, then he went away and did not return until tonight.

Walks Out with Bag.

On his last visit Cvaniger walked briskly into the shop and asked the proprietor for the bag. It was delivered to him and Cvaniger walked out, to be met by the detectives, who had converged upon him. He made a spirited effort to resist arrest and in doing so came close to being shot.

Cvaniger said he bore no ill will for the Rogers and did not know why he had singled them out.

Col. Rogers, 52, has been married three times, his first two marriages ending in divorce. A veteran yachtsman, he maintains an elaborate Long Island estate with a de luxe glass enclosed swimming pool.

JAP PRINCE SAYS U. S. IS READY TO SETTLE ALIEN BAR

Reports to His Nation on American Trip.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Aug. 8.—[Wednesday.]—An important statement containing Prince Fumimaro Konoe's observations on the American-Japanese situation was made public this morning. Copies of the statement had already been submitted to Premier Admiral Keisuki Okada and other state ministers.

Prince Konoe, president of the Japanese house of peers, returned to Japan from the United States last week.

The statement deals extensively with various important problems, including immigration, Manchurian, naval, and Chinese issues.

Principal Points of Statement.

The principal points of the statement are:

"The United States seems to be unwilling to take the initiative in an improvement of Japanese-American relations, apparently assuming a wait and see policy.

"The concensus of opinion among intelligent Americans is that even though the immigration question is settled, this will not have any bearing on the Japanese population question, and therefore will not have a practical effect on the United States. The United States, therefore, is disposed to settle the issue before long as a gesture toward Japanese-American friendship.

"Regarding economic relations, Americans maintain that Japan is selling goods below the American cost—one type of dumping. Responsible Americans are seeking a solution through mutual control of trade, directing efforts toward an increase of exports of noncompetitive products.

Says Japan Is Misunderstood.

"Regarding Manchuria, there is no sign of early recognition, the Americans still being of the impression that Japan violated the nine power pact. However, this does not imply that the United States intends to interfere.

"Regarding armaments, Americans generally misinterpret Japan's demand for naval parity as a demand for absolute equality in total tonnage of all classes, and on this presumption oppose changing the existing ratios. When it is explained that Japan desires theoretical parity, or merely the principle of equality, they point out that if this is granted, Japan will build up to actual parity within a few years.

"In any event, the knowledge of the public on technical matters is sadly lacking, even those matters pertaining to the United States' claim that battleships and airplane carriers are utilized as defensive armaments."

Historic Ulster Castle Burns Objects of Art Are Saved

BY ROBERT SAYERS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 7.—Hillsborough castle, the official residence of the duke of Abercorn, governor of northern Ireland, was practically destroyed by fire today.

Servants, villagers, police, and the Belfast fire brigade fought the blaze four hours. It was eventually brought under control, but only a third of the castle remained intact and this was badly damaged by water.

Duke and Duchess Absent.

The duke and duchess of Abercorn are in England on a holiday. The duke's private secretary, Commander Henderson, from whose quarters the flames spread to the main building, is also on vacation.

The fire was discovered by Sergt. Irvine, head of the castle guard, who ascended the roof to hoist the flag at half-staf on the occasion of the funeral of Paul von Hindenburg, late president of Germany. Sergt. Irvine immediately gave the alarm, but the flames took hold of the roof, which was burning fiercely when the fire brigade arrived from Belfast, twelve miles distant.

Servants, police, and villagers worked desperately clearing the building of documents, plate, furniture, and works of art, including a Van Dyck valued at $50,000 and the baton carried by the duke's father at the coronation of King Edward.

Roof Crashes In.

The fire spread rapidly and within a couple of hours the roof crashed in and the magnificent ballroom and apartments were reduced to ruins. Altogether about thirty rooms were burned out, including those occupied by the prince of Wales and the duke of Gloucester during their recent visit.

The castle was one of the most historic spots in Ulster. Formerly the seat of the marquis of Downshire, it was purchased by the British government and presented to the Ulster government at the time of the first settlement for the official residence of the governor. The purchase price was said to have been $230,000.

The castle was built nearly 300 years ago, and was occupied by King William III during his campaign in 1690.

TOTAL OF BRITISH JOBLESS SHOWS ANOTHER JUMP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 7. — The much boasted improvement in the British unemployment situation has met a setback and for the second month in succession statistics issued by the ministry of labor tonight showed a rise in the number of idle.

On July 23 the registered unemployed numbered 2,126,260, which was 33,674 more than on June 25, when the ministry's report showed the first reverse since January.

Employment figures also showed a drop. The ministry estimated that insured persons between 16 and 64 years of age working in Britain on July 23 numbered 10,136,000, which was a decrease of 27,000 compared with the previous month.

The figures in both categories compare favorably with those of the previous year, showing an increase of 394,000 in the number of employed, while the total number of idle was 315,915 less than in July, 1933. Last month's decline is largely attributed to local holidays and the big increase in the number of boys and girls leaving school and joining the ranks of the unemployed.

3 AMERICANS IN CUBAN JAIL HELD ON PLOT CHARGE

Hope Fades of Getting Early Hearing.

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

HAVANA, Aug. 7.—Three Americans, Frederick H. Willcox, Basil Arthur Needham, and Col. Arthur W. Hoffman, all of New York, who have been held in Principe fortress since Saturday night without hearing, are charged with conspiracy against the Cuban government, according to Secretary of the Interior Pelayo Cuervo. Dr. Cuervo said the police found incriminating documents in the possession of the Americans at the time of their arrest. He would make no prediction as to when the prisoners would have a hearing.

Willcox is a son of William R. Willcox, former chairman of the Republican national committee.

Tip from Washington.

Orders for the arrest of the Americans, it was learned today, originated in the Cuban legation in Washington. Their arrest was attributed to acquaintanceship with another American citizen who figured prominently in Cuban affairs during the Grau San Martin administration. The latter was also listed for arrest, it was said, but he left Cuba recently for the United States.

United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery said tonight that he had received no instructions from Washington concerning the three. He declared no formal demand had been made on the Cuban government for their release.

"I have informally taken up the case with Cuban authorities," he said, "and have asked for a report on why they are being held."

Caffery indicated that he was investigating the credentials of Willcox and Needham before making any formal representations. He said he was convinced Col. Hoffman at least had been detained through error or misunderstanding. The impression is gained that, providing his investigation is satisfactory, the release of the three will be effected immediately.

"On the Spot" Excites Agents.

While the authorities refused to divulge the nature of the incriminating documents said to have been found on the prisoners, it was learned suspicion was aroused by a letter found in the possession of Needham to terminate a certain transaction because he was "on the spot," an expression of which Cuban secret service agents made much.

Willcox had a warant on his person showing him to be a reserve officer in the intelligence division of the United States army, which also greatly interested the police. Maps of Cuba, with blue pencil lines drawn around certain mineral zones, were said to have been found in the luggage of Willcox.

A minute check-up with sugar brokers here revealed that Needham, since his arrival in Cuba about a week ago, had been carrying on negotiations for refined sugar to be shipped to the United States.

On Business Mission.

Willcox's statement that he had been in Cuba for the last six months in connection with asphalt mining matters was confirmed in two unimpeachable sources today. One confirmant is a large owner of asphalt-bearing properties. All of the persons questioned expressed the opinion that the authorities apparently had been misinformed regarding the activities here of the three Americans.

Many prominent Cubans are exerting efforts to effect the release of Col. Hoffman, who is well known here, especially for his activities during the unsuccessful rebellion of 1932 against the Machado régime.

The Havana press tonight asserted that the prisoners would be immediately deported, but this could not be officially confirmed.

The total vote was only a small percentage of the 370,000 ballots cast at the last election.

FOR RIGHTS AGAINST RIOTS.

Illinois Republicans will gather in Springfield today for a three day rally, including the state convention tomorrow. As the state party prepares for its meeting the chief phenomenon apparent in the country at large is the supremacy of riots over rights. It is undeniable that this phenomenon is attributable to the new political doctrines incorporated in the New Deal and proclaimed by it.

The Pacific coast has just seen the termination of communistic disorders which swept it from south to north. In Minnesota an incomprehensible governor is denying the people the right of free delivery of goods they purchase, with a few exempted necessities. He has the state troops out to prevent the use of the public streets by dealers seeking to make deliveries of their goods. He has imposed martial law to exclude the civil authorities and the police from controling the situation. In North Dakota troops have been called out in a controversy over authority and to prevent the execution of a Supreme court order. There, furthermore, one of the claimant governors has declared by proclamation that debts need not be paid.

In Wisconsin a former governor of the state, Mr. Kohler, agrees to the request of the county board not to reopen his plant in the model town of Kohler because the county authorities cannot restrain the disorderly. When Mr. Kohler's plant was struck he did not attempt to break the strike but stopped all operations except that of maintenance and the supply of necessary services to the village. In spite of that the strikers, although there were no strikebreakers, imprisoned maintenance workers in the plant, denied the right of entrance or egress, and as a special concession permitted the owner to come and go at their sufferance. They, moreover, undertook to injure or destroy the plant, and the calling out of state troops was required to prevent further loss of life and property.

In the east the vegetable producers have needed armed forces to protect their farms from destruction, and have been only partly successful at that. In New Orleans state troops and city police have confronted each other for days in a situation which has not come to its potential consequences only because of Huey Long's inherent pusillanimity. In Chicago a stockyards strike just yielding to settlement tied up the stock shipments from the supporting region.

These are only a few instances revealing the disorders which have grown out of the ideas sanctioned by radical government and made use of by communists. There is no doubt of the activities of the latter. They were predicted in detail some time ago in a report made by the president of the American Federation of Labor. They were foreseen as inevitable, flowing from the new federal doctrines suppressing the constitutional rights of individuals. Protection has been withdrawn officially in Washington and in one state after another from rights to which Americans have been accustomed until the beginning of the present administration of the national government.

In the region near by the state capital, where Republicans will meet, state troopers have been on duty for months to prevent worse disorders than have occurred in spite of them in the distracted coal industry. The defiance of constitutional rights began in messages to congress and in acts of congress. It was continued by acts of administrators appointed to execute laws utterly strange to the American people. It has resulted in authority being usurped by groups of men who, without any warant, imposed themselves upon industries, individuals, and local authorities. There have been occasions when a few known Reds could set themselves above the government and dictate to it and to the citizens. There are many official utterances which give encouragement and permission for lawless seizure of property and services. There never was a time before when revolutionaries could back up their violent acts with so much quotation of authoritative statement.

These things flow from the government of the nation by a party which still calls itself Democratic and which until repudiated by its adherents will as a party bear the responsibility. The Republican party is the party of opposition. If it were not naturally so in the normal course of political action it would be so because of its traditional opposition to human servitude under compulsion. It would seem quite plain what the declaration of principles by the Illinois Republicans should be. It can be, briefly, a declaration for rights against riots. It should be for the preservation of American liberties against the revolutionaries, for the tried and tested American form of government against the overthrow of it, whether by rioting Reds or pink professors. The Republican party, if it accepts its opportunity and performs its duty, will oppose with all its force the schemed destruction of all that has made American life what it has been in the past. The party has before it the example of people reduced to desperation in Europe and of people alarmed and distracted at home. The chief hope of America lies in the common sense of the American people and in the underlying confidence that these destructive tendencies cannot prevail. If the Republicans take their stand in the clear, uncompromisingly, without yielding an inch in the direction of current government madness, they will find that the majority of the American people will in the end support them.

The Republican party was needed in 1860 when the existence of the nation was threatened. Occasion has arisen again and the party is again needed. True to itself, it will respond and again will accomplish the task, regardless of the immediate odds thrown against it by the subsidizing and corruption of a part of the electorate in the greatest slush fund use of public money ever seen in the United States.

THE TEACHERS' PAYMASTER REOPENS HIS WINDOW.

The last doubt regarding the RFC loan to the Chicago schools has been removed. Mr. Jones, the chairman, has pronounced the security good and the loan justified within the strictest construction of the law. The school teachers at last get their money.

The late Mayor Cermak inherited a school situation which was about to result in the collapse of a system of public education in Chicago because of the consistent political misconduct and maladministration of the school board. After Mr. Cermak's death Mayor Kelly in turn was faced with the problem of continuing the rehabilitation of the school and city corporate finances. Each month of the depression added to the confusion, which was rendered almost complete chaos by a tax muddle such as the county had never seen before. It was not only that tax collections couldn't be made but, even worse, the tax bills couldn't be sent out. If ever a situation could be called desperate, in whole truth it was this in Chicago.

Although there were other public employés than the school teachers suffering from the financial difficulties in the city, the latter undoubtedly won the greatest sympathy, partly because they composed the largest single unit in the public service, and partly because of the service which they gave. Then, again, it appeared as if public school education might be forced completely to the wall and for the time disappear.

Officials and citizens anxious to correct this situation and fulfil the obligations to the employés by meeting the pay roll puzzled over scheme after scheme which might possibly bring in some money. Mayor Kelly finally and fortunately hit upon the idea of using certain valuable school properties not themselves used for educational purposes as security for a loan which would pay the teachers in full. Of course it met with opposition. At each step new obstacles appeared. It was required that congress give new authority to the RFC, that the state legislature permit such use of school real estate, that a bond issue be authorized, and that the Supreme court find an issue so secured legal. Then it was necessary for the RFC to appraise the properties and find them sufficient. All this has been done and the teachers are to be paid.

Although under Mayor Kelly Chicago has made the most conspicuous financial comeback in the country, the spectacle of unpaid school teachers was regarded throughout the nation as an exhibit of municipal disgrace. The conditions which produced it, running back into corrupt politics and enlarged by legal difficulties, were little understood. Only the bold face of the picture was seen. This misfortune, construed as a disgrace, will now be removed and Chicago can again assert its mastery of difficult problems in most difficult times.

Mr. Jones of the RFC joins the perplexed Chicago officials in genuine relief that the situation has been reduced and in his statement gives due credit to the various officials and citizens who aided to bring it about. The school board now is solvent and it surely must be superfluous to say that, being solvent, it should preserve its financial integrity from now on. By budgetary prudence it can pay as it goes and never again fall into the deep hole from which it has just been extricated. The present board shows a disposition to pursue this course.

Editorial of the Day

RAISIN JACK.

[The Indianapolis News.]

Wayne Coy, one of the governor's secretaries who devotes much of his time to the correctional and penal institutions, says that he knows nothing about the report that some of the inmates of the state prison have been making an intoxicating drink known as raisin jack. Perhaps such a report would not be made to Secretary Coy, as it seems to belong more to the department of Paul Fry, state excise director. It is Mr. Fry's business to issue permits for those who manufacture or deal in intoxicants and there apparently is no record that anybody in the Michigan City institution obtained a permit. However, it has been the policy of the administration to interfere as little as possible with home brewers, and prisoners may have felt that they were free to engage in the business, especially when they were making the drink for their own consumption. If they had made home brewed beer they would be liable for a state tax on malt, wort and similar ingredients, but as raisin jack is a product of raisins and brown sugar, the law may fail to cover it.

In view of other things that have happened, such as the escape of ten convicts last autumn, five more recently, and the habit single prisoners have acquired of walking away, a little thing like making intoxicants does not come as any great surprise.

That the prison administration does not encourage the making of raisin jack, and that this was not an experiment to determine whether it would be profitable for the state, is indicated by the report that the makers are in solitary confinement and that hereafter raisins and brown sugar will be checked carefully.

DAY IN SUMMER.

You rise, alert, to greet the morning's glow,
For they who slumber late will never know
The beauty of the dawn, nor ever see
The early morning sunlight in a tree.

Long roads there are that lead nowhere, it seems,
And there are gypsy roads that lead to dreams,
And all the blue of sky you'll have o'erhead,
The fields that stretch away green carpeted.

A summer day with smell of ripened grain,
With lazy winding rivers that you fain
Would follow—find perhaps a song or two—
And all of it you will bring back with you.

MORE CHINQUAPINS.

Harvey: Shades of James Whitcomb Riley! They are properly called chinquapin or chinkapin, but when I went to school they were chinkypins. They are dwarf chestnuts, more often wormy than not, and were devised by the Creator for the entertainment of Hoosier school kids and a plague for their teachers. They are first cousins to buckeyes and acorns. While a pawpaw lands with a sort of soft squshhh, a chinky will raise a welt on a teacher's head at 30 paces. Indiana holds no exclusive franchise. I received a bag of very fine ones from Virginia last year and a little later you, too, will receive one with my compliments.

Ima Hoosiertoo.

HTW: Lend me thine ear. My boss, a dyed-in-the-wool Hoosier from Tipton county, says the chinquapin is a nut with a flavor similar to that of a hickory nut, shaped something like an acorn, only it is longer and not so thick. I asked him how to spell it and he said, "H——l, I don't know."

Just A Stenog.

Wake-Line: In my home town of Pine Village, Ind., the chinquapin, a dwarf chestnut of the United States (castanea pumila), was referred to as a "pin oak" because of the innumerable pins or knotty growths buried throughout the trunk. Almost impossible to split for firewood, consequently looked upon with disfavor by most Hoosiers, though edible notwithstanding. Hoosiers will eat anything, but I never saw one gourmandizing on chinquapins.

Prof. E. A. Gady.

Harvey: It's first cousin to an acorn. It grows on a dwarf oak tree. If you have an acorn and a chinquapin and can't tell the difference, put them in a squirrel cage, but don't go in yourself. If there's one left, it won't be a chinquapin.

AVOID COMPLICATIONS.

Wake-Line: Here at the U. S. Naval hospital at San Diego, Cal., a Filipino was not expected to live and his next of kin was notified of the seriousness of his illness. In reply came this telegram from the cousin who had been notified: "Don't die before Saturday. Coming see Saturday. Answer if dies."

TWO ARMS.

Two arms at the journey's end!
Will they be yours, my dear?
I want not ever a friend,
Only to have you near.

All ships must sink at last;
Two arms at the journey's end!
Will yours hold me fast?

E. Leslie Spaulding.

THEY PUT A LOOSE BANDAGE on the foreleg of Malolo, favorite, at Hawthorne Monday and he lost by a nose. A word to the wise is sufficient. Next time we try to improve the breed of thoroughbreds we're going to take the field glasses and look for loose bandages. There must have been some pretty poor bandaging on several nags we fancied at Arlington and Washington Park.

SAFETY FIRST.

Harvey: Did'yer see where a Rockford man ran out of gas in Oak Park and when he returned with a supply he couldn't find his car and hasn't found it yet? That's why I always take the wife along, Harvey, to stay in the car when I run out of gas.

Amos Rusty of Rockford.

MORE ON SAME SUBJECT.

Wake-Line: Of course you remember that soap ad showing the two little girls and one's mother had used a certain brand of soap and the other wished hers had. Yesterday a young person was riding through the park on a bicycle and she was dressed or vice versa—but what I started to tell you was that old one about the young lady who sent her red flannel underskirt to be laundered and when it came back it looked like a coral necklace. Those were the halcyon days. Why, in these times it is difficult if not impossible to pin a joke on the modern girl.

Wake-Line: In New York a fish market had music played to stimulate sales. The selection that made people rush up to buy was "Mighty Lak a Rose." Maybe the folks thought the fish wouldn't be hard to wash off the plates or something. Anyhow, it's true; I read it in the paper.

DRUG ADDICTION.

THOSE who have read De Quincey's "Confessions of an English Opium Eater," first published in 1822, will recall his lurid picture of the emotional heights and depths supplied by opium, the craving for the larger and larger dose, the deepening of the depths, the shortening of the periods of exaltation, and the utter physical and mental collapse of the victim when deprived of the drug. During his periods of exaltation De Quincey said, "Thou hast the keys to paradise, O, just, subtle, and mighty opium," but in describing the pains of opium he said, "I seemed every night to descend into chasms and sunless abysses, depths below depths, from which it seemed hopeless that I could ever reascend." There is no picture of greater power in all literature.

Few beginners in the use of drugs believe that they will ever become addicts. With normal self-control a single dose need not be repeated, but too often one dose leads to another, the individual seeking a new sensory thrill.

There are myriads of drug addicts in the United States, and among the number will be found representatives of all classes. While all addicts do not belong to the criminal class, sooner or later, under the drive of the drug, the addict will resort to any expedient to satisfy his craving. Drug addicts are moral delinquents, as they have usually become so dulled to the sense of responsibility that in the last analysis there is little left upon which to climb back to normalcy.

It is easy to obtain habit forming drugs if one desires them. In nearly every city will be found a coterie of drug sellers, and if one has the money drugs can be purchased. One-third of the cases that reach hospitals for drug treatment, or that come to hospitals for some other reason and are there found to be victims of the drug habit, are under 23 years of age. Drug addicts, on the average, do not live long. They are easy victims of infection; they forget to eat, drugs frequently replacing food. Bad hygiene spells for most of them an early death.

A habit followed for several years cannot be broken by a few months of abstinence. Damage that has been sustained by the nervous system must have time for rebuilding and compensation. The physical and moral resistance of the individual has been weakened, and on what appears to be slight provocation he may return to the drug. One fighting to recover from drug addiction must have the help of friends and relatives so that resistance to the drug shall be powerfully reinforced.

The Harrison narcotic law has done much to prevent the sale of habit forming drugs except when prescribed by a physician. It has not, however, been able to stop the smuggling of drugs into this country and their sale by clandestine dealers. For the saving of tens of thousands of American youth in the years to come, surreptitious drug sales must be greatly curtailed. To this end effective federal law enforcement is a necessity.

Treatment of early drug addiction is usually followed by satisfactory results. To one who finds himself a slave to any drug, frank and free confession to his physician will usually secure full coöperation and appropriate treatment. With opium and cocaine, unless the drug has been taken to the point of extreme physical deterioration, salvage is possible. The well known belladonna treatment has met with much success in the hands of careful physicians.

UNDER SEVERAL NAMES.

E. C. W. writes: What is hyperthyroidism? Is it another name for Graves' disease? Is it chronic or a functional disorder of the heart? What is the best treatment for it?

REPLY.

Hyperthyroidism is also known as Graves' disease, exophthalmic goiter, toxic goiter, etc. The symptoms are caused by an excessive and probably abnormal secretion of the thyroid gland. There is a marked increase in the oxygen consumption of the cells of the body. The sympathetic nervous system is disturbed and the heart may be very rapid, beating 120 to 140 per minute or even at a higher rate. It is not a disease of the heart, although the heart may be affected and may show enlargement. The best treatment is removal of the thyroid gland following a careful preparation of the patient.

IT IS POSSIBLE.

R. H. writes: 1. Is it possible for a young girl who has contracted pulmonary tuberculosis to completely regain her health and be able to live and work in the city?

2. How long will it take for her to recover?

REPLY.

1. Yes, under good management.

2. Recovery may occur in a year. It may take longer. Coöperation of the patient is most essential. Patients are generally "impatients." One must never try to hurry recovery from tuberculosis.

DEEDS TO PROPERTY.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am the owner of several lots at an Indiana lake resort. I have paid for the lots and received a deed of title to them, but never had the deed recorded. Some one either took the deeds or I lost them. 1. How could I prove ownership to these lots? 2. The firm from which I purchased the lots has gone into receivership.

W. H.

1. One way would be by securing a new quitclaim from your vender. If the original deed to you were recorded, then the present loss is unimportant.

2. It is nearly always advisable for a purchaser of real estate to employ an attorney throughout, and we advise you to employ one now.

SETTLEMENT OF ESTATE.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Just what length of time does the law in Illinois allow the executor of a will in the Probate court to settle the estate after the will is filed? It is a year now since the will was filed and no report has been made to the heirs except that the [2] executor told one of them he did not want to sell the securities now because of the low market.

H. O.

1. Creditors are allowed a year in which to file their claims. Ordinarily estates should be settled shortly after that year.

2. It seems probable that the estate might be closed upon a distribution in kind without selling the assets.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ESTATE PROBATE.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Does a will made by a husband, naming the wife sole legatee, have to be probated if the will is in a bank deposit box accessible only to the husband? I understand that upon the death of the husband in this case the deposit box would be sealed by the state. 2. What then happens to the contents? 3. Would the state probate the will?

S. K.

1. Depends upon whether he can reduce the assets to possession and satisfy future purchasers of real estate without probate.

2. There will be an inheritance tax examination, after which the box will be released.

3. No, except that if the matter comes to the attention of the public administrator and the assets are sufficient to make the prospect remunerative he will be likely to muscle in.

CLAIMS AGAINST ESTATE.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Please tell me how long after a person's death the estate of deceased is settled and [2] whether all bills are paid before that time. 3. Does one have to go to the Probate court to present a bill for the care of the deceased before death?

G. M.

1. The Illinois statute allows creditors a year after the commencement of probate proceedings in which to file their claims.

2. Obviously some creditors may fail to file their claims.

3. Yes, if you wish to force matters.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand.—Plaster casts of ancient inscriptions held to have been made by the Chinese 2,000 years ago during some Pacific migration are treasured possessions of Hartley F. Bogle, fellow of the Royal Geological society and famed explorer, who has just returned from extensive researches into remote islands.

Bogle has been working on archæology in the Pacific for three years and has visited eighty of the larger islands and 150 of the smaller and lesser known ones. For twenty-five years he has been doing field work, collecting facts bearing on the problems he is studying.

Bogle finds a lesson for western civilization in the fact that many other races have spread over the wide Pacific and then have disappeared. The reasons for the decline of these races are many, Bogle says, but the principal factor in their fall was the fact that they forgot or ignored "the ordinary principles of life and conduct without which no human being can maintain his position in such climates as that of the great ocean."

His chief work in this latest cruise has been to collect what evidence remains of the old occupants of the "summer isles of Eden" who went there from Indo-China, Africa, and Arabia and died out, leaving their imprint on the culture of the islanders. It may be found today in their folklore, customs, carvings, fortifications, and art.

Standing up to his chin in water, Bogle took a photograph of an ancient inscription in Yasawa Island, and when this was examined by archæologists in America and Britain the date of the writing was set at 2,000 years ago. On his newest island cruise Bogle took equipment enabling him to make closer inspection of a mystery cave, and, after taking a special course in plaster cast making, managed to make casts of the writings to send them to museums in the United States and England.

At the extreme north of Yasawa Island Bogle discovered what is claimed to be the most wonderful carved figure yet located in the Pacific. A man nursing a child on his crossed knees was perfectly represented. The group, which is 50 feet high, was found in a cave.

"It was known that the Chinese came through the Pacific 1,000 years ago," Bogle said. "My recent discoveries show that we can add another 1,000 years to the time when they first came into the great ocean."

THE TRIBUNE HATERS' CLUB.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Mr. Orr's cartoon in today's Tribune showing Gen. Crack-Down Johnson as a new member of the Tribune Haters' club gave me quite a kick. Some years ago I belonged to this club. I have, however, since March 4, 1933, been brought to the light and have tendered to it my resignation.

Erwin Baumbruck.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Your paper sure has a lot of nerve to print the cartoon that appeared in this morning's issue of The Tribune.

I wonder whether you can take it. I doubt it. It seems that every article you print is in favor of your stinking policies. I've yet to see an article that attacks your principles appear in the column that should be called Voice of the Chosen Articles. I've written a number of articles that were against your policies and principles and I am asking you, were they printed? No, they were not printed. Why don't you folks wake up and lend a hand to help things along instead of being the loggerheads that you are? You used to print an excerpt by Stephen Decatur: "My country, right or wrong." Whatever happened to that?

Wake up; it isn't too late.

Max Margolis.

FAVORABLE COMMENT.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 3.—We read your paper every day and we want to comment very favorably upon your efforts, first, for publishing all the world-wide news, and, second, for publishing facts, and also your independent views on political and economic questions, which at the present time are contrary to public opinion.

We are banking a lot upon the press in leading us out of the woods, and we are hoping against hope that the present group of politicians who are trying to control everything will not be able to stifle the freedom of the press.

We believe that we hear more favorable comments about the articles and editorials appearing in your newspaper today than we have heard in our experience. The business men who make the wheels of industry go around and the thinking people are reading these editorials, while the politicians and those who are working the government for all they can are whooping it up for the present administration without doing very much reading. It is becoming more and more evident that the bubble will burst and when it does there will be a loud report.

We saw something in your paper yesterday which we consider a sign of the times. The announcement was made that Mr. H. C. Horneman of Danville, Ill., was elected the new treasurer of the Republican central committee. We know Mr. Horneman as a competitor and not as a politician. We are glad to see a business man of his caliber in the political arena, because business men too generally have not placed the significance upon politics which they should. It is apparent now that unless business men generally get into politics sufficiently to express their views they won't be in business very long.

MAYBE!

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Is there any truth to the rumor that Ma Smitty was cracked down on by Gen. Johnson for making her jam at home and having Herbie and Smitty helping her? That is the real reason for them all going back to the country?

IDLE WORDS!

Chicago, Aug. 3.—"Nothing in this act and no regulation thereunder shall prevent an individual from pursuing the vocation of manual labor and selling or trading the products thereof; nor shall anything in this act, or regulation thereunder, prevent any one from marketing or trading the produce of his farm."

This is a quotation from the National Industrial Recovery act. It can be readily found under title 1, section 5. Evidently it was tacked on as a second thought by some one who foresaw the possibility of an incident arising such as is illustrated by the action of the NRA authority in the case of Mrs. Budd.

I am not a lawyer. Therefore the phraseology of the above quotation clearly conveys to my mind the thought that when congress enacted this law it reserved the right to work and earn a living, regardless of what a nonrepresentative gathering of conniving code makers may decide.

I trust this will cause a run on the document printing department at Washington.

TO THE PARENTS OF A FOUNDLING.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—To the mother and father of the blue eyed baby boy who laid your baby under my kitchen window the last evening of July, 1934, I wish to say when Lenore Bloom, my neighbor, aged 26, and I, aged 62, approached that little mite with my flashlight, our emotions were so stirred that Miss Bloom was crying and I was all but crying.

We do not know who you are, but your act was watched by your Creator, and unless you both repent of your sins against God and that little soul you will go to hell [the lake of unquenchable fire] where your spirits will burn forever and your conscience will never cease troubling you, and you will be tortured by the devil, your master.

May God lead you both to the foot of the cross, where Jesus' blood will cleanse you whiter than the snow.

Thomas C. Fletcher.

AN EYEFUL.

Berwyn, Ill., Aug. 3.—The cartoon in this morning's Tribune is just about the most ridiculous one you ever printed, and that's saying plenty.

Even people like you that go around with one eye closed to the good and the other open to the evil of the present administration ought to be able to see the improvement in conditions made in the last seventeen months. Of course, Mr. Roosevelt didn't promise us prosperity in sixty days, as Mr. Hoover did when he was in office, but he did promise us a New Deal, and that's what we're getting. He also kept his promise to repeal the 18th amendment, which was something your paper had been unsuccessfully advocating for a long time. You talk about the die-hard drys; what about the die-hard Republicans?

Mrs. Kathryn Anderson.

SOMETHING TO WONDER ABOUT.

Marshalltown, Ia., Aug. 2.—I have often wondered what reaction would take place if Roosevelt would have taken the platform of his party and some of his speeches made on his campaign trip across the country during the last presidential campaign.

RECORDS 'BURIED' FOR $1 AT INDIANA "MARRIAGE MILL"

Crown Point Licenses Cost $7.50.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Many reasons are given by citizens of Crown Point, Ind., on why their town attracts so many Chicagoans and other outsiders who want to get married. More than 500 licenses were issued there in July. One of the reasons is the ease with which the licenses are "buried" so they will not be made public.

"It is true that we will bury the couple's names for a dollar so they will not appear on the regular record," said Chief Deputy Walter R. Mybeck, who explained he was speaking for his superior, George Sweigart, clerk of Lake county. "That charge is just for the extra trouble and expense entailed in bookkeeping.

"We will tell the local reporters if they want to know, but we also tell them why the names are buried. They never violate our confidence, and so no publicity is given to the so-called buried licenses."

Have Choice of Publicity.

One of the routine questions asked in the clerk's office, according to the Rev. H. Oscar Stevens, a minister without a church who has established a flat and marrying parlor above a fruit store opposite the rear entrance to the courthouse, is: "Do you wish this kept out of the newspapers?" Last Saturday two of the eight couples he married had had their licenses "buried," he said. He declared this was done only when the parties advanced sound reasons.

When the report that licenses (with certificates included) cost $7.50 after the official 5 o'clock closing hour of the courthouse until midnight, and $10 from midnight on, could not be verified at County Clerk Sweigart's office, a reporter sat in the lobby of the courthouse at 8:30 oclock last Saturday night. While Deputy Clerk Harold Hyer issued a license to one couple, another couple seated themselves on a bench in the corridor.

"It sure costs a lot to get married in this town," the young bridegroom-to-be said dejectedly. "I stopped over at the justice of the peace's office and he said he'd charge me $5 to get married. Wonder how much this license will cost."

Unable to Pay $7.50.

Soon he went into the clerk's office and later emerged to tell the reporter that he could not pay the $7.50 demanded for the license.

"I told 'em I'd pay $5, but they said I couldn't get it for less than $7.50," he said.

He was talking to the reporter, and giving his name as C. T. Anderson of 2121 West Gladys street, Chicago, and his girl's as Alice Heisner, 2309 West Van Buren street, Chicago, when a little man who had been advising them that they "couldn't get a license for less anywhere in Indiana" came up. He told the reporter that it was "against the rules" to question the couple there. He identified himself as Fred Murray, village constable and a deputy sherif.

Murray, who in his duties as deputy constable works out of the office of Justice of the Peace Howard [Spot] Kemp, then reported to Deputy Clerk Hyer, who left the building and soon returned with Chief Deputy Clerk Mybeck, who politely ushered the reporter out and turned off the lights.

Later in the evening Hyer returned for duty in the building and issued a license to Anderson and his sweetheart for $7.50.

When Chief Deputy Sherif Carroll Holley was asked if he had a deputy by the name of Fred Murray, he said he had not and that he had assigned no deputy to the courthouse.

Minister Advertises.

The Rev. Mr. Stevens advertises by signs in a car parked in front of the courthouse, "Like mother—get married by a minister," and asserts he will issue certificates free of charge.

They are the same sunburst ornamented variety issued at the courthouse and cost 10 cents each wholesale, he says. Justice of the Peace Kemp and his associates content themselves with a few signs on their second floor offices.

Up one flight of stairs, over a drug store on the main street facing the elm surrounded courthouse in the town's square, a door marked "Marriage Parlor" opens into a room filled with ancient leather chairs and dusty furniture over which Justice Kemp presides.

The other two justices of the peace, John R. Krost and Harvey Minas, have joined Kemp in his office.

"This Upstart Preacher."

"You see, it's like this," said Justice Kemp affably, resting his small hands on his considerable stomach. "We've got a sort of syndicate here, and this upstart preacher, Stevens, comes in and tries to run things. Anyway, in other years the other two justices and myself always had what you might call a silent partnership. They was employed then. Now they're not, so they come in with me.

"We relieve each other, and have a 24 hour shift. We keep open until midnight, and then we leave instructions on the door how to call us, and one of us will come down any hour of the night. We act in relays."

He refused to allow examination of his records or reveal how many couples he had married last month or last year.

"I always tell the reporters some big figure, and they use it," he said. "All of them around here know how to handle a story. Now don't play up the money. You know how to play that down, don't you?" he said in his oily tone. "And be sure to emphasize that we're open day and night, and that in 15 minutes a couple can stop here and be married."

NATIONAL GUARDSMEN MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR CHICAGO MARCH

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Every unit of the 9,000 Illinois National Guard troops quartered at Camp Grant took the field today under a blazing sun to prepare for battle maneuvers and their march next week on Chicago.

Artillerymen drilled on the level acres of Bell bowl, while infantrymen and machine gunners drilled on the central parade ground. The anti-aircraft regiment unlimbered its guns for public drills tonight and special troops attended to their specialized duties of operating ambulances, caring for ordnance details, and receiving and sending radio messages.

The 108th observation squadron took to the air early this morning despite a mist which lowered visibility for a time. Sidney Allen, parachute jumper of the squadron, staged his 28th jump from a plane piloted by Maj. Merril D. Mann to land within 100 feet of the spot he had picked on the air field.

Divisional wrestling and boxing tournaments will open Wednesday night.

AIRPORT CHIEF, STUDENT DIE IN GALESBURG CRASH

Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Dan Terry, 35, manager of the municipal airport here, and Eric Hertslet, 30, of Abingdon, a student flyer, were killed when their plane crashed in a pasture tonight.

Attendants at the flying field said the plane circled the field at 500 feet as if intending to land. It did not seem to be in trouble at that time. An investigation will be conducted by R. L. Stevens of Davenport, federal inspector.

The plane had dual controls. It was standing upright after the accident but the cockpit was smashed. Hertslet was manager of the art division of the Abingdon pottery. Terry was a world war flyer and had been manager of the local airport for several years.

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Irving Kessel of Dorchester, Mass., a student at Spartan school of avation here, was killed today when the training ship in which he was stunting stripped its wings in a power dive and hurtled about 1,000 feet to the ground.

MARCONI ADAPTS MICRO-WAVES TO RADIO PICTURES

SANTA MARGHERITA LIGURE, Italy, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Following successful demonstrations of his "radio lighthouse" here a week ago, Senator Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor, is engaged in secret experiments reported to involve application of the recently controled micro-waves to television.

Friends of the inventor said the tiny waves are expected to increase the speed and ease of radio transmission of images so greatly that transmission of pictures of objects in motion will be put on a practical basis.

Micro-waves, 60 centimeters in length, already have been placed to a limited practical use in wireless telephony and telegraphy. Pope Pius, from his summer retreat at Castel Gandolfo, is in daily contact with the Vatican by means of micro-wave plants installed by Marconi. The micro-waves are employed by Marconi's "radio lighthouse" which makes it possible to pilot ships through dense fog.

DOUARNENEZ, France, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The captains of 130 fishing boats today threw more than 1,000,000 sardines back into the sea in an effort to maintain a price of 6 cents a pound. They had rejected an offer of 5¼ cents.

SHOT TO DEATH AS HE TRIES TO RESIST ROBBER

Clark Richard Duffy, 24 years old, 2213 North Central Park avenue, was shot and killed yesterday by a robber who tried to hold him up just after he had cashed several checks in the Mid-City National bank, Madison and Halsted streets. The robber fled empty handed after the shooting.

Duffy was assistant cashier for Karsten & Sons company, wholesale poultry dealers at 1100 Fulton street. Simon Karsten, president of the concern, said that Duffy had gone to the bank to cash the checks of several employés. He had just entered his automobile, parked near the bank, when the robber appeared.

Edward Rachner, 3004 Loomis street, a witness to the shooting, said that as the robber approached, Duffy leaned back as if to reach for an object in the rear compartment of his automobile. Thereupon, Rachner said, the robber fired one shot and fled.

Beside Duffy's body was found a briefcase containing the money from the checks, about $70. In the rear compartment was found an automobile wrench. Police believe that Duffy was reaching for the wrench as a weapon when he was shot.

GOV. LEHMAN ENTERS FIELD FOR RE-ELECTION

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman tonight formally announced his candidacy for reëlection.

He said he had desired to return to private life at the end of his present term next December, but that he had consented to seek a second term at the request of "friends."

"If the people of the state regard my experience and training as of continuing value to them at this time, I shall consider it a privilege to serve them again," he said.

He added he could not return to private life "with a perfectly clear conscience" as long as the state was faced with so many economic and social problems.

DRAINAGE BOARD OPENS BIDS FOR LOCKPORT PLANT

$547,000 New Equipment to Be Installed.

Bids for the rehabilitation of the Lockport power plant of the sanitary district were opened yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the drainage board. The project is to be completed within a year at an estimated cost of $547,200.

PHILIP HARRINGTON.

The Lockport plant was built in 1906 and at that time was the most modern unit of its kind in the country. After 28 years of service the equipment has become obsolete and the cost of keeping it in good condition has become excessive, according to Chief Engineer Philip Harrington.

$205,000 Borrowed from U. S.

Under the rehabilitation program the drainage board contemplates installation of two 8,500 horse power and two 220 horse power hydroelectric turbines. About 30 per cent of the cost is to be met by a grant of $205,000 from the Public Works administration.

Seven electric manufacturing companies presented bids for the construction of the units, which are to cost about $400,000. Approximately $150,000 will be spend later in awarding contracts for installation of the units, which will not be ready until six months after the contracts are awarded.

The bids received yesterday were turned over to Chief Engineer Harrington and Joshua D'Esposito, PWA project engineer, who attended the meeting, for analysis. Because bidders made separate bids on the turbine wheels and generators of the units, the engineers said they will not be able to make recommendations for several days.

$505,000 Contract Awarded.

The board awarded a contract of $505,678 to the Commonwealth Improvement company for the building of west side intercepting sewer No. 10. The sewer is to be built along the east bank on the north branch of the Chicago river from Kinzie street to North avenue.

Construction will start on the project within three weeks, said Chief Engineer Harrington. When work begins on this project, he said, the district will be developing 20 miles of intercepting sewers in the city and suburbs.

At the request of President Thomas Bowler the engineering department submitted a report on the proposed sewer at Oak Forest. This project was twice turned down by the PWA engineers. President Bowler said he hoped to win approval for the project if the federal government authorizes the loaning of an additional $10,000,000 to the district. The district to date has borrowed $42,000,000 from th government.

REP. SHOEMAKER PAYS FINE THUS ESCAPING CELL

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Congressman Francis H. Shoemaker [Farmer-Labor, Minn.] is not going to the workhouse for 30 days.

He appeared before Municipal Judge Fred B. Wright here today and paid his fine of $75 with a check drawn on the sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives, made payable to O. H. Hanson, clerk of Minneapolis Municipal court.

According to advices from Washington this procedure is in accordance with a long established practice by house members. Under a rule adopted by the house many years ago, a member is allowed to draw as much as three months salary in advance, provided his term does not expire within that time. Shoemaker's term expires on Jan. 2, 1935.

REVENGE MOTIVE INVESTIGATED IN MYSTERY DEATH

A possible revenge motive was seen by the police in the mysterious death of Frank Sengrad, 50 years old, 125 South Halsted street, whose trussed-up body was washed ashore from the lake near Michigan City yesterday. The wrists and ankles were bound with bandana handkerchiefs and a white scarf was wrapped tightly about the neck.

The revenge motive was suggested when the Chicago police recalled that on July 21 Sengrad reported he was robbed of $300 at Madison and La Salle streets. The victim had been given a pass to attend the police show-up in an attempt to identify the thief. One theory is that the thief or his friends may have slain Sengrad.

U. S. Flyers Photograph 8,829 Sq. Miles in a Day

Fairbanks, Alaska, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Col. Henry Arnold, commanding the army bombers engaged on an Alaskan photographic mission, said today he believed a world's record was established Sunday, when his planes photographed 8,829 square miles of territory, accomplishing more in one day than could be done in a month by old methods.

GAUDY DISPLAYS ALL WRONG, CITY MERCHANTS TOLD

Service Greatest Need, Convention Hears.

David Ovens, a retail store manager from Charlotte, N. C., told Chicago merchants yesterday that the usual selling methods here and elsewhere are all wrong. As the principal speaker before the convention luncheon gathering of the Interstate Merchants' council at the Hotel Sherman, he criticized the elaborate displays of merchandise. The emphasis, he asserted, ought to be in the selling service across the counter.

More than 700 merchants from 34 states attended the luncheon.

Among the loop department store officials who sat at the speakers' table in the grand ballroom of the hotel were Paul Fleer, president of the Davis store; Vice Presidents F. H. Scott and Bruce MacLeish of Carson Pirie Scott & Co.; Vice Presidents George W. Young and D. M. Yates of Marshall Field & Co.; Marvin B. Pool, vice president of Butler Brothers, and T. J. Reed, manager of the Merchandise Mart.

Sales Resistance "Bunk."

Mr. Ovens, vice president and general manager of the J. B. Ivey company at Charlotte, was introduced by F. H. Van Allen of Clinton, Ia., newly elected president of the merchants' body.

Mr. Ovens bluntly declared that store officials ought to learn what customers want to buy. He characterized as "all foolishness" such mercantile worries as "sales resistance" and similar bogeys.

He attacked administrative methods, for example, describing the big store controler as a "modern iniquity."

"It's all foolishness to make a simple thing complex," declared Mr. Ovens. "The things that make a retail store successful have been done for thousands of years.

Give Them What They Want.

"Sell what your customers want to buy. Don't buy stuff you've got to keep five years to find out your customers don't want it. Persons here are looking superciliously at me, but you're dumb and don't know it. Am I talking too plain, Mr. President?"

A total of 4,127 representatives have registered for the convention, which is to continue through the week. A number of style shows are being staged by the convention officials in collaboration with the Chicago Association of Commerce.

A fur coat style show is being held daily at the State-Lake theater under the auspices of the Associated Fur Industries of Chicago. Styles displayed by models range from the most expensive mink and ermine down to the less costly lapin and kidskin.

LISTS WRONG LAWYER AS DISBARRED, SO BEGS HIS PARDON

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Through confusion in initials, the Bar Association of New York carried on the disbarred list the name of Walter E. Coe, against whom no charges had been made, while Walter R. Coe actually had been disbarred after conviction of a felony committed in New Jersey. Walter E. Coe was a corporation lawyer, who, discovering the mistake after his retirement, received an apology after an investigation had been made on his demand.

The trouble arose when Walter R. Coe after his release from prison, dropped his middle initial and took up practice in New York. Some years later, John Licata, owner of a fruit store, filed a complaint with the grievance committee of the New York Bar association. That organization's secretary took up the matter, discovering the New Jersey case, which occurred in 1915.

Looking up the name Coe, the secretary found that of Walter E. Coe, and sent a letter to the address supplied by Licata. A reply came back signed Walter E. Coe. It later was discovered that Walter R. Coe, then practicing simply as Walter Coe had signed that letter. But for three years the list of disbarred lawyers in New York carried the name Walter E. Coe.

PRESS U. S. QUIZ INTO INCOME OF JIMMY WALKER

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—The John Doe investigation into the income of former Mayor James J. Walker, now in its fifteenth month, is still "very much alive" with Assistant United States Attorney James J. Walsh, formerly an aid to Samuel Seabury, in charge, it was learned today.

The inquiry is being pressed without fanfare and with every effort to avoid publicity until, and if, it reaches a culmination. But it was learned today that on July 31 Russell T. Sherwood, former financial mentor to Walker, made an appearance at the federal building and was taken quietly before the present grand jury.

United States Attorney Martin Conboy declined to say anything when told today of a rumor that the grand jury would "act very soon." The fact that data are constantly being added to that already in the government's possession on the Walker proceedings was confirmed today.

Killed in Suicide Leap After He Beats Mother

Frank Greeley, 45 years old, 7023 North Paulina street, committed suicide yesterday by leaping from a window of his third floor apartment shortly after policemen had entered to arrest him for beating his mother, Mrs. Frances Greeley, 63 years old.

U. S. FIGHTERS GO TO CANADA'S AID IN FOREST FIRE

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 7.—(AP)—American forest fire fighters rushed into British Columbia today to help fight a blaze that threatened to spread across the boundary to the vicinity of Metaline Falls, Wash.

The American crew of 180 men will tackle the blaze at the east end in an attempt to head it off, leaving other fronts to the Canadian fighters.

EX-DAVENPORT MAN FOUND DEAD.

Davenport, Ia., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Henry Zimmerman, 43, of Beatrice, Neb., a former resident of Davenport, was found dead in the garage at the home of Walter Bischoff, where he was visiting. Death was due to asphyxiation by carbon monoxide gas. It is believed he committed suicide.

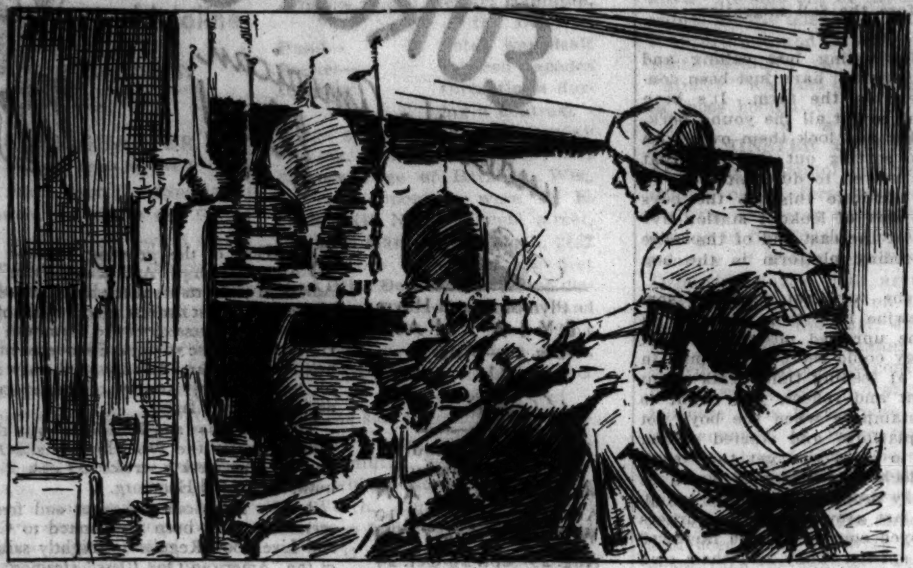
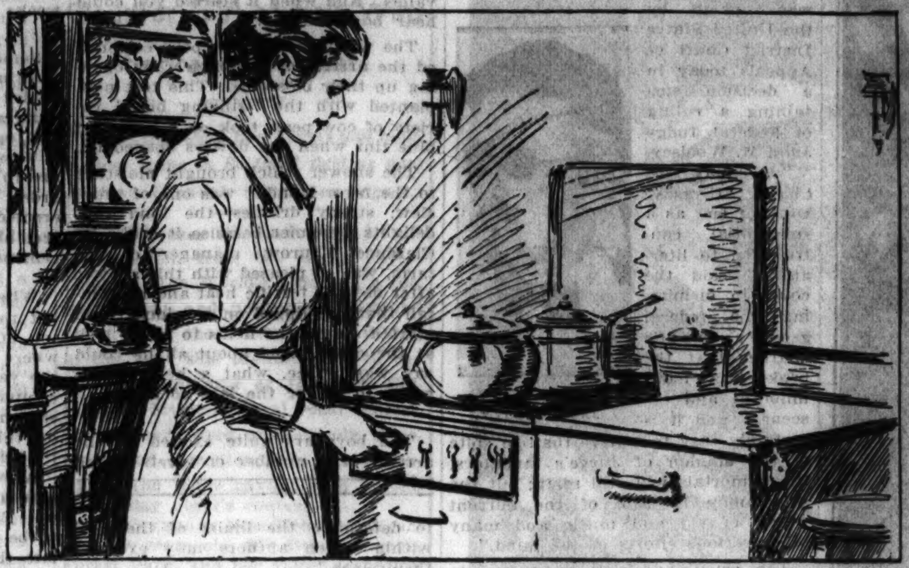
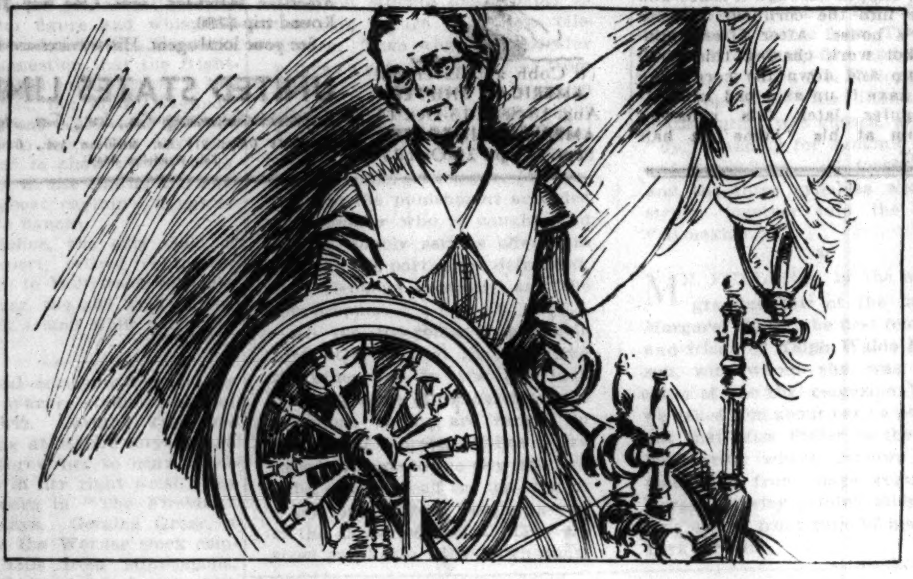
THE CHANGING WORLD



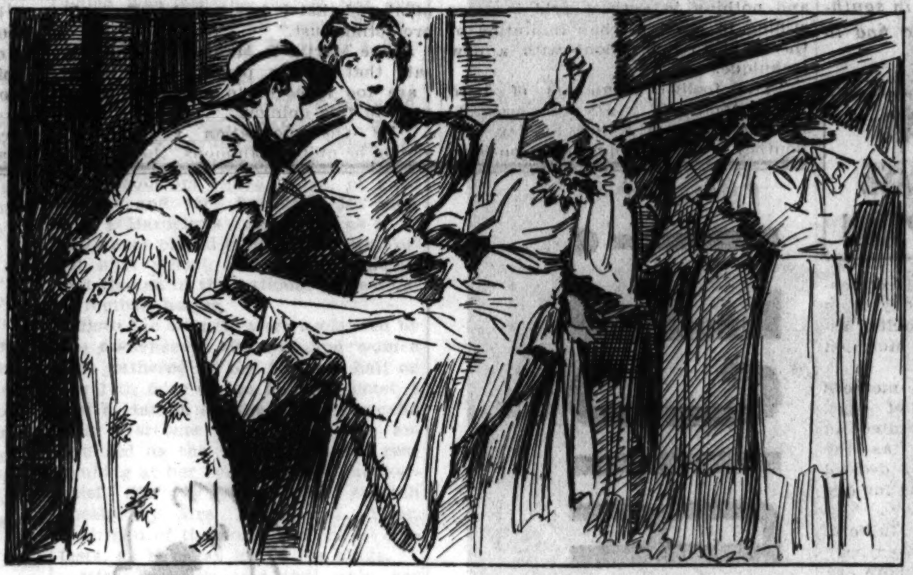
Not many years ago the open hearth was the kitchen range, the furnace and the lighting fixture all in one. What a hardship preparing a meal used to be!



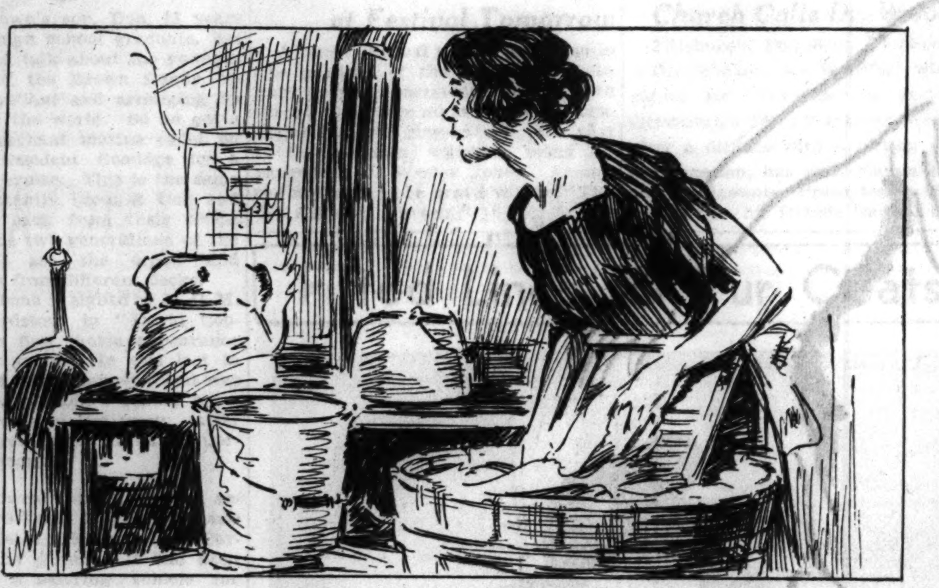
A woman's workshop is her kitchen. Now, with the wonderful improvements of the past few years, hours spent in the kitchen are a pleasure.



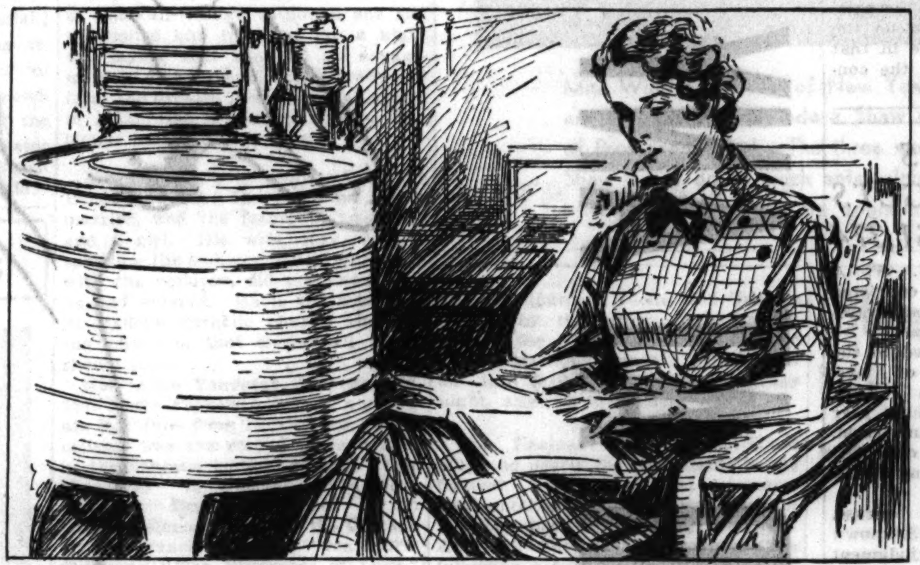
Carding, combing, spinning, hours of monotony spent behind a droning wheel. This was the schedule when a member of the family needed new clothes.



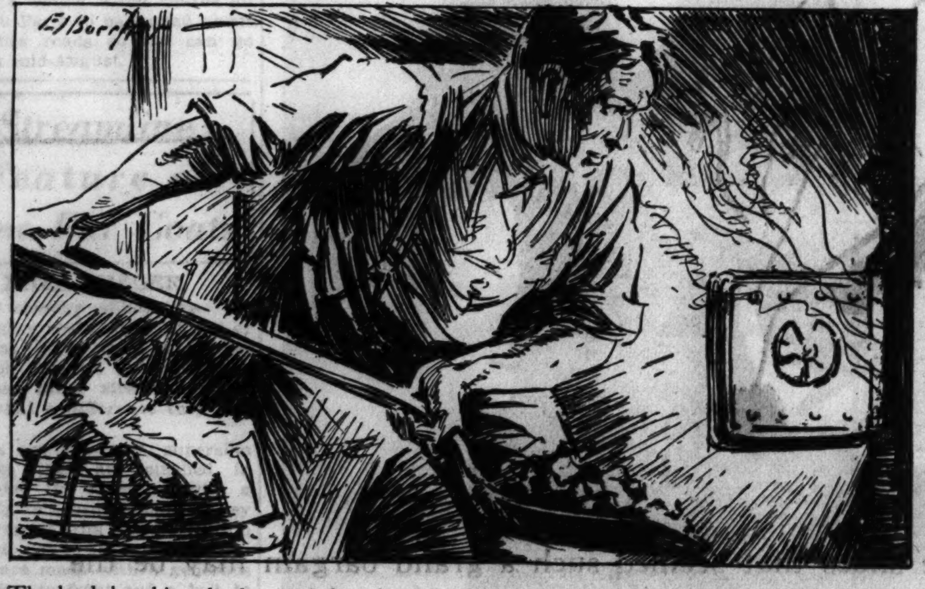
What a change! Hundreds, thousands of beautiful, smart creations are at the disposal of the modern woman who is in need of new clothing.



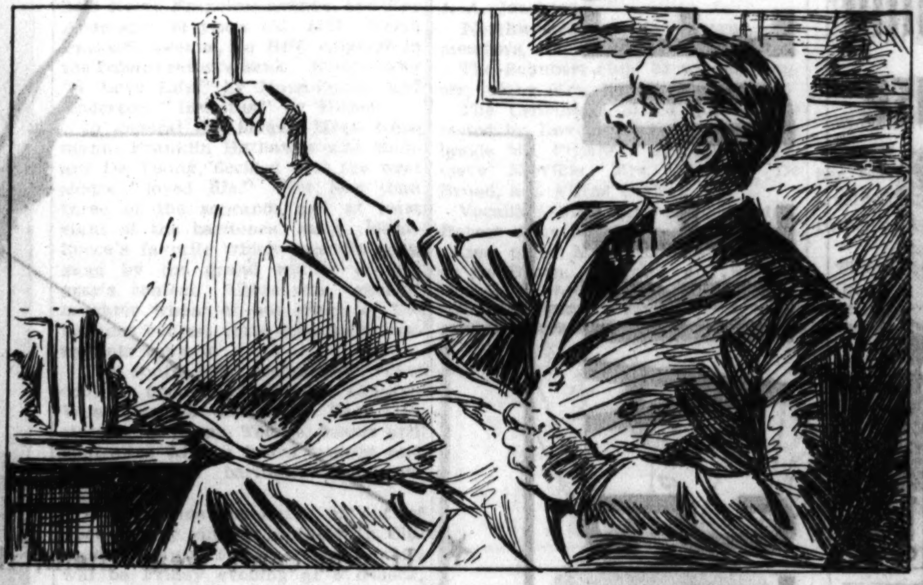
Washday used to bring aching arms, tired backs, frayed nerves. The average family wash took two days of arduous toil.



How much simpler washday has become! In a few hours, with the help of modern appliances, laundry is done easily, leaving many hours for leisure.



The back-breaking drudgery of shoveling, the waste of energy, the countless worries of the old-fashioned furnace used to be a part of daily living.



But Today! No more dirt, soot or dusty ashes. No more trouble. Clean, reliable gas heat is practical for every home. Set a little thermostat and the winter's work is done.

Today..

Gas heat brings another joy to comfortable living

● How much easier, how much more enjoyable living has become since the advent of the automobile, the telephone, the gas range, the labor-saving household appliances. Modern devices, regarded as absolute necessities today, once were looked upon as merely new-fangled ideas that cost too much to be practical. But their widespread acceptance, their undeniable advantages, swept aside every possible objection. Gas heat is proving every day to more than 20,000 users that it is a practical, reliable and acceptable method of heating. You may be told that gas heat costs too much. The argument of cost has always been offered, as a last resort, when all other arguments have failed to convince. It was so in the case of the automobile, the vacuum cleaner, the gas range, the washing machine. Of course automatic gas heat costs more. But gas heat offers so much more, makes so many savings in money and labor, that it cannot be compared to ordinary heating methods.

Gas heat is absolutely clean, efficient

No furnace firing. No shoveling. No back-breaking toil of hauling ashes. And then, there is no expensive cleaning and redecorating to do when soot, dirt and dust cover walls and woodwork, seep into curtains and rugs, ruin expensive hangings. Gas heat needs no attention. No running up and down stairs to fix the furnace. All you do is set a little thermostat on the wall. The heat comes up quickly, keeps the house uniformly warm throughout.

Get the facts on gas heat now

We want you to learn the countless pleasures gas heat will bring to your home. Here is our liberal proposition. We will install gas heat at our expense, remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. You invest nothing to try it. Not one cent for equipment. We will install a burner in your present boiler or furnace. You pay only the rental for the burner, which amounts to $3 a month, for 9 heating months, in the average home. This charge is included with the bill for the gas you use. You try it for one month, two months, a year. If within a year you are not completely satisfied, we will take it out at our expense and replace your former heating equipment in good workmanlike order. But if you decide to keep gas heat—as 20,000 others have done—the rental you have paid applies on the purchase price of the equipment. Get the facts now. Call your local gas office for details.

YOU INVEST NOTHING

To Try Gas Heat!

Gas heat can be installed without your investing one cent for equipment. To prove that every home can now afford to heat with gas, we'll install it at our expense—remove it at our expense, if you don't like it. Accept this startling offer. Phone your nearest gas office TODAY.

GAS SERVICE CHOSEN FOR ITS CONVENIENCE

So convenient and cheap is gas service that it has come to be considered a necessity in every Chicago home. Few Chicagoans, in fact, can remember when they didn't have gas to make living more comfortable.

This acceptance of a convenience as a necessity may obscure the fact that the use of gas service is a matter entirely up to the individual customer. Gas service is chosen voluntarily, not thrust upon anyone. It is chosen because it is the ideal way to cook, to heat water, to run a refrigerator, or to keep the house warm.

The extent to which gas service is used is also a matter of choice with the individual customer. In spite of the fact that the company is obligated to serve every customer with all the gas he wants, any time, there is no corresponding obligation on the customer's part to use any stated amount.

Whether or not to use gas service is entirely a matter for a customer to decide. Close to 800,000 individual customers, representing nearly every Chicago home, use gas for its convenience and economy.

WEATHER TESTS PLANNED IN MOVE TO CURE ASTHMA

Will Observe Effect of Storms on Sufferers.

Experiments to determine whether electrical changes in the air during storms are a cause of asthmatic attacks were announced yesterday by Dr. William H. Welker, head of the physiological chemistry department of the University of Illinois college of medicine in Chicago. The experiments, in each of which ten women will be used as subjects, will begin Aug. 15 at the medical college's research hospital, 1819 West Polk street.

DR. W. H. WELKER.

Women who are asthma sufferers only during the months of August and September may now apply for enrollment as subjects, Dr. Welker said. There will be no charge.

"We can only use women in these experiments because they will have to be locked up for several weeks in a ward," Dr. Welker explained, "and this might not be convenient for men. These women must be subject to asthma attacks only during August and September because our experiments will be concluded Sept. 31.

Linked to Hay Fever.

"We know that asthma is an extension of hay fever when the irritation caused by pollen carried on the air moves from the nose to the lungs. Those susceptible to hay fever are irritated when the ragweed pollen, which can be carried a hundred miles, is in the air.

"It has been discovered that if hay fever patients are placed in a room in which the pollen has been filtered from the air and this air is cooled and dried, they will be relieved. But one difference between hay fever and asthma, we have noted, is that in the event of a storm outside the prepared room or ward, asthma patients will have a recurrence of their symptoms while hay fever patients will not."

This difference has led physicians to analyze the changes in atmosphere attendant on a storm.

Pressure Drops in Storm.

Barometric pressure drops before a storm and rises toward the end of it. Also, the air is positively charged with electricity before the storm and negatively charged afterward.

"It would be too difficult at this time to experiment with barometric pressures to discover if they bring on asthma," Dr. Welker said, "so we will consider the electrical changes. The subjects will be kept in a ward in which the air is already filtered and cooled and dried, and then we will electrically charge the air, first positively and then negatively. If this does not bring on asthma, we will be forced to conclude, by elimination, that the barometric pressure changes are the cause."

ASKS MEDICAL, DENTAL GROUPS TO CO-OPERATE

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A plea for coöperation between the American Medical association and the American Dental association, which he heads, was made at the opening convention of the latter organization here today by Dr. Arthur C. Wherry.

He attacked as a "menace" "certain unofficial presumptuous persons and organizations" who have circularized the American Dental association during the last year with questionnaires regarding their economic views.

"Because of our loyalty and willingness to serve the unfortunate in our communities," he added, "our profession need have no fear of the various 'isms' that have been promulgated in an effort to set up in the United States a new social structure for dental health services."

Asking coöperation by the American Medical association, Dr. Wherry asserted that "we should have an effectively functioning setup so that these two great professions should see alike and speak alike for the protection of the ideals of professional service."

INHERITANCE TAX REVENUE SHOWS SHARP DECREASE

State Reports 75 Pct. Drop in Four Years.

Knowlton L. Ames Jr., Illinois director of finance, yesterday made public at Springfield an analysis of revenue from the state inheritance tax, showing that collections have dropped about 75 per cent since 1930. He attributed the sharp drop to the depression.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934, the state's revenue from the inheritance tax was $3,739,093, a monthly average of $311,591. The collection peak from this tax was reached in 1930, with a return of $15,566,367 for that year.

13 Years of Collections.

The following table of collections by years was prepared by Mr. Ames:

1922......	$3,030,972	1929......	$9,866,849
1923......	5,252,416	1930......	15,566,367
1924......	5,255,034	1931......	9,994,862
1925......	5,085,951	1932......	6,350,210
1926......	6,967,082	1933......	9,122,785
1927......	5,617,288	1934......	3,739,093
1928......	9,256,531

"The drop in inheritance tax collections is another evidence of the effect of the depression," said Director Ames. "When the market values of securities tumble to decrease the size of estates in proportion, there is bound to be a reflection in the state's revenue under the inheritance tax law. This is the sole explanation for the sharp reduction.

"Estates are taxed on the market value of securities and other holdings at the time of the death of their holder. Legislators provided against the valuation of estates at their peak, which would work hardship on beneficiaries."

Exemptions Are Allowed.

Under Illinois' law an exemption of $20,000 is granted for inheritances by a mother, father, child, grandchild, husband, wife, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law. An exemption of $10,000 is granted to brothers, sisters, brothers-in-law, and sisters-in-law.

After such exemptions the tax in these classifications is fixed at the rate of 2 per cent for the first $50,000, 4 per cent for the next $100,000, 6 per cent for the next $100,000, 10 per cent for the next $250,000, and 14 per cent for all additional inheritance.

For nieces, nephews, grandnieces, and grandnephews an exemption of $500 is provided. The tax on such inheritances is fixed at 6 per cent for the first $20,000, 8 per cent for the next $50,000, 12 per cent for the next $100,000, and 16 per cent for all above that.

For all other beneficiaries the exemption is $100. The tax on such inheritances is 10 per cent of the first $20,000, 12 per cent of the next $30,000, 16 per cent of the next $50,000, 20 per cent of the next $50,000, 24 per cent of the next $100,000, and 30 per cent of all further inheritance.

POULTRY MEN PLAN WAYS TO INCREASE EGG CONSUMPTION

The industrious hen received considerable approbation yesterday from members of the American Poultry association, meeting in the Morrison hotel.

The association discussed methods of increasing consumption of eggs. Some of the members advocated an advertising campaign such as the dairymen are making. They decided to ask the AAA to allot funds for egg promotion.

When Paul P. Ives of Guilford, Conn., pointed out that if everybody in the United States ate one more egg a day there wouldn't be enough eggs to supply the demand, it was decided to exercise caution in launching the advertising campaign.

The members agreed that the campaign might be first based on the point that the hen is unique in that she supplies her product to the consumer in an airtight package.

BANK SUES ITS ROBBER AND GETS AWARD OF $1,374

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A bank here sued the robber convicted of holding it up and today was awarded the $1,374 he allegedly got.

The judgment was awarded to the Arcadia branch of the Bank of America against Perry William Patrick Johnston, now serving a thirty year to life term in San Quentin prison. He and Wesley Eudy were convicted of the holdup. Eudy is serving a long term in Folsom prison.

Only Johnston was sued, because, lawyers for the bank said, he is known to have assets subject to judgment execution, while Eudy apparently has none.

APPEALS COURT GIVES 'ULYSSES' PLACE AS ART

Only One Judge Calls Book Indecent.

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The right to import James Joyce's "Ulysses" was upheld by the United States District Court of Appeals today in a decision sustaining a ruling of Federal Judge John M. Woolsey.

JAMES JOYCE.

"It may be that 'Ulysses' will not last as a substantial contribution to literature," said the court in dismissing the federal government's charges that the book was lewd, immoral and obscene, "and it is certainly easy to believe that, in spite of the opinion of Joyce's laudators, the immortals will still reign; but the same may be said of the current works of art and music and many other serious efforts of the mind."

The court's decision by a two to one vote allowing Random House, Inc., to import the book continued:

"Art certainly cannot advance under compulsion to the traditional forms, and nothing in such a field is more stifling to progress than limitation of the right to experiment with a new technique.

"The foolish judgments of Lord Eldon about 100 years ago proscribing the works of Byron, Shelley, and Southey are a warning to all who have to determine the limits of the field within which authors may exercise themselves."

Judge Augustus N. Hand, who wrote the opinion, continued:

"We think that 'Ulysses' is a book of originality and sincerity of treatment and that it has not the effect of promoting lust."

Judge Martin T. Manton, dissenting, said that certain pages of the book "are too indecent to add as a footnote to this opinion."

"Its characterization as obscene should be quite unanimous," he added.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Bob Becker

Singin' in the Rain.

Aug. 14, 1934.

THE echoes of a happy singing chorus entitled "Singin' in the Rain" have just died down here on the farm. The much needed shower which arrived Monday caused everybody to break out into song because the crops had been scorched for days and some of them were in a precarious state. After the fickle weatherman had turned on showers all around the acreage of the experimental farm he finally picked the right faucet so that rain came down on this particular area of the Fox valley. And when it started you could hear boys singing.

The whippoorwill cow peas celebrated the arrival of the shower by opening up their blossoms. This test plot, planted with the "singing bird" variety of cow peas, took on a beautiful blue tint when the flowers opened up.

The shower which brought moisture to the farm Monday was one of those slow, steady drizzles—the kind that delights a farmer because it soaks in. Clarence Thurow, manager of the farm, was so pleased with this shower after days of terrific heat and no rainfall that he slipped on a raincoat and started out in the fields to again look at the crops. And about all he could say was: "Gee, what a help this is going to be for the late corn."

* * *

The boys are quite excited by the arrival of a number of egrets which now are fishing in the Fox river where it cuts through the farm. These pure white birds can be seen standing or slowly wading in the shallow water of the river bed, always poised to make a lightninglike thrust with their long bills. When the shot is successful it's good-by to a frog or a minnow.

These egrets with their snow white plumage make a beautiful picture when seen against the dark green foliage of the river banks. They really belong to the ponds and streams to the south of us, but after nesting down there many of the birds come into Chicagoland to spend a few weeks before the fall migration.

Some interesting hog calling and "sorting contests" have just been concluded here on the farm. It's been quite a job to get all the young porkers together and look them over with a view to sorting out the ones that are to be moved to different lots. In order to facilitate this job the boys erected a sort of lookout station five feet high at the east end of the large cement feeding platform in the hog lot.

When the boys got ready to sort out the swine they took positions on top of the upraised observation post where they could see every animal in the yard at feeding time. Talk about excitement and rodeos, you ought to see the stampede when the boys got on this platform and started calling the pigs to come and get their eats.

After deciding which pigs would be moved they proceeded with the roundup. The last group of young porkers to be moved consisted of 40 farrowed late this spring. They had their own ideas of where they wanted to go and how they did rush around trying to carry out these ideas.

One little fellow got so scared that he bolted, slipped through a fence and then tore into the cornfield opposite Guenther's house. After fifteen minutes of hot work chasing this terrified pig up and down the corn rows the boys gave it up as a bad job. Fifteen minutes later this runaway showed up at his "home" a half mile away.

Illinois Girl Given Role in Cantor Movie

Doris Davenport of Moline Steps from Chorus.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Doris Davenport of Moline and Rock Island seems well started toward making good for Rock Island neighbors who told her when she left with her parents for Los Angeles not long ago that "we expect to be going to see your motion pictures soon." Doris, who is a blue-eyed natural blonde, has been signed to play Toots, youthful sweetheart of Eddie Cantor in the comedian's current Goldwyn comedy, "Kid Millions."

She owes her chance to Eddie's kind heart and quick eye. Playing one of the chorus girls in a minstrel show sequence, Doris lost her tall hat which rolled bumping to Eddie's feet, spoiling the scene. Her face went white and tears quivered, but Cantor, looking to see which girl had lost her hat, took a second glance at the taffy head and slim figure and whispered to Director Roy Del Ruth. The whisper was a suggestion that the frightened 18 year old might warrant a further screen test, but Miss Davenport didn't know that when her hat was handed back to her. The next day she was asked to show up for tests, was taken out of the chorus and now she's the tugboat captain's daughter who is Eddie's fiancée.

Born in Moline, the only child of G. J. Davenport, retired contractor who now lives in Hollywood with her and her mother, the girl lived in Moline and Rock Island while attending school.

Two unusual accidents temporarily have robbed Warner studio of two of its pretty girls. Dorothy Tree was surf swimming at Malibu Sunday and a big roller threw her so heavily she broke a bone in her right wrist. She is out of scenes in "The Firebird" for several days. Geraine Grear, a cute looker in the Warner stock company, who hails from Minneapolis, fell from a chair at her home while fixing an electric bulb and broke her right arm.

Joe E. Brown's son, Don, 18 years old, recent high school graduate, has heard his dad talk about the younger generation of the Brown family becoming self-reliant and arranging its own start in the world. So he got a job as a merchant marine cadet on the liner President Coolidge for a trans-Pacific cruise. This is the same liner that recently brought Dad and May Brown back from their orient cruise, but the two generations of the Browns will see the ocean and oriental ports from different decks.

Basil Rathbone is signed by M. G. M. for Mr. Murdstone in "David Copperfield," his first movie appearance in over two years. He was last in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" and was located by the studio's scouts on a New England farm last week. After this film he returns to Katharine Cornell's stage troupe.

Reginald Owen, veteran English actor who plays Louis XV. in Warner's newly completed "Madame Du Barry," steals the picture. It had been intended as a starring vehicle for Dolores Del Rio, but Owen, who plays the king as a humorously sardonic fellow [and a sultan at heart], dominates the scenes, even that in which Del Rio in a selfish whim causes all the sugar in Paris to be spread about the Versailles roads so she can go sleighing in mid-August.

The Streamline Is Feature of New Fur Coats

BY RHEA SEEGER.

No more slouchy silhouettes. No more big bulky coats either of fur or woolens that made even a slender shopper look like an animated sausage! Sleek, fitted streamlines are back and what a difference they will make.

Fur coats are knockout, superslim fitted things that are cinched in tightly around the waistline, with a fitted suavity to accent hiplines. They will make you as trim and pencil-thin as any fabric coat. Most of the newest models are made with a generous double lapping in front and a belt to accentuate a nice, well dieted waistline. It's going to be a good season for buying a fur coat that is practical and infinitly wearable without being extreme.

Collar lines continue to be the most flattering swirls you can wind around your neckline or dip as a frame around the shoulders. Rippling affairs lead the parade, with high fluffy collars of luxurious pelts coming along in second place. Silver fox contrasted against satiny smooth broadtail in inky black is still the most breath-taking combination available, although warm spicy brown sable is practically irresistible on the same sort of a contrast.

Fur swagger coats [they really deserve a more swanky name] are quite the best buys of the times. You can have them in kidskins, in stunning dull black Persian lamb, in trick sports furs for amazingly small sums, and in dress parade affairs of patrician mink.

And these are not the loose, voluminous models of past history but cleverly designed creations that fit snugly over the shoulder and flare distinctively down the backline and around the lower edge. Some interesting new arrivals are made with bow ties of the fur, with short, snappy collars so small that you can wear a handsome fur scarf as an alternative or an extra.

One of the newest fitted coats is illustrated. It is made of sleek, beautifully matched moiréd broadtail, with a two pelt collar of silver fox and a slim fur belt to accent the waistline. From a Chicago collection of distinctively new fur coats.

Front Views and Profiles

THE participants in the bridge game swear this story is true and that no tricks were played. A fellow named Stewart Hamilton, of the De Witt hotel, was dealt thirteen spades three times during a contract bridge game at the hotel Sunday evening. His partner was Miss Eleanor Page of Baraboo, Wis., and his opponents were B. E. Clyde, 4446 North Lincoln street, and Miss Margaret DeWorth, 2422 Lake Shore drive. On the first hand, Miss DeWorth held nine diamonds, and Clyde a good hand with six clubs in it. The bidding went two diamonds, three clubs, three spades, five diamonds, six clubs, and seven spades.

Hand—Racket—Inventor.

On the second hand, Clyde, holding ten hearts, bid six of them, and Hamilton went to a grand slam, which was doubled by Miss De Worth. On the third hand Hamilton laid down his cards and the party was speechless.

* *

THE latest racket to be disclosed is that of the telephone "stuffer." Unprincipled individuals go about stuffing tissue paper in the coin return of public telephones. Then when the operator returns a coin it is prevented from returning to the owner. Every so often the miscreant goes about over his route, like a trapper, pulling out the paper and collecting the coins. A ten year jail sentence is the punishment accorded the offender who is caught, and it is a doubly serious offense in that the two parties are defrauded, the telephone company and the coin-dropper.

All the foregoing is preamble to a little incident that occurred the other day in the city hall, where in some of the corridors the telephone booths are ranged in groups of threes. Police were called to come to the city hall and get a dead man off the top of such a row of telephone booths in one of the darker corridors. They arrived post-haste, with drawn guns, in case the fellow shouldn't be dead and be dangerous. They found the man all right, very much alive. He was one of the investigators for the telephone company, it turned out, and he was lying in wait, flashlight in hand, for a "stuffer" who had been operating in those booths.

BUCKMINSTER FULLER, the young inventor whose Dymaxion car, a three-wheel model with the engine in the rear, is on display in the Crystal House at A Century of Progress, and whose Dymaxion house, built around a central mast, has been on display in Chicago in the past, explains how the word "dymaxion" was coined. It's all a little confusing, but it seems that a firm whose business it is to compose words was engaged to name his new scientific house, and some of the firm representatives spent most of a day listening to Mr. Fuller describe his theories. The important sentences in his talk were written down, then the important phrases were taken from the sentences and put in a list. A next step was the removing of important syllables from the words, and finally Mr. Fuller was given a list of fifty syllables to choose from. This was reduced to twenty-five, and finally the "ion," which Mr. Fuller points out represents the infinity in mathematics, was chosen, and the "dy," standing for dynamic force, and "max" . . . I forget why, and the three syllables were all strung together into the word "dymaxion."

MR. FULLER is, by the way, a grandnephew of the famous Margaret Fuller, the first feminist, and friend of Ralph Waldo Emerson, with whom she was joint editor of The Dial magazine. When we asked him about her he pointed out that Miss Fuller is the only book critic whose reviews ever made the front page regularly. Horace Greeley printed Miss Fuller's on the front page of his New York Tribune.

Eight Hundred Will Sing at Festival Tomorrow

A music festival will be presented in the gardens of the Michigan Boulevard Garden apartments, 54 East 47th street, tomorrow night at 8:30 o'clock. Eight hundred singers will take part in the program, which is being arranged by J. Wesley Jones. Among the numbers to be heard will be "The Old Ark's A' Moverin."

Counter Girl at Fair Wins Soprano Contest.

A fraulein from the Black Forest village at the World's Fair and a former college and professional football player were the winners last evening in the west side preliminaries to the Chicago semifinals of the fifth Chicagoland Music Festival vocal contest. The winners were, respectively, a soprano and a baritone, the basso, contralto, and tenor having been chosen in Monday night's contest.

The soprano is Miss Henrietta Kracalik, 20 years old, 909 Beloit avenue, Forest Park, and her voice, according to the judges, was "open, warm, youthful, and very promising." She is a counter girl in the Black Forest inn, and occasionally sings the song which won her the laurels last evening—The Jewel Song from "Faust"—while serving beer to World's Fair visitors.

Richard Thomas Hardy, 29 years old, 831 Forest avenue, River Forest, is the west side's baritone. His voice was adjudged "remarkable, excellent throughout its entire range, of good quality and very flexible." He sang Guy D'Hardelot's "Because" as if he had never played tackle for River Forest high school, Boston City college, and Racine in the national professional football league.

Both the winners were acclaimed by the audience of 600 men and women who gathered at the Masonic hall on the 13th floor of the Midwest hotel, 6 North Hamlin avenue. Miss Kracalik was overcome when she was announced as the winner and she rose daubing at her eyes with her handkerchief. She was soundly kissed on both cheeks by Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler, chairman of the vocal and choral contests, as she was led to the stage.

Miss Kracalik said that only her mother had known that she was entering THE TRIBUNE's contest, and confessed that she had kept her entrance a secret from her boss, Del Nordeen, in the Fair village, although she had pursuaded him to grant her a night off, saying that she had an engagement to sing. Miss Kracalik graduated from the Proviso Township High school in 1932. She is slender, pretty, with blonde hair and blue eyes.

Mr. Hardy is an employé of the Bender-Bluenke Dairy company, is married, and the father of two boys and a girl. His wife, Kay, who is spending the summer in McHenry, Ill., with the children, did not know that he had entered. He is the soloist at St. Luke's Catholic church and has the physique that a football tackle should have.

Miss Alice Vandecar, 20 years old, 2807 North Francisco avenue, a graduate last June from North Park Junior college, was the second place winner in the soprano contest singing "One Fine Day" by Puccini. Miss Erna Elizabeth Beechwood, 5542 Byron street, a stenographer for the Chicago Rapid Transit company was third. She sang "The Bitterness of Love" by James Dunn.

The second and third place baritones were George B. Nelson, 26 years old, 2439 North Francisco avenue, and Roy Anderson, 30 years old, 1129 North Parkside avenue, an RFC employé in the federal reserve bank. Nelson sang "I Love Life" by Mana-Zucca, and Anderson "Invectus" by Huhm.

In general the judges, Ellen Kinsmann, Franklin Hathaway and Richard De Young, decided that the west siders "loved life." Not less than three of the sopranos and at least eight of the baritones sang Mana-Zucca's favorite which was the song sung by the grand winner of last year's contest. There was general laughter when, at one stage of the baritone contest three successive contestants sang it.

The south side preliminary vocal contests open tonight in the Chicago Woman's club theater, 72 East 11th street at 7 p. m. Tenors, basses and contraltos will be heard tonight and sopranos and baritones tomorrow night.

The deadline for entry of out of Cook county singers in the fifth Chicagoland Music Festival vocal contest will be Friday evening at 6 o'clock. All applications must be in the festival headquarters, room 2218 Tribune Tower, by that time. Two singers, chosen the "best man singer" and the "best woman singer," will appear on the festival program Saturday night, Aug. 18, in Soldiers' field.

The Racine, Wis., Journal-Times will send nearly 200 contestants to the festival. Following a most successful local entertainment held last week in Horlick's park as a closing feature of Racine's centennial celebration, the following groups and individuals were chosen to represent that city in the Chicagoland finals:

Wisconsin college singers, mixed chorus of 70 voices, directed by Mrs. J. A. Jacobson.

Northwestern male chorus, 28 members, conducted by Harry James.

The Schubert club, 38 women singers, led by Mrs. Ellen Schlender.

The Centennial mixed quartet, directed by David Pritchard. Members beside Mr. Pritchard are Miss Genevieve Klevikis, Mrs. Florence De Bruen, and Alfred Carlson.

Vocalists—Miss Jane Nash, soprano; Robert Schacht, bass; Arthur Henriksen, tenor; Mrs. Florence Schweitzer De Bruen, contralto, and Stanley Nelson, baritone.

The three went to college together at Sarah Lawrence. Miss Shaw is not doing much entertaining at home for her guests, who will be here another week, for they are spending most of their time at the Fair.

'Blue Danube' Has Music and Mr. Schildkraut

"BLUE DANUBE."
Produced by Mundus Corporation.
Directed by Herbert Wilcox.
Presented at the World Playhouse.

THE CAST:

Sandor.................Joseph Schildkraut
Yutka...................Dorothy Bouchier
The Countess...............Brigitte Helm
The Count..................Desmond Jeans
Alfred Rode and his famous Royal Tzigane band.

BY ANNA NANGLE.

The current film at the World Playhouse is a short, melodramatic number, featuring Joseph Schildkraut, two lovely ladies, and a great deal of rather nice music.

The star plays Sandor, a gypsy singer living a carefree life with his tribe. He and Yutka [the pretty Dorothy Bouchier], sing and dance together in happy contentment until a beautiful blonde countess comes ariding on her blooded steed, hears him sing, and invites the troupe to entertain at a party at her home. On this occasion the lady asks Sandor to return and sing for her alone later in the evening. Yutka doesn't miss a bit of this chiseling, and on seeing him return to the camp in the early dawn, leaves for parts unknown. After months of search Sandor finds her, but she's wedded to another.

The film ends abruptly and melodramatically.

I can't say I'd go mad over Mr. Schildkraut, and though the stately Brigitte Helm, has, with proper lighting, great loveliness—at other moments her costuming causes her to look rather ridiculous.

Sound is pretty bad, and photography ditto. Direction not very adept.

Tennis Champs Play Saturday at Knollwood

Vines and Kozeluh to Give Exhibition Match.

BY JUDITH CASS.

ELLSWORTH VINES may have turned a golf enthusiast, but it takes his backhand strokes and lightning serves to draw a gallery of cheering admirers. At 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon the young California tennis champion, who makes an open secret of his increasing interest in golf, is going to play Karol Kozeluh, another net champion, in a series of exhibition tennis matches on the courts of the Knollwood club in Lake Forest.

Interest in the event is proved by the reservation list, which already indicates the disposal of all of the boxes and most of the bleacher seats. After the matches most of the guests will return home for a quick change and then come back to the club for a tennis ball which will replace the usual Saturday night dinner dance.

At this party Mr. Vines and Mr. Kozeluh will be special guests, also Mr. Vines' young brother, who is motoring from California with him. They are due to arrive in Chicago today or tomorrow, allowing them time, as Mr. Vines has indicated by wire, for a few days of golf at Knollwood before the tennis matches Saturday. Alexander E. Patterson, as chairman of the club's tennis committee, which has William B. Freer and Thomas A. Dean for members, is attending to all of the arrangements.

Thomas E. Wilsons Will Have Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson and their son, Edward F. Wilson, will have one of the large box parties for the games and entertain one of the large groups at the evening party. Others who will be box and tennis ball hosts and hostesses are Col. and Mrs. Robert H. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Weymouth Kirkland, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Molloy, the Fred Poors, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Castle, the Alexander Pattersons, the William Freers, William Bartholomay Jr., the Thomas Deans, the John Mitchell Hutchinses, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Templeton, and the Vaughan C. Spaldings.

Miss Harriet Fenner will have a party of young people at the tennis ball and so will the Ross Byrons. Still others who have made reservations for this party are the Franklin G. Clements and the Averill Tildens.

Tennis enthusiasm also is running high these days at the South Shore Country club where preparations are under way for the national professional championships which open Aug. 18. Mr. Vines, Mr. Kozeluh and a whole galaxy of net stars are due to play in these games, which are anticipated as one of the important highlights of the summer sporting season.

Entertainment for the visiting champions as well as the club members is being planned in part by a committee of young women with Miss Frances Weary and Miss Peggy Wiley as the co-chairmen. On Friday noon Miss Weary and Miss Wiley are having a luncheon at the club at which these plans will be discussed.

Leave for Motor Trip in Canada.

Mrs. D. Mark Cummings and her sister, Mrs. James C. Sharp, and Mrs. Charles C. Adsit left Lake Forest Monday for a motor trip to Canada. They plan to spend a week at the Seignory club at Montbello in Quebec, which will hold its fifth annual international tennis tournament next week.

Her Husband's Fiancee

BY ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

SYNOPSIS.

Cecily Marshall returns after a year's absence to the home in Bellchester, England, where she had lived with her husband, David Marshall, the city's leading merchant prince. Cecily had been a shopgirl at Marshall's. Beautiful Audrey Lowe, who had wanted David herself, and her cousin, Reggie Davies, had contrived to break up Cecily's marriage. David believed Cecily unfaithful and won a divorce from her and the custody of their small child, Rose Ann. The child grieves for her mother. Fearing for her health, Nanna, her nurse, secretly wires Cecily. When David, who is about to marry Audrey, discovers Cecily's presence he orders her and Nanna from the house. Rose Ann develops brain fever and David is forced to send for Cecily. Rose Ann improves. Cecily rejects David's proposal that they remarry for Rose Ann's sake. She takes rooms in Bellchester, with Nanna, and determines to prove her innocence. She sees Rose Ann daily. Audrey has been blackmailed by Mrs. Partridge, the wife of the deceased innkeeper she had bribed to swear that Cecily and Reggie had shared the same room a night they were marooned due to motor trouble. David tried unsuccessfully to break his engagement to Audrey. Audrey is unable to raise the money which Mrs. Partridge demands.

INSTALMENT XXI.

A VALUABLE GIFT LOST.

Audrey had loosened her coat and now she felt Mrs. Partridge's gaze intent upon the spot where the diamond and pearl brooch David had given her was fastened.

"Haven't you got something we could sell or pawn?" Mrs. Partridge suggested further.

Audrey's hand went to the brooch and she unfastened it reluctantly. She had been with David when it was purchased and knew how costly it was.

"You could say you lost it," said the helpful Mrs. Partridge.

"It has a safety catch," said Audrey.

"Well, miss, anybody could forget to fasten a safety catch. They're tricky things at the best of times. I lost a brooch meself once that very same way. Of course it wasn't such a fine one as yours . . . May I ask . . . are those stones real?"

"Yes, they are genuine."

"Could I look at it a moment, miss?"

Audrey handed it over. Never in her life had she felt quite so miserable.

"I shouldn't wonder if it brought in five hundred," said Mrs. Partridge. "Sold outright, I mean."

"More than that," said Audrey.

"I'm not so sure. Times are hard just now. But I know a man who's in a way of business. I could tell him I'd taken it for a bad debt. What do you say, miss?"

Audrey flung her cigaret into the harth and got up.

"Very well—sell it—do what you like. But I want your word of honor—if you possess such a thing—that you'll clear out of Bellchester by Saturday, before, if you can manage it, and never let me set eyes on you again."

"That's a do, miss, and here's my hand on it. You can count on me."

Audrey gave the podgy fingers a reluctant shake. She would as gladly have grasped an adder.

Her beautiful brooch, lost to her forever. It was fortunate that she had kept her gloves on, for otherwise that fiend might have demanded her engagement ring as well.

". . . and thank you kindly, miss."

Mrs. Partridge's voice followed her out into the night.

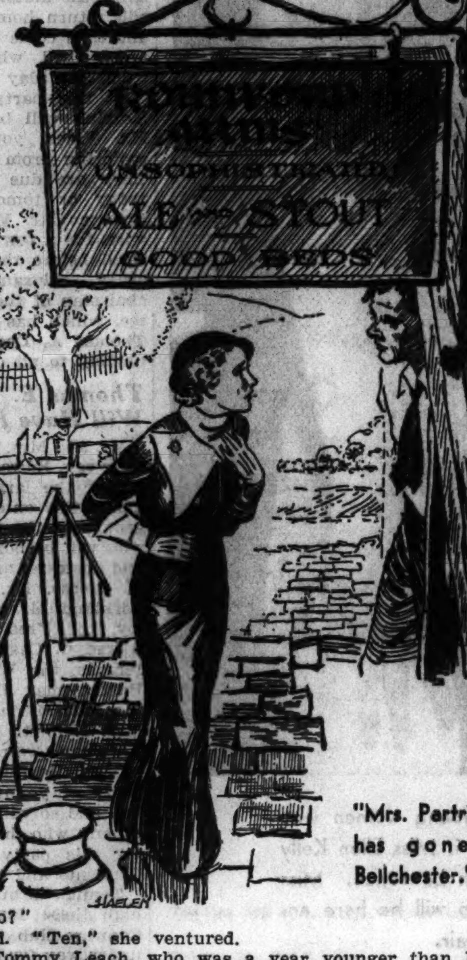
. . . . .

"Mummy, why is twice one, two?" asked Rose Ann.

"Because it is, darling. Take your beads—there's one and there's one more. Now count them."

"Two," said Rose Ann.

"That's right. Now what is twice two?"



"Mrs. Partridge has gone to Bellchester."

Rose Ann hesitated. "Ten," she ventured.

"It's four," said Tommy Leach, who was a year younger than Rose Ann but apparently much brighter.

The two children sat on opposite sides of a kindergarten table in Mrs. Leach's front parlor which had been turned into a schoolroom for them. There was a blackboard and a desk, too, but Cecily was the only one who used the desk.

"And three times two is six and four times two is eight," chanted Tommy Leach.

Rose Ann regarded him with admiration.

"Go on," she prompted.

Cecily looked at her watch. "School" would soon be over for the day and she was taking the two children for a motor ride. On Friday afternoons David graciously put the car at their disposal.

Today was bright and sunny and they were taking a picnic tea with them. Mrs. Leach had filled the thermos flasks and made sandwiches and little cakes.

They had to make an early start because it got dark so soon and today it would be just a little earlier than usual. Cecily had a plan in her mind.

She smiled to herself as they settled in with the rugs and little hamper, the two children chattering like a pair of happy magpies, and the new chauffeur most attentive with a hot water arrangement for Cecily's feet.

"Where would you like to go today, madam?" asked the chauffeur.

Cecily answered him in a casual manner.

"I think we might take the road to Ravencrest—the Golfers' Hotel, you know. It's a lovely drive. But we needn't go all the way. About as far as Rounford will be long enough."

"Rounford, madam? I'm not sure I know it."

"O, it's hardly a village. Just a little public house. I'll tell you when we've gone far enough."

"Very good, madam."

She leaned back, settling herself in a corner. A lucky thing the children could entertain each other, for it left her reasonably free with her thoughts.

She had to make a start somehow towards that vindication she had not only promised herself but threatened David and Audrey with, and it was amusing—poetic justice, really—to be making use of David's car for that purpose.

Yet what did she expect to gain by going to Rounford? Those people who had lied about her were not likely to be intimidated by her indignant accusations. In the witness-box they had taken away her good name without turning a hair. The whole success of David's suit had depended on their evidence. Every one believed them.

Well, indeed, did Cecily remember the startled-fawn manner of Reggie Davies when the man, Partridge, stood there in the box and swore to all those horrible lies. Reggie, in his amazement, had contrived to look as though he had committed every sin in the decalog. Had the man been charging him with murder Reggie would undoubtedly have ended up on the gallows.

The miles sped away.

It couldn't be very far off now. Yes, there was the Rounford Arms. A bend in the valley road had just disclosed it.

Cecily told the chauffeur to give the children their tea.

"I want to go in here a minute," she said.

The place looked so utterly different from the way she remembered it. A little lonely inn set in a fold of the foothills, far away from anywhere, with only a couple of crofter's cottages for company. But somebody had given the brick walls a new coat of white paint and the sign above the door glittered freshly golden in the light of the sinking sun.

A man came to the door, a tall young fellow in earth-stained corduroys, with sunburnt hair. Any one less like that Partridge creature it would be difficult to imagine.

No, he said, the Partridges did not keep this place any more. Partridge had died of an accident some months ago and his widow had gone to live in Bellchester.

"In Bellchester?" Cecily echoed. "Could you tell me where I could find her? It's rather important."

The man said that he did not know, but he would ask his wife. Perhaps she knew.

When he came back he said his wife didn't know for sure, either, but had heard from friends that Mrs. Partridge was now employed in a gramophone shop in High street.

The house looked so cleaned up and the young host was so affable that Cecily could do no less than ask for a glass of port and invite him and his wife to join her. Had she known it was going to be like this, she said, they would not have bothered to bring their tea.

"Yes, the Partridges gave the place a bad name," said the young man's wife, who was herself the acme of neatness and respectability. "We've begun to find that out."

"It won't last," her husband said hopefully.

Cecily noticed that they had installed a petrol pump. If only it had been there that night Reggie Davies and she plodded along that road through the rain.

Eyebrows Must Taper.

I. P.: Eyebrows should be moderately thick in the center and taper gracefully to a point at each end. However, if the arch of your eyebrow is naturally high, let it remain in its natural outline. Under no circumstances should you pluck your eyebrows to a fine line.

Shampoos Don't Harm.

D. S.: Wash your hair just as often as you feel it needs it. There is no danger in frequent washings if the hair is properly rinsed and thoroughly dried. About every two weeks is a good average. Shampooing instructions may be had for a stamped, addressed envelope.

Older Society of Her In-laws Hinders Joyce

BY DORIS BLAKE.

One of the real tribulations of in-laws housing together is revealed by Joyce, the son's wife. It is the attempted absorption of the young couple's evenings and holidays by the older couple, or by a widowed mother. The widower father must be gifted with a better understanding. He is almost never reported as the dead weight, socially, which a widow or a parented couple may become.

Joyce quite graciously admits her obligations to her mother-in-law and father-in-law for taking her and her husband in during this economic stress. She appreciates that having her under foot all day must be a trial to the elder woman. She's not one to understate her gratitude, either. She does not believe that because she married the son, she is the only one to be considered by him. She admires the son's devotion to his parents. She realizes that it is this quality in him that has made him kind and considerate of her. She does try to do her share around the house. And she tries to ignore those little differences that lead to open dissension. Altogether, the two families get along well together. BUT—

"We never can get away together for an evening by ourselves. Either one or both of them decides to join us. If we are invited out among our own contemporaries, naturally where the older folk's presence would be out of order, they're set in trying to discourage our going and usually win. If we, in turn, invite young people to the house, there they are until the last guest has left. It's awfully trying. I feel I can't cry out an objection under our dependent circumstances. But is it selfish to want to get off by ourselves once in a while and enjoy people of our own age without the older folk's presence?"

Not selfish, Joyce. A perfectly normal reaction to the constant pressure of older society. But how to make the older pair see, without dissension, the need for young folk getting off together, without in-law chaperonage? Where an older couple pursues this unreasonable course, it is because they have lost touch socially with their own generation, which, in itself, is not wholesome.

They've lost sympathy with youth and its needs. There's no doubt but that they enjoy this young companionship. But that's no excuse for monopolizing it. Perhaps some of you folk, who have found a way out of this difficulty, could tip Joyce off on how to handle it diplomatically but firmly.

Hollywood

BY SIDNEY SKOLSKY.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 7.—People were humming and dancing to my melody back in 1919. I was popular then and every one knew me. I bought my fame for a song, as the saying goes, and I was happy.

Perhaps you remember me? Here is how I go: "Mandy, there's a minister handy—and it sure would be dandy if he could make a fee. . . ." It's funny about us pop songs, we're happy only when our words are on some one's lips and our tunes bring lovers closer together. The trouble is that we're soon forgotten; soon every one is singing the praises of another song. There's nothing worse than a popular song that isn't popular.

I'd like you to listen to me sing a song about myself. It was written in an army barracks at Camp Yaphank in 1918 by a short, dark haired army sergeant named Irving Berlin. This Berlin could hardly play the piano and he kept trying to touch the right keys for days, and for a time I thought I would never be born.

When Berlin finally had down on paper what he had felt for days, he rushed out to sing me to the first person he met. He didn't know the name of the man in khaki who first heard me, and even I don't know the name of the unknown soldier.

I was heard by the public for the first time on the hot evening of Aug. 19, 1918, when the troupe of soldiers gave "Yip, Yip, Yankhank" its Broadway debut at the Century theater. It was a big thrill hearing applause for the first time.

"Yip, Yip, Yankhank" ran for 32 performances and I was in my glory, but when the show closed my melody seemed to be over. I was neglected until one evening months later, when Irving Berlin was talking to a man named Florenz Ziegfeld. They were discussing numbers for a "Follies of 1919," and this Ziegfeld in a nasal tone said: "Irving, you had a minstrel number in your army show that ought to be good for my 'Follies.' It was a catchy tune."

The "Follies of 1919" opened—one of the big nights of the dramatic season. I was on the program—the minstrel scene—the first act finale. They say it was the most beautiful minstrel scene ever presented on any stage. Ziegfeld treated me royally.

Eddie Cantor stood before the footlights and introduced me by singing a ditty which said: "I want to see a minstrel show . . ." The curtains parted, the entire stage was filled with the glorified Ziegfeld girls dressed in pink satin, holding tambourines; and the men were dressed in pink satin suits and wore high hats. Cantor was one of the end men and the other end man was Bert Williams, and the interlocutor was George Lemaire. He introduced Van and Schenck and they sang, "Mandy"; they sang me a verse, a chorus, and a patter. Then lovely Marilyn Miller appeared at the top of the stairway and sang me as she led the march of the show girls and the stars down the huge stairway.

They were all singing "Mandy" and waving tambourines as the curtain slowly descended and the audience was applauding wildly in time to the strains. I was never so happy.

I was now what I wanted to be, a popular song. A newsboy hummed me while holding his papers. Jazz bands played me. A girl softly sang me as she waited for her boy friend. Men, walking up strange, dark roads whistled me. I was a popular song. One of my biggest thrills was Ziegfeld walking backstage nightly. He always hummed me.

Suddenly bands stopped playing me, singers ceased singing me, people forgot me. I was forgotten as if I had never been born. I stood silent and listened to other songs become popular.

Then the man who wants to be the Ziegfeld of the screen spoke about me, in the same manner as Ziegfeld had once spoken about me. Sam Goldwyn said: "Eddie, for our minstrel scene we ought to revive 'Mandy.' It's a catchy tune." It's the first time I was mentioned in years.

Eddie Cantor sings me and is again one of the end men. The other end man is Ethel Merman and the interlocutor is George Murphy. Again beautiful girls sit on a stairway and wave tambourines to my rhythm. Soon I will be on the radio going into your home. My words will again be on the lips and my tune will again bring lovers closer together. I am a popular song again!!

And somehow I will be back again with Florenz Ziegfeld. For when the ballyhoo of "Kid Millions" is over and the picture plays the neighborhood theaters I will be heard from the stage of the theater that bears the name Ziegfeld.

tis Munson, and Mr. Munson are camping in Alberta, Can., now, but they will be back in Chicago probably in the autumn, en route to New York.

Mrs. Arthur Meeker will be at home soon from Santa Barbara, where she has been since late spring. Mr. Meeker came home several weeks ago.

Miss Marion McKinley will return from Nantucket Island, where she is summering with her mother, Mrs. Anthony McKinley, late in September just in time to complete plans for her marriage in October to William J. Sennott Jr. Miss McKinley went east the middle of July.

Miss Valeria Haight is making a quick trip back to Chicago this week to be a bridesmaid Saturday in the wedding of Miss Mary Callender and Thomas J. Donovan at Naperville. Miss Haight arrives this morning from Kennebunkport, Me., where she is spending the month of August at the Breakwater Court hotel with her parents, the George I. Haights. She will return east on Sunday. As yet Miss Haight and her fiancé, Edward Allen Haight, have made no plans for their marriage.

Bokum Children on Vacations.

The Norris Bokums are minus all of their children at the present moment, for their three boys and small daughter are away vacationing and at school. Norris Jr. is enrolled at the Culver Military academy and Richard, John Boyden, and Sally are all having a holiday at Castle Park, Mich. The Bokums' oldest daughter, Doris, now Mrs. Newton C. King, and Mr. King have just returned from a vacation at Nantucket Island.

Mrs. Fielding L. Marshall has her sister, Mrs. Henry A. Knott, for her guest at her summer home at Blue Ridge Summit in Pennsylvania. Mrs. Marshall expects to be away until Oct. 1.

Thirty members of the Dante Alighieri society are gathering for dinner this evening at the Tavern club to wish the Italian consul general, Dr. Giuseppe Castruccio, "bon voyage."

Dr. Castruccio is leaving on the 15th for Washington, where he will call at the Italian embassy and then proceed to New York to board the Italian liner Rex for Naples. He will join Signora Castruccio and their children for a holiday at Bratislava in Czechoslovakia, but unfortunately he will return without them in November, for they are going to remain in Italy for the winter. Karleton Hackett wil be the toastmaster at this evening's dinner.

Pick More Leaders for Benefit Party.

In spite of the fact that she was busy most of the day and all evening yesterday receiving informally friends who wanted to wish her many happy returns of the day, Mrs. Charles King Corsant found time to announce that Mrs. William B. Hale and Mrs. Morris L. Johnston have become co-chairmen of the committee in charge of the Christmas Merry-Go-Round to be staged the first week of December for the benefit of the Chicago Lying-in hospital. Mrs. James W. Rogers is another co-chairman, and her mother, Mrs. James Weber Linn, is the other. Mrs. Corsant also announced that Mrs. James Ward Thorne has written from Santa Barbara that she will decorate a six room house with a porch to be sold at the affair.

Yesterday was Mrs. Corsant's sixtieth birthday, and there was a steady stream of callers at her residence, 3400 Lake Shore drive, carrying good wishes to this woman who works so ably and conscientiously for various philanthropic and relief causes.

Spirit of 1910 Describes New Paris Fashions

PARIS, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The spirit of 1910 pervades the winter fashions of 1934-'35 launched at the fortnight designers' openings which ended today.

Although the dressmakers created a new mode, not following all the vagaries of 25 years ago, the general effect recalls much of the elegance of the first decade of the twentieth century.

Big hats with dashing brims, rich, varied colors, exceedingly luxurious wool, silk, velvet, and lace fabrics, a great vogue for suits—some of which have fitted three-quarter coats and skirts covering the instep—are outstanding 1910 trends seen today.

The whole thing was characterized by a feeling of practical elegance without "Christmas tree" ostentation.

There was much black, lightened by bright colors, for the day, and there were also purples, grays, greens, browns, and blues.

There were some models for late afternoon in dead black with ostrich trimmed hats. There were evening gowns of pale green, purple, brilliant red, pale turquoise, sapphire, black, and white.

The mode was based on a slender silhouette with the narrow skirts generally slightly longer, varying from seven to twelve inches from the ground. They often were slit in several places. Their fullness, if any, often was concentrated in small, low back pleat clusters.

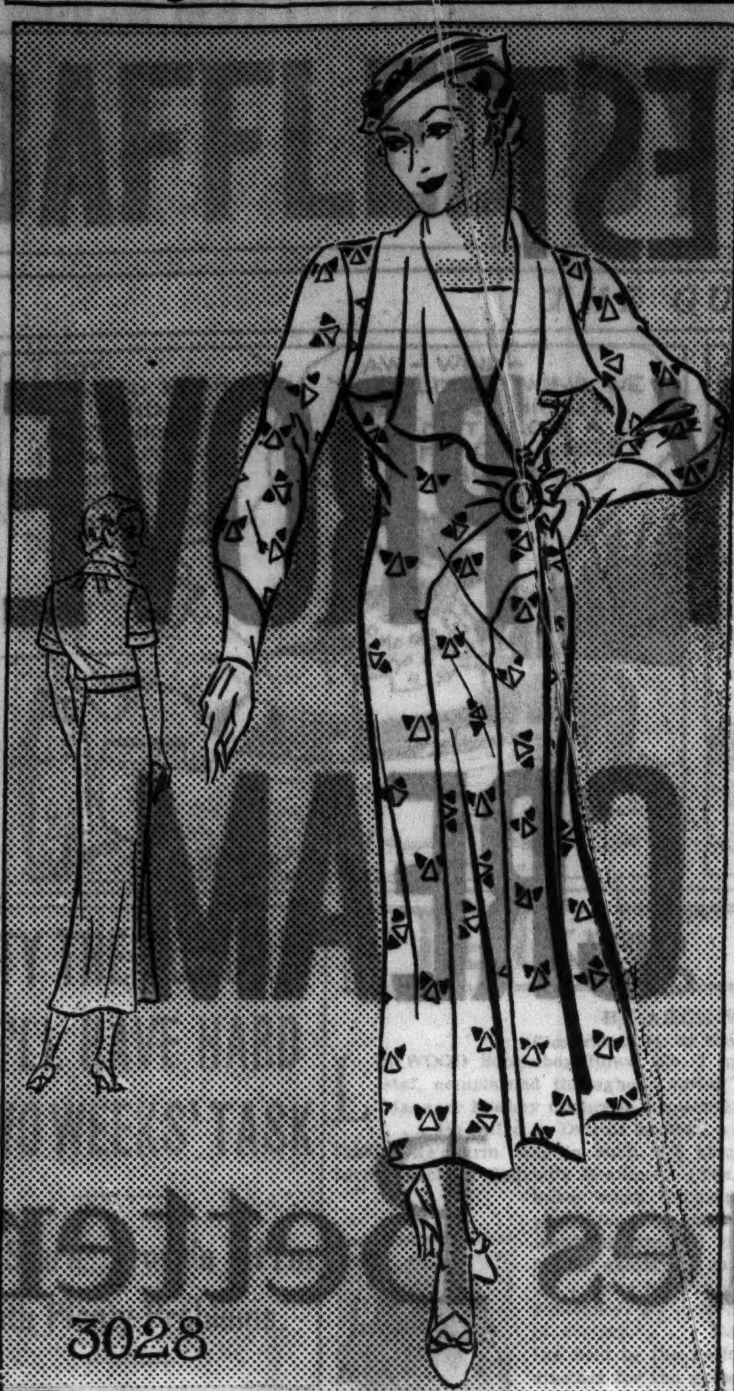
There were scores of hip length and thigh length tunics. Formal coats were of dark wools on slender lines, furred with astrakhan, silver fox, and beaver, with big or small collars to accommodate the larger hats.

Hundreds of suits and ensembles were of wool or velvet with jackets of from hip length to knee length, straight, loose, or fitted. There were many furred toques, muffs, and capes.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Miss Carolyn T. Clement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen M. Clement, and Miss Elizabeth Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Reed, will be introduced by their parents at a supper-dance in the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton on Dec. 25.

For Figure Needing Slim Line



WOMAN'S DRESS.

Women who need a few slimming lines will instantly recognize the possibilities of this model. It has a crossover closing, with softly falling revers that minimize bodice breadth, and the waistline can be easily adjusted with its partial belt. It fits perfectly through the hips, and the insets at the front shape the skirt for ease of movement. This is an advanced fall design and one you'll want to copy. A heavy, dull crêpe in black and white, with white for contrast, will be smart.

The pattern, No. 3028, comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inches bust measure.

Sew a fine seam. Sew almost anything, in fact, with the aid of the booklet, "How to Make Better Dresses," now available at Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, Tribune Tower, and Hall of Science, at A Century of Progress. It's only 10 cents.

Add More Fun to Plans for Sally's Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Who likes candy kisses? I know I do and that most youngsters do too—so when Mrs. Snyder, the candy lady, called and told me that she'll be out at her shop at the Fair on Wednesday, Aug. 15, and that she'd bring along some candy for the bright little boys and girls who win invitations, I was delighted.

This will be an added attraction for that gala day. We're to see Frank Buck's entire show, including baby leopards, tigers, porcupines, a pygmy buffalo, an Indian buck, flying squirrels, baboons "spectacle" monkeys [who look just as if they were wearing glasses] and all sorts of other animals. Mr. Buck tells me that a baby elephant and a pair of black leopards are on the way to America to join the show. They are expected some time between Aug. 10 and 15, so they may be there the day we go out.

After all this we're going to ride on the big merry-go-round out there, and then on the motor drome to watch the thrilling riders.

This will be one of the gayest parties of the year, and today is your last chance to try to win an invitation. If you are to send me a letter, telling me why you'd like to come with me, you'll have to have it mailed some time today in order for it to reach me by tomorrow. That's my big reading day, when I read all the letters and select 100 writers of the best letters to be my guests.

Don't forget to include your name, address, and age, and mail it to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Mlle. Françoise May, daughter of the late ambassador from Belgium, arrived tonight from their home in Brussels to join her mother at the embassy and return with her to their home when the ambassador's body is taken home. Mlle. May returned to Belgium with her two younger sisters when school closed in the spring.

Señora de Marquez-Sterling, wife of the Cuban ambassador, was the special guest at luncheon yesterday of Señora Clemencia de Mencia, who is with her daughter, Señorita de Mencia, at Wardman Park hotel en route to their home in Havana.

The chargé d'affaires of France, Jules Henry, returned today from Newport, where he went by motor last week.

"Wa-a-a!" explodes the little stranger as soon as the solicitous nurse can get it out of him. By which he means that milk from mother and a bossy cow may be all right for the time being, but that it won't be long now before he will get fruit and vegetable juices, or else . . .!

Which shows him to be a normal youngster with a knowledge of what's good for him. It's also a tip to his mother that the days are over when she may call her canning done when the usual quota of grown-up fruits, vegetables, meats, preserves, and such have been sealed away. For babies nowadays demand a pantry shelf and a place on the canning budget all their own. While once milk was considered the ideal food for a young one's growth, recent diggers-out of facts have proved that milk alone frequently falls short of meeting all the food requirements of a growing child. Almost from the first, there must be other foods added to supplement the milk and to supply additional minerals and vitamins.

Herr Baby will be content in the first few weeks with strained orange or tomato juice, in addition, of course, to his milk. By the time he is 6 months big he should be happily gobbling two to four tablespoons of orange juice and two of water in which vegetables have been boiled. During the next six months some of the sieved vegetable pulp will be added to the water, and by the time he is 1 year old he will be ready to eat undiluted sieved vegetable pulp, according to Mrs. Ruby Mendenhall Smith, extension economist at University of Arkansas college of agriculture. The correct amounts of these different stages vary with the child, so the safest guide is the advice of a competent physician.

But, actually, just what do these growing-ups find in vegetable liquors and purées, either prepared at home or commercially canned? We've mentioned vitamins and minerals which aren't present in the right kind or in sufficient amounts in milk to satisfy all the development and growth needs. If properly prepared and canned, these foods retain to a great degree their natural supply of these elements. The vitamins constantly protect against infectious diseases, bone and teeth troubles. They also promote growth. Minerals from vegetables are needed for building bones, teeth, and red blood cells. If these foods are forgotten, scurvy, rickets, and other deficiency diseases which attack young children much more easily than they do adults, may develop.

If you're a home canner and a new mother, can for the youngest at the same time that you can for the rest of the family. It means a saving of time, labor, and fuel. Everyday preparation is a bother and a waste—likewise it's an easy thing to forget altogether.

Squat half pint jars are the best holders of baby foods, if we can at home. There's little, then, to store away after each feeding. What there is, if your refrigeration is good, may be kept for the next day, or, if not, should then be used at once in some of the day's grown-up dishes.

Because he likes vitamins, and feels good when he has eaten foods with acid content, tomatoes, carrots, English peas, and asparagus are the best foods to can for the baby. Many other vegetables are worth canning, too, although they may not be as well supplied with these coveted elements. All such foods must be made scrupulously sterile by processing, with the pressure cooker being the safest agent for canning all except the tomatoes.

Mosaic No. 7.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Brilliant, gay colors are used for this, the seventh in the series of mosaic designs. This block is in startling contrast to mosaic patterns previously presented here. The completed block measures twelve inches square, and the entire coverlet is composed of twenty-two pieces and twenty plain blocks.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

Mr. Sims is universally acclaimed the greatest living contract and auction player. He is captain of the renowned Four Horsemen team of four, and has won twenty national championships since 1924. These articles are based on the Sims system, which includes the one-over-one principle, which the Sims group of players was the first to employ and develop.

RESPONDING TO A FORCING TAKE-OUT AFTER BIDDING NO TRUMP WITH A CONCEALED LONG SUIT.

In these circumstances the opening bidder ceases to be the dominant partner in the bidding; the responding hand must take its full part in the slam development, and therefore we must guard against any slip-up through the responder attributing to the opener a more evenly distributed hand than he actually holds, especially as regards the support provided for the suit in which the responder has made a jump take-out.

At the same time, it would be wrong to assume that the opener's hand is less suitable for the slam development because it has one strong long suit and is slightly weaker elsewhere than the normal short-suited no-trumper. The possession of a solid five-card suit may be the key to a successful slam in the actual play of the hand, and this is likely to apply whether the slam is bid in the responder's suit, in the opener's suit, or in no trumps.

If you will refer back to the articles in which I explained the requirements for a forcing take-out in reply to an opening no trump bid, you will see that the responding hand must not only have a suit as good as five to two of the top three honors, but must also include an ace and some outside values to make up practically three primary tricks. Consequently, it will reënforce at least one weak spot in the opener's hand outside the suit in which the take-out is made.

Have No Fear that the Concealment of Your Suit Will Cause the Hand to Be Misbid.

If you will adopt the following procedure, I am sure that the bidding will proceed with the utmost smoothness and precision, whether you go on to slam or sign off short of it. The important thing is that your partner should receive information just as exact as that which he has conveyed in making a forcing take-out. Exact, that is, as regards its minimum requirements. Any additional strength, in whatever form it may be, is indicated in a later rebid.

Directions for Opener's Rebidding Over a Forcing Take-Out.

1. If the concealed suit is shaded—i. e., is A K x x x, instead of A K Q x x, or A Q J x x x instead of A K x x x x, do not bid in your first response. Regard the high cards which are at its head as primary values in a no trump hand and rebid your hand accordingly. If you have three aces, bid four no trumps. Otherwise, just bid three no trumps, so that the ace situation is made definite to your partner. There may be no point in ever bidding your long suit if able to slam in your partner's suit or in no trumps. I mean this kind of development:

[a] You have three cards to a top honor in your partner's suit, your hand is fully up to normal and there are not two aces out against you; or, though you have only A x or K x in your partner's suit, he rebids the suit so that this now becomes normal support for him, as his rebid shows six to two top honors or five to three of the top four honors. If your high honor is the ace, you can probably name his ace and locate approximately the additional primary or primary-secondary trick, which his jump response claimed.

[b] If in a later bid he takes out in no trumps, though you have never mentioned your long suit, you can place him definitly for the queen or better in that suit. This will make your long suit positively solid and entitle you to slam in no trumps immediately, provided the ace situation has already been ascertained to be satisfactory. Information about your own suit obtained in this inferential manner will be quite as definite as if you had bid that suit and he had raised it, and it will, moreover, save a whole round of bidding, which you cannot afford to waste, as it is already in a high range after the jump take-out.

Hotel Children Are at Decided Disadvantage

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The child who must be brought up in hotels is at a decided disadvantage. He must be well protected and managed not to be affected by it.

For one thing, it is practically impossible to give a child the freedom it needs in a hotel—either in one's own rooms or in the dining room. It is quite hard enough on a child to have to conform to adult standards in his own home—but when he has to act in a way that is agreeable to the adult residents in a hotel, it is much too trying for him. In addition, a child in a hotel is apt to have too much attention and to become self conscious.

That this situation is hard on the parents, I have not said—but of course it is. Parents living in hotels with children two or three years old have written in in great distress, especially over table episodes in the hotel dining room.

"Almost every day at one meal or another," writes one mother, "he does something that he shouldn't or at least something that an adult does not do at the table. Perhaps he puts a sprig of parsley in the water glass or insists on eating the water out of his glass with a spoon. Tonight he became weary and fussed to get down from his chair—finally he did and immediately commenced to push his chair across the dining room. I called him back, but he said 'no' and kept on. We came up to our room and my husband suggested spanking him. I objected, as I do not think it well to upset a child's digestion by a 'spanking' after his meal. I cannot help thinking it is hard on the boy too."

Of course the chief trouble with this little boy's mealtime habits is that he is really too young to act like a grown person, and yet living in a hotel more has to be expected of him than he is able to accomplish. Most of the things he does would not be noticed in a home dining room.

In the first place, he should not be punished at all and certainly not after his meals. The training of the child would have to take another form. It might be possible for him to be fed quietly in his own rooms in the hotel for at least one meal—breakfast for instance. In any case I think his little "ways" will have to be overlooked as much as possible, though of course in a public place it is difficult.

One thing I know would help—that is, if parents whose children must eat in such a public place would both stop concentrating on the child and his behavior and would think about and talk about other things. If when a small child has finished he cannot be allowed to leave the table he might have a tiny toy or a small picture book to look at. An additional help would be to see that he has much freedom and outdoor play at other times.

Schenck Marriage Reports Puzzle to Producer's Friends

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A Monte Carlo cablegram from Joseph Schenck, movie executive, which was interpreted as an announcement that he had married Merle Oberon, English screen actress, was received this afternoon by Sam Goldwyn, another movie executive.

Goldwyn said he was certain from the cablegram that the couple had married today instead of only becoming formally engaged, as Miss Oberon was quoted from Monte Carlo as saying.

Schenck's cablegram said in part: "Dear Sam: I have gone and done it again. The Riviera was too much for me." It went on to say how happy Schenck expected to be and indicated Miss Oberon would join him in Hollywood in about two months.

A dispatch from Monte Carlo quoted Miss Oberon as saying "I only became engaged this morning" and no wedding plans had been made. She said a report of the engagement was denied Sunday "because it wasn't true then."

Schenck was divorced in Mexico a few months ago by Norma Talmadge, movie actress, who married George Jessel, stage actor.

Faces Thrive on Cream Coat During Tubbing

Heat of the Bath Aids in Absorption.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It's getting to be a pretty well known practice now among complexion beauty seekers to cover the face with cream before stepping into the hot bath. One of the important song birds of these days was telling me the other day that this is her daily complexion ritual. With most effective results, I'll add in her case. She takes the double precaution first of cleaning thoroughly the face of surface dust and grime and letting the second cream application for tub wear do the job of penetrating the pores deeply. A sort of Turkish bath for the face, and a good habit, too, followed by the cold water ablutions, of course, as the song bird beauty practices her rite.

But another thing that may be done as a deep pore cleanser is to let the sun force the cleansing cream in and not as a sterilizing agent where there are such complexion ailments as minor pimples and blackheads. You know these sun cures for excessive oiliness of scalp and skin are recommended by specialists.

You have a lazy afternoon, or maybe just an hour. Take your chair out where the sun begins and give yourself a massage of face or scalp or both. This cream penetration or scalp lotion penetration by sun force is better than hot towels and other shop mechanics. Suppose you give your face a good cleansing with a cleansing cream first. Then step in and clean up. Now, with the face covered with nourishing, wrinkle, or tissue cream go back and sit in the sun some more. Then come in, wipe off surplus, take a cold water dousing, and you have a face that looks the way it should.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

There are always faintly derisive giggles when we mention wrinkle plasters, but we've noticed that when the party is over our feminine friends get us in a corner and ask us confidentially about them. What's more when we do give them what dope we have on the situation they usually buzz right down and buy same.

We happen to know that one of America's most beautiful women, who isn't a sub-deb by two decades but looks as though she were just out of high school, wears such plasters every night of her life. The very subject always used to be good for a gag—and still is, in a way—but the demand continues.

Many women swear by them as we discovered when some got chummy enough to confess that they used them. Among the most popular at the moment are diamond shaped ones that look like stickers, and are. You moisten them, spread them over the lines and allow them to remain on overnight. Their maker says that they contain the astringent qualities of white of egg.

One woman we know tacks these on when she goes for a long, fast, and lonely drive or wears them around the house when she has complete privacy and wants to be all prettied up for some evening occasion.

Because of their shape they're simple to use. If there are a few lines beginning at the corners of the mouth you can stick one on perpendicularly at each side. On the forehead you can use one lengthwise if the lines run straight across or with the points toward nose bridge and hair line, if the wrinkle is a baby one. There are special white stickers to use around the eyes; those for heavy lines have a striking resemblance to brown wrapping paper.

We're told that they help a lot in keeping tiny lines from deepening and that they do unlimber deep furrows, at least temporarily, if they're used faithfully.

Naturally these things are used as a mask would be; you don't invite the neighbors in to see how you look in them. They're strictly for private consumption. You can buy them in several shops around town.

BY ACTUAL TEST *LEADING UNIVERSITY PROVES WALGREEN'S ICE CREAM

Richer . . Purer . . Tastes Better!

AT WALGREEN'S you get the Ice Cream that leads Chicago in Richness . . . Purity . . . and Taste! Thousands know it. For years we have said it. Now, by actual test, a famous university has proved it!

We wanted proof beyond question unbiased and fair. That is why we chose a famous university s research laboratory as the proving ground.

We asked its director to match Walgreen's Ice Cream against Chicago's other leading brands in a series of scientific "showdown" tests for Richness . . . for Purity . . . for Taste. He agreed assigned his ablest assistants to devise and make the tests.

To make sure of absolutely fair tests, care was taken that not one of these scientists knew for which ice cream producer the tests were being made.

At soda fountains . . . selected at random . . . these keen research men bought samples of Chicago's seven leading brands of ice cream, including Walgreen's. At not a single fountain was the reason for these purchases known.

In test tubes . . . under microscopes . . . by every available method, they analyzed and compared every sample. Every test was repeated several times . . . always with secretly bought samples.

The richness and purity of every brand was definitely proved. No angle was overlooked . . . they even held blindfold tests of taste!

Then, after exhaustive testing, came the university's report. In scientific terms it said again just what Walgreen's has said for years . . . that "Walgreen's Ice Cream leads Chicago in Richness . . . Purity . . . and Taste"!

HERE ARE THE RESULTS . . . PROVED BY LABORATORY TESTS

LEADS IN Richness

By analysis of rich cream content, Walgreen's Greater Cream Content Ice Cream proved to be as much as one-fourth richer than other leading Chicago brands of ice cream! This superior richness is due to one simple fact . . . more rich pure cream goes into Walgreen Greater Cream Content Ice Cream!

HIGHEST IN Purity

Under the microscope . . . compared under identical conditions with Chicago's outstanding brands . . . Walgreen's Ice Cream proved to be by a tremendous margin the purest you can buy! The reason? Simply this . . . through every process of its making, from dairy to freezer to fountain, Walgreen's Ice Cream is fully protected by the utmost care and attention known for safeguarding purity.

MOTHERS! Please Note! Pure Ice Cream is healthful food for growing bodies. The most searching tests prove that Walgreen's Ice Cream is by far the purest you can buy. Give the children plenty of Walgreen's Ice Cream . . . it's always fresh, always pure!

BEST BY Taste

On five different days samples of Chicago's seven leading brands of ice cream, marked only by numbers, were placed before five separate groups of people. Each person tasted every sample . . . voted for the most delicious. Walgreen's Ice Cream won all five tests! Averages for all taste tests showed Walgreen's margin of victory to be more than 2½ to 1 over the nearest competitors!

*The complete scientific report on this university laboratory test of Chicago's leading brands of ice cream is on file at the Walgreen Co. General Office.

Where a manufacturer produced more than one grade of ice cream his standard or best selling grade was tested. Special grades of ice cream, selling at higher prices, were not included in the tests.

3 DAYS TO GO AND NO WINNER IN SIGHT YET!

Fans Flock to Polls; Kizer Regains Lead.

BY ARCH WARD.

Only three days to go and still no winner in sight! More than 272,000 football fans have cast ballots thus far in the nation-wide poll to pick a coach for the team of 1933 All Stars, who on the night of Aug. 31 will play the Chicago Bears, and the five leaders are so close that nearly every delivery of the mail changes the standings.

Noble Kizer of Purdue, who has been up front ever since the voting began, leads this morning with a total of 99,727 points. Dick Hanley of Northwestern, who has led the field on three occasions, is second with 98,530. This is the widest margin any of the principal candidates has acquired in several days.

Right behind Hanley stands Bob Zuppke of Illinois, followed by Jimmy Crowley of Fordham, Harry Kipke of Michigan, and Slip Madigan of St. Mary's. Zuppke and Kipke have not had the strongly organized support of Kizer and Hanley, but they are running well everywhere. Madigan owes his lofty position to the votes he has rolled up on the Pacific coast and in his old neighborhood around Ottawa, Ill. He also has pulled heavily from miscellaneous Notre Dame groups.

Conduct Civic Campaigns.

The last three days of the poll will see a furious battle of ballots. They are conducting civic campaigns for Hanley at Evanston, for Kizer at Lafayette, and for Crowley at Green Bay. It will be at least Sunday before the contest department of THE TRIBUNE will be able to present a final tabulation. The voting ends Friday at midnight. No letters or cards stamped after that hour will be counted. Newspapers coöperating with THE TRIBUNE in soliciting expressions from the fans have been instructed to file their total figures not later than Friday night.

Kizer was boosted into first place by returns from Lafayette. Of the first 3,016 ballots counted by the Journal and Courier, which has charge of the Lafayette poll, Kizer received 3,005 for head coach.

For the last few days votes have been coming in at an average of 30,000 a day. If this pace is maintained to the finish Friday, the total voting for coaches will approximate 365,000. More than 165,000 participated in the balloting for players, making a count of more than 520,000 for the entire contest. That exceeds the number that voted in the first all-star baseball game a year ago by more than 20,000.

Two Unable to Play.

Every player who was chosen by the fans to face the Bears has accepted the assignment except Wistert of Michigan, tackle, and Corbus of Stanford, guard. Wistert, who is under contract to the Cincinnati Reds, wrote that his inability to play was the greatest disappointment of his career. Corbus has a position with a coast oil company which he could not leave.

All others, including those who were invited by THE TRIBUNE after the fans had finished their voting, will be here a week from today to begin training at Northwestern university. They are:

ENDS—Skladany, Pittsburgh; Smith, Washington; Canrinus, St. Mary's; Manske, Northwestern; Gillman, Ohio State.

TACKLES—Krause, Notre Dame; Schwammel, Oregon State; Mehringer, Kansas; Rosequist, Ohio State.

GUARDS—Rosenberg, Southern California; Schammel, Iowa; Jones, Indiana; Gailus, Ohio State; Maneikis, Chicago.

CENTERS—Bernard, Michigan; Gorman, Notre Dame; Vuchinich, Ohio State; Krueger, Marquette.

QUARTER BACKS—Laws, Iowa; Pardonner, Purdue; Griffith, Southern California; Montgomery, Columbia.

HALF BACKS—Lukats, Notre Dame; Feathers, Tennessee; Everhardus, Michigan; Cramer, Ohio State; Sebastian, Pittsburgh; Cook, Illinois.

FULL BACKS—Sauer, Nebraska; Mikulak, Oregon; Hecker, Purdue.

PITY THE COACH! HE'LL HAVE HARD TWO WEEKS' TASK

All-Stars Provide Him with Plenty Problems.

Invite Bears

WISCONSIN DELLS, Wis., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—An invitation today was extended to the Chicago Bears, national professional football champions, to use this city as their training headquarters in preparation for the college-all-star game at Chicago on Aug. 31. Mayor Benjamin Olson sent the invitation.

BY DICK HANLEY.
[Football Coach, Northwestern University.]

Football coaching is a race against time. Regardless of how successful a season his team might have enjoyed, a coach can always look back at his practice sessions in retrospect.

He can recall many instances where he might have spent more time profitably in one or another phase of his instructing. Possibly he has neglected his kicking game. Maybe a bit more attention to his pass game would have saved him many a fearful moment. Additional time on defense might have paid dividends. Another chalk talk or two might have helped. And so it goes. No matter how carefully one may have planned his workouts he can always remember some omission.

Imagine, then, the difficulties confronting the coach of the All-Star team. He has less than one-fourth of a season to prepare his team to face the toughest kind of opposition, the Chicago Bears at Soldiers' field Aug. 31. He knows most of his squad only by newspaper clippings. He has had no spring practice to test the potentialities of his material. Granted that he is coaching an All-Star aggregation, and has little, if any, waste material, it is entirely possible that this overabundance of ability may cause him embarrassment.

What a Job! What a Job!

He will not have assistant coaches familiar with his every movement. Nor will there be student managers ready to take care of every little detail. He is indeed facing an entirely different coaching assignment.

The coach must first sell himself to his squad. They must have confidence in his ability, or their cause is hopeless.

Condition will play an important rôle in this contest. Consequently, each workout must be planned to put the squad in tiptop shape and still avoid the aspect of drudgery. If his squad reports to him in fine physical condition the problems of the coach will be lessened to a considerable degree.

There can be little scrimmage until the squad achieves at least a fair degree of physical fitness. Make no mistake about the importance of scrimmage. Only under game conditions can proper timing be achieved. Players quickly lose their ability to time blocking and tackling.

Scrimmage Is Necessary.

Scrimmage sessions are necessary also if the coach is to have an accurate line on his material. He will quickly discover who are the real All-Americans. Morale and spirit will also be developed in these intersquad battles.

A great deal of time must be spent with the kickers. Miller, Hewitt, Musso, and in fact that whole Bear line, are past masters in the art of blocking punts. So speed in getting punts away will materially benefit the All-Stars' cause.

Defense must come in for a considerable portion of the All-Star coach's attention. The Bears' power attack must be at least slowed down. This feat in itself will prove to be no simple chore.

Patience is another highly desirable characteristic on the part of the All-Star coach. For the first ten days the squad's performance will resemble that of a mob scene. Then, almost miraculously, they begin to shape into an organized unit. Confusions of assignments disappear. Correct timing will have been achieved. Players and coach then will be speaking the same language. Morale and team spirit begin to become evident.

The All-Star squad is no more. In its place a highly competent, efficient machine has appeared. One that has alertness, confidence, and organization.

LYNWOOD ROWE.

LYNWOOD Schoolboy Rowe, No. 1 man of the Detroit Tigers' pitching staf, complained throughout spring training about a sore arm. . . . Manager Mickey Cochrane suspected that Rowe's trouble was imaginary. . . . He called in Detroit baseball writers and told them he had decided that Rowe's arm was in such bad shape that the young man would be turned back to Detroit's Beaumont [Tex.] league farm. . . . The authors knew what Cochrane had in mind and they wrote pieces for their papers. . . . Rowe read the items, after which he stopped the Cincinnati Reds cold in a four inning exhibition game just before the season opened. . . . Since then there has been nothing wrong with the Schoolboy. . . . Cochrane now refers to him as his man of destiny. . . . Ed Krause of Notre Dame, who led the field in the national poll to pick a team of college all-stars for the game with the Bears, was the youngest member of the graduating class. . . . He is 21. . . . He had an average of 88 in his senior year. . . . The A. A. U. track team which soon will invade Japan will hold its first meet in Tokio Sept. 8 and 9. . . . Other engagements are scheduled at Osaka, Nagoya, Keigo, and Dairen. . . .

Babe Ruth has gone collegiate. . . . For the first time in his career he is going bareheaded. . . . George Earnshaw, White Sox pitcher, parts his hair in the middle. . . . Dick Madden, Boston heavyweight, tends bar in Jack Sharkey's tavern when he isn't fighting or training. . . . Max Baer wears a slave bracelet on his right wrist, from which dangles a little gold heart with a French inscription on it. . . . It was given him by a girl admirer. . . . Charley Dressen, whose second passion is horse racing, stopped betting when he was named manager of the Cincinnati Reds. . . . A strutting drum major will be featured on Northwestern's football posters this fall. . . .

Charley Grimm and Lew Fonseca were spotted in the Bowery at the World's Fair one night last week. . . . They were framed and tried in the police court on a charge of visiting an immoral peep show. . . . Ted Lyons grips his knuckle ball with the tips of his nails on the seams. . . . Jimmy Dykes has his thumb under the ball on every throw. . . . Things are breaking fast for Joe Skladany, Pittsburgh's All-American end. . . . He quits his job at Camp Ellwood, Pa., at noon, Aug. 15. . . . He will be married that evening and will report with the College All-Stars at Dyche stadium, Evanston, next morning. . . . After the game he will join the Pittsburgh team of the National Professional Football league. . . . Wilfrid Smith's automobile burned to the chassis when he was vacationing in Indiana last week-end. . . . Waterloo, Ia., may place a team in the Western league next season. . . .

The athletic committee at Bradley Tech has refused to vote funds to enable coaches to carry on a scouting program before games. . . . Jimmy Brooklyn DeShong, reigning pitching sensation with the Yankees, has failed miserably as a relief man since he began his victory march, but works like a champion in any game he starts. . . . Bill Terry has given up the idea of taking the Giants to Panama for spring training next season because better guarantees have been promised in the United States. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Joe Hauser's two home runs gave the Athletics a 7 to 3 victory over the Browns. . . . William T. Tilden and William M. Johnston were appointed members of the American Davis cup team. . . . Earl Sande, with both legs broken as a result of a spill at Saratoga, said he would fool the doctors and ride again. . . . Art Nehf pitched the Giants to a 5 to 3 victory over the Cubs. . . . The St. Louis Cardinals announced the purchase of Chick Hafey, star outfielder of the Houston club of the Texas league.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Something happened to the White Sox yesterday. Instead of resembling their usual selves they bore the label of genuine contenders and defeated Cleveland's Indians, who are members of the first division élite. The score of the series opener, after the Sox had turned loose a pack of hits and George Earnshaw had produced some pitching of consequence, was 8 to 2. It was Earnshaw's tenth victory and brought the Sox almost to even terms in their season's affairs with the Indians. The latter lead now eight games to seven.

Earnshaw was so full of enthusiasm for his work that the Indians had little to show for their efforts. For the first eight innings the ex-Mackman yielded only five hits, all singles. Two of these came together in the second and were the means of the only visitor reaching third base until the ninth. Then the Indians improved slightly and escaped from a shutout. Odell Hale hit a home run and another run scored on a pass and a double.

Bonura's Record Broken.

The pleasing feature about the Sox's sixteen hit attack was that they didn't pick on a weakling. They assaulted Mel Harder, the pitching standout of the recent all-star game at New York. Mel was nicked for two runs in the first inning and two more in the third. The latter uprising caused his removal, but this didn't discourage the Sox. They leaped on Clint Brown in the fifth and later on tendered a slight jarring to the gentleman who owns the trick name of Belve Bean.

The Sox weren't able to get through the day's entertainment without having another member enrolled on their extensive hospital list. Zeke Bonura, after furnishing two doubles, which figured in two scoring episodes, pulled a charley horse and was forced to retire, thus snapping his record of having played every inning this season. No other first basemen were available, so Manager Jimmy Dykes took over the job in the last four innings and did himself proud.

O, Happy Days!

The Sox didn't begin to get gay in the first inning until after Swanson had been tossed out. Conlan stung Harder with a drive which bounced back to the foul line for a single and Simmons singled to right, putting Conlan on third. Bonura sent a long fly to left and Conlan scored after the catch. Simmons hiked to third on Appling's single to right. Dykes singled into center to score Simmons and Hopkins was plunked in the short ribs, filling the bases. Madjeski then flied to Vosmik and the fun stopped.

Simmons had the pleasure of starting the two run affair which caused Harder to surrender in the third. He led off with a single to center. Bonura lined into the wide open spaces of left center, Simmons scoring and Zeke pulling up at second. Harder made an attempt to nip Zeke off second, but inadvertently threw the ball into center field, so Zeke went to third. Appling lined to Knickerbocker. Dykes was tossed out by Kamm, but Bonura

Chicago Stars Advance in Women's Golf

Favorites advanced to the second round of match play in the women's state golf tourney at the Evanston Country club yesterday. Only one match went to the final green, where Miss Diane Marks of Calumet defeated Helen MacMorran of Indian Hill. Miss Marks was 1 up at the turn and the match seesawed back and forth on the last nine until Miss MacMorran ran into a 7 on the 15th and trap trouble on the 17th. The match was all square leaving the 18th, but Miss MacMorran hooked her second into the pond and piled up another seven to lose the final hole and the match.

Rena Nelson of Exmoor, the new city champion and medalist of the current tourney, advanced at the expense of a clubmate, Janet Willard, but not until Miss Willard rounded

VAUGHAN HITS HOMER WITH 2 ON TO BEAT LEE

Chicagoans Held to Eight Singles.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 7.—Heinie Meine, a wobbly old timer who had pitched only one complete game this year, this afternoon felt no aches and pains in standing the Cubs on their heads for nine innings. Heinie's reward was a 4 to 1 Pirate victory, his fourth of the season in National league competition.

Of course, Heinie might have failed to show such comfort and stamina had it not been for the fact that a homer by Arky Vaughan, with two on in the first inning, supplied balm and inspiration for the chore at hand. Before Vaughan got a chance to effect his smash the Cubs had shown signs of being on a merry-go-round. Moreover, they were sufferers from spells of dizziness after Little Arky put the contest on ice.

In the first half of the game the Cubs piled up a total of one single, and it was wiped out in a double play almost before the hopeful Chicago authors could record it in their record books. All the eight hits made by the Cubs were singles.

Lee, Root Pitch.

Bill Lee and Charley Root allowed only nine hits, but there was, of course, that Vaughan homer. Arky made a single besides and was the only player in the game to knock an extra base hit.

The Cubs as a result of their poor performance today sagged another game back of the wide awake Giants, who now are four games ahead of the Chicagoans.

Lloyd Waner opened the Pirate first with a single through shortstop. Paul Waner bunted to Lee and Grimm fumbled the throw to first base. So the two Waners were on base with none out. Lindstrom forced P. Waner, Lee to English, L. Waner stopping at third. Vaughan then drove his homer into the right field stand, scoring behind L. Waner and Lindstrom.

English was the only Cub base runner in the first four innings. He singled and went down in a double play in the first inning and walked to no avail in the fourth.

Cubs Get a Run.

The Cubs got a run home in the fifth. With one down O'Farrell singled to center, the second hit off Meine, and went to third on Grimm's single to right. Hack grounded to Meine and, with a double play in sight, Vaughan dropped the throw to second. O'Farrell scored, Grimm got to second, and Hack reached first on the error. Hurst batted for Lee and flied to Lindstrom. Billy Herman popped to Suhr.

The Chicagoans apparently had a little trouble stirred up in the sixth. English got on base for the third time when he drew another pass. Stainback popped to Vaughan, but Babe Herman singled to left, English stopping at second. As Cuyler fanned Grace tossed the ball to Traynor, who tagged Woody at third for a double play.

Traynor Scores After Pass.

Root walked Traynor to start the home sixth and Pie got to third when Thevenow bounced a single past Hack. Grace lined to Stainback. Meine bunted, scoring Traynor, and when first base was left uncovered Meine was credited with a single. L. Waner flied to Babe Herman. Then P. Waner singled to left, but Stainback made a perfect throw and O'Farrell a nice play to get Thevenow at the plate.

In the seventh Hack made a single and Root put him on third with a single, but there were two out at the time and the session ended with Billy Herman's fly to Lindstrom.

In their seventh the Pirates got the bases full on a single and two passes after one was out. Then Thevenow hit into a double play.

Herman Misses Fly.

After English, Stainback and Babe Herman had gone out on infield taps in the eighth, Grace opened the home half by sending an easy fly to Babe Herman. The Babe stood and waited a long time for the ball to come down and then let it fall to the turf for a two base error. Babe was spared deeper embarrassment when Grace was caught at third on Meine's bunt

FOUR TIE WITH 71S IN WESTERN JUNIOR TOURNEY

Johnson, Haas, Hill, and Ackerman Top Field.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

A field of 225 embryo Dunlaps and Littles, with perchance a future Runyan or a Laffoon among them, began play in the twenty-first annual western junior tournament at the Hinsdale Golf club yesterday and moved at such a pace that when the shooting was over they were without an individual medalist. Four of them ran a dead heat with par of 71 to tie for the lead at the end of the eighteen hole qualifying round.

The quartet included Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans, La., new southern amateur champion; Keith Johnson of Bloomington, Ill., former state interscholastic titleholder; Elton Hill, University of Illinois junior, and Ralph Ackerman of Mohawk. A stroke back of them was Winfield Day, the Notre Dame star, who holds the Chicago district junior crown. Fred Schwarze of Detroit, Mich., and Willie Thomsen of Racine, Wis., were next with 73s.

Field Sets Record.

The field was the fastest in the history of the tournament and the largest for an eighteen hole course. The only group to exceed it in numbers was the entry of 312 in the 1932 tournament, when two of Medinah's courses were in use. Such was the battle for the thirty-two berths in the first round of match play, starting this morning, that eleven boys were forced into a playoff for the last six places in the match play bracket.

The oustanding casualty of the qualifying round was Jim Black of St. Louis, runner-up for the title last year, who dropped out with an 80.

Two eighteen hole matches will be played today and tomorrow, with the thirty-six hole championship match concluding the tournament on Friday. Another playoff is in prospect later in the week, when the four who tied for qualifying honors will play off for the medal.

All These Got 77s.

The eleven players who tied at 77 and played off for the last six match play positions included Edgar Hutchison [younger son of Jock Hutchison] of Glen View, Peter Brockhoff of Hinsdale, Frank Wells of Kenosha, Russell Eddy of Lincolnshire, Walter Carroll of Evanston, Ed Wojcik of Chicago Heights, Jack Vilas Jr. of Evanston, Carl Blake of Kankakee, Harry Gonder of Michigan City, George Victor of Wilmette, and Allan Lunn of Kinsman.

Hutchison, Brockoff, Gonder, Lunn, and Blake won their way into the first round at the first hole, but it required two more holes before Eddy finally took the sixth and last place.

The pairings for the first round of match play:

JACK LESWICK TRADED BEFORE TIME OF DEATH

Jack Leswick, the hocky player whose body was recovered Saturday from a river near Winnipeg, Manitoba, was not the property of the Chicago Blackhawks at the time of his death. Leswick, who played center for the Chicago club in many of their National league games last winter, had been traded to the Cleveland club of the International league for Normie Locking about two weeks ago, but the deal had not been announced.

Upon learning of Leswick's death, Bill Tobin, business manager of the Hawks, announced the deal. Locking will report with the other players in the fall to Manager Clem Loughlin at the Hawks' training camp at Champaign.

DOUBTS MURDER THEORY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Aug. 7.—The possibility that Jack Leswick, professional hocky player, was the victim of hold-up men was doubted today by Dr. C. H. Speechly, coroner.

"There was nothing to indicate murder. I believe the death of Leswick was caused by drowning, as there were no marks of violence on the body," Dr. Speechly said.

LOTT REGARDS WOOD, STOEFEN AS TENNIS HOPES

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Six weeks in England have convinced George Lott Jr., the Chicago Davis cup doubles veteran, that one year of hard training and plenty of tennis for Lester Stoefen, the towering Los Angelean, and Sidney Wood Jr., the frail New Yorker, will enable the United States to recapture the Davis cup from England.

Lott and Stoefen returned today from England on board the liner Paris, both of them jubilant over their doubles triumph over Australia in the interzone final and over England in the challenge round. They were America's only point winners.

Stoefen, playing in the cup competition for the first time, suffered a loss of 20 pounds from a combination of nervousness and exertion.

"England had the better team, there's no question about that," Lott said, "but I honestly believe we can beat them next year if Wood and Stoefen buckle down to serious training and can get in a solid year of tennis."

O'Hanley Beats Fetz, 3 and 1, in City Golf

Favorites advanced to the third round of match play for the 30th Chicago amateur golf championship at Jackson park yesterday. Only one upset marked the second round, Gus Fetz of Evergreen being defeated by Joe O'Hanley, Westgate, 3 and 1.

Among the favorites to come through was Pete Miller, winner of the title in 1929. Miller drew a bye in the first round, and yesterday was forced to go 22 holes before winning from Chuck Harding of Big Run. Miller today will meet C. A. Grosscurth, who drew a bye yesterday, in the third round.

In defeating Fetz O'Hanley scored a 35 on the first nine for a 5 up lead. They halved the 10th, 11th, and 12th holes. Fetz won the 13th with a par 3, halved the 14th, and then won the next two holes, cutting O'Hanley's lead to 2 up. The 17th hole was won by O'Hanley to end the match.

Walter Crowdus, defending champion, drew a bye and will meet P. B. Lovegren this morning. Other favorites who advanced were Sonny Manarchy of Rockford, Al Andereggan of Cherry Hill and Harold Mathisen. Yesterday's results:

LAFFOON LEADS HAGEN TOURNEY WITH CARD OF 68

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Ky Laffoon of Denver, shot a 68 over the east course at Oak Hill today to lead a field of professionals and amateurs in the 72 hole medal play Walter Hagen testimonial open tourney.

Laffoon was out in 33 despite a six on the par five fourth where he lifted his head as he chipped for a birdie, and was home in 35, with another six on the 13th where his drive caught a creek.

Right behind Laffoon came Tom Newlove of Syracuse, who had five birdies, the same as Laffoon, and scored a 69. Bracketed at 70 came the first amateur, Gordon Taylor Jr., of Toronto, and Leo Diegel of Philadelphia. Taylor was out in 37 and home in 33 while Diegel knit a pair of 35's. Those four were the only ones under par 71 for the 6,800 yard course.

Eight were bracketed at even par, including Joe Turnesa, New York; Vincent Eldred, Pittsburgh; Harry Cooper, Chicago; Al Houghton, Washington; Gene Sarazen, New York, and George Von Elm, New York. Hagen had a 72. Other scores included:

Bob Harlow, Detroit	84
Olin Dutra, Brentwood Heights, Cal.	76

Three Invitational Tourneys on Golf Schedule Today

Three of the largest invitational tournaments of the Chicago District golf season dominate today's program, which also includes the first two rounds of the western junior at Hinsdale, the second round of the women's state meet at Evanston, and the third round of the city amateur at Jackson Park. The trio of invitationals are the Medinah Camel Trail, the Butterfield Cruise, and Knollwood's annual invitational day. Larry Rutherford of Medinah expects 1,000 at the Camel Trail, while Tom Grace of Butterfield anticipates an entry of 300 in the twelfth annual Cruise.

An extra day has been added for practice for contestants in the qualifying round for the national amateur championship tournament, scheduled for Aug. 21 at the Oak Park Country club. The course will be open Aug. 17, 18, and 20 to players who show their U. S. G. A. entry receipts. Green fees will be charged on other days.

The Chicago Women's District Golf association and the Illinois Professional Golfers' association will hold a professional-women's best ball event at Ridgemoor on the afternoon of Aug. 26.

The fifteenth anniversary of the Carpet and Upholstery club will be held at Medinah Country club tomorrow. Two hundred are expected to play in the golf events.

Owing to a conflict in dates, it has been found necessary to postpone the one day handicap event of the Chicago District Golf association scheduled for Friday at the Knollwood club until Thursday, Aug. 16.

Among the early entries received for the Chicago district amateur championship tournament at Medinah Country club next week are those of Don Armstrong [former state champion], Jim Garard of Skokie, A. L. Miller of Bob o' Link, S. L. Reinhardt of Northmoor, and George K. Whyte of Glen Flora. The opening event on Monday will be a pro-amateur tournament at 36 holes, and on Tuesday the qualifying round for the amateur championship and flights will be played.

A thousand entries in the third annual Chicago Daily Fee Golf association tournament, which starts Saturday, were predicted yesterday by association officials.

The qualifying rounds will consist of medal play at 18 holes on four courses—Techny Fields, Evergreen, Harlem, and Golfmoor—instead of at the various association courses throughout the Chicago district. At each of the four courses eight players will be chosen for the match play Sunday at Mission Hills. The medalist at each of the starting courses will be presented with a medal.

Because of the large number of last minute entries expected, players will be signed up to 3:30 p. m. at the first tees on the four courses where preliminaries will be conducted.

ENDEAVOUR WILL REACH AMERICAN SHORES TODAY

Newport, R. I., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The coast guard cutter Argo, dispatched to escort the British cup challenger Endeavour to Bristol, R. I., tonight in a radio communication from the Endeavour learned that the yacht expected to reach Brenton's Reef light vessel early tomorrow morning.

The message said the Endeavour, which will be raced for the America's cup by T. O. M. Sopwith of England, was 34 miles southeast of No Man's Land whistling buoy and proceeding at six knots.

Commander Beckwith Jordan of the Argo, planned to pick up the Endeavour at the international yacht race buoy nine miles southeast of Brentons and stand by.

The Endeavour earlier had been in communication with shore officials here, seeking to arrange for quick clearance on arrival. Later Dr. E. V. Murphy, port officer, messaged the yacht that he, with Deputy Collector Walter Dring Jr., would meet her at Brentons Cove at 9 o'clock in the morning and for her to moor there until they boarded.

Shorts for Women Golfers Prove No Short, Short Story

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—The argument over shorts for women golfers gave no promise today of being as short as its subject. On every course in the New York area women—and men as well—were hotly debating the ruling of the Women's Metropolitan Golf association Monday banning shorts in tournament play.

Views ranged from "sensible and attractive" to "ridiculous and vulgar." Many women golfers who had not worn shorts before vowed they would do so now. On the other hand, others who favor shorts declared they would nevertheless abide strictly by the rule of the women's association.

Miss Josephine Windle, secretary of the association, who promulgated the rule, spoke up to point out that it applied only to tournament play and was not intended to frown on shorts on individual courses.

This is the way the ruling was received throughout the country:

CHICAGO—Mrs. Howard D. Raymond, president of the Women's Western Golf association: "We're broadminded. I expect the vogue for shorts for golf to grow among men and women."

BOSTON—"Even here, where we have the bluest of blue laws, there's no rule against shorts. But very few women are wearing them."

SAN FRANCISCO—Officials of the Northern California Women's Golf association: "The silliest thing we ever heard of. Those eastern women can't be serious about the matter!"

Cyclists Will Ride Tonight at Logan Square

More than a score of motorcycle racers will compete in the fourteenth American Motorcycle association meet at the Logan Square baseball park, Kedzie and Elston avenues, tonight.

In addition to the scratch and handicap events, in which Mark Kelly is leading all the riders in the A. M. A. standings, there will be a team race between Chicago and Milwaukee quartets which is likely to bring out some of the fastest riding of the season.

Jimmy Gibb, who has been riding well in his effort to overhaul the leading Kelly, heads the Chicago team, with which he won the last contest. Gibb, however, has lost Lou Wilson, one of the mainstays of the team. Kelly will have Dick Springston, Tom Cox, and Clifford Hills on his quartet.

Gibb is only a few points behind Kelly in the A. M. A. standings, and if he rides as well tonight as he has in recent weeks he will have an excellent chance to displace his rival in first place.

WALTER JOHNSON HOPES TO REJOIN INDIANS TUESDAY

"I think I'll be able to join the club in Washington on Aug. 14," Johnson said. "I expect to leave the hospital in a few days and would like to join the team immediately, but the doctors won't let me."

GIANTS DEFEAT DODGERS, 6-4, ON TRIPLE IN 7TH

Hubbell's Shutout Streak Ends at 24 Innings.

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Giants continued the subjugation of their National league neighbors, the Dodgers, today but they had to come from behind to win, 6 to 4, on a long hit by Travis Jackson and some fine relief pitching by Carl Hubbell.

Jackson's hit, a hard liner which went for a triple when it bounded off the right field wall, came with the bases loaded in the seventh and produced the winning runs. Hubbell got credit for his 16th victory, relieving Johnny Salveson in the sixth, but his streak of scoreless pitching was halted after 24 1-3 innings when the Dodgers scored in the eighth.

Joe Moore hurt his left leg, which troubled him a few weeks ago, when he went after Joe Stripp's fly in the second, and George Watkins replaced him in left field. Score:

The first game saw Dizzy Dean score his twentieth victory of the season against four defeats. It saw, as well, Si Johnson hold the Cards to three hits until the eighth, when Rothrock and Frisch singled and Dean sacrificed, and two Red errors helped two runs across. Scores:

Tigers' 8 Run Rally Beats Browns, 12-8; Rowe on Shelf

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Although they temporarily lost the services of Linwood [Schoolboy] Rowe, their star pitcher, and were forced to trail the St. Louis Browns for six innings, the Tigers put on a whirlwind finish today to take their series opener, 12 to 8.

Rowe was relieved in the first inning when he suffered a "stitch" in his back, which Trainer Denny Carroll attributed to a cold. The Schoolboy is expected back in the lineup, however, in two days. In the seventh 12 Tigers batted for a total of eight runs. Score:

SENATORS, YANKS SPLIT.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—After extending their winning streak to five games with a ninth inning rally that netted them a 4 to 3 victory in the first game of a double header today, the Yankees were mowed down by Washington in the second encounter and lost, 6 to 3.

The defeat cost the Yanks a half game in their pennant race with the Detroit Tigers, leaving them a game and a half behind Mickey Cochrane's victorious club.

Where Johnny Murphy of Fordham limited the Senators to five hits in the opening contest, another Johnny, Broaca of Yale, was pounded for 15 hits in the seven innings he worked in the second. Scores:

Sox Purchase 3 Players; Other Deals Pending

There was a quantity of activity yesterday in the White Sox business office. Three players who are to be delivered in the future were purchased, according to announcement from President J. Louis Comiskey. One of the trio is Dan Hafey, an outfielder with the Mission Coast league club. He's a tall, 22 year old lad, who is batting .354. Dan is a cousin of Chick Hafey of the Reds. The other acquisitions are Hugo Klaerner, a pitcher with the Pine Bluff, Ark., club, and Infielder Maulding of the Lafayette, La., team. Other deals are pending.

Les Tietje, who has rested since his last minute fadeout last Thursday at St. Louis, will handle today's pitching for the Sox in the second of the series. Monte Pearson may be nominated by Uncle Willie Kamm, now acting manager of the Indians.

Before the start of the game a delegation from Berwyn stepped to the plate and presented Manager Jimmy Dykes with a roll of paper on which were inscribed the names of hundreds of well-wishers.

Al Simmons was so greatly concerned about his injured right thumb that he had the member X-rayed yesterday. The negative showed no fractures.

Bonura's injury which is located in the groin of the left leg may be serious enough to keep him out indefinitly. Dr. Schacht, the trainer, said he would know more today after determining how the injury responded to a night of treatment.

An assist on a fly ball doesn't happen often but it did yesterday in the first inning. Averill popped to Appling but the ball bounced out of his hands and went straight into the hands of Dykes who was standing about 5 feet away.

Sox Defeat Indians, 8-2; Bonura Out made no attempt to score. He went home a moment later, however, on Hopkins' single to center. Harder then withdrew and Brown ended the inning without further mishap.

Bring on Mr. Bean!

Brown avoided complications until the fifth when with one out Bonura doubled to center. Zeke reached second only under difficulties because he developed the charley horse rounding first. Appling singled to center, but Bonura discovered he couldn't run so remained at second. He was promptly excused for Boken. A pass to Dykes filled the bases. Hopkins lined a single to right center, scoring Boken and Appling. Madjeski caromed a two bagger off Knickerbocker's glove. Dykes scoring and Hopkins halting at third. Bean then relieved Brown and retired the next two batters.

Against Mr. Earnshaw's crafty throwing the Indians didn't come up with a base runner until one was out in the second when Trosky singled to right. Hale followed with a looping single into short center. Kamm flied to right, and Pytlak fouled out after his previous foul had been dropped by Hopkins. The Indians' third hit came from Seeds with one out in the third, but Earnshaw tossed out one of the next two men and fanned the other.

Big Hearted George!

Earnshaw got big hearted in the sixth and gave up his first walk. The recipient was Vosmik, but two were out and no damage ensued. In the seventh the visitors reached new heights. They had two men on base with nobody out. Hale opened with a single to left, and Kamm drew the second pass issued by Earnshaw. The big fellow lost no time getting out of this jam. Pytlak was stopped on a foul to Madjeski, Bean fanned, and Seeds flied to Appling.

Earnshaw added to his pleasure by doubling into the right field corner off Bean in the seventh. Swanson singled to right, but Earnshaw, wishing to conserve his energy, only went to third. Swanson went to second on the throw in. Conlan banged a long fly to right and Earnshaw scored after the catch.

Shutout Fades in Ninth.

Hale's home run, which put a stop to the shutout, sailed into the left field pavilion with one out in the ninth. It was followed by a pass to Kamm, and Pytlak's double, on which Kamm halted at third. Burnett batted for Bean and rolled to Dykes. This gave Kamm time to score. Seeds then flied to Conlan.

and the Waners furnished a pair of outs.

Cuyler led off the ninth with the seventh Cub hit, a single to right center. Vaughan leaped into the air for a one hand catch of O'Farrell's liner, and Grimm flied to P. Waner. Hack singled to left, Cuyler stopping at second. Phelps then batted for Root and forced Hack to end the game.

MALONE, BUSH PITCH TODAY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 7.—Pat Malone and Guy Bush will pitch for the Cubs in tomorrow's double header against the Pirates. Pat will be after his No. 12 and Guy after his No. 13. The Cubs expect to look at Red Lucas and Ed Holley.

The last game Bob O'Farrell caught for the Cubs prior to today was in May, 1925. He looks almost as young and sprightly as he did then.

Malone picked up a black cat in the Chicago Union station, bought it a pint of cream, fetched it to Pittsburgh, then abandoned it on the front doorstep of the hostelry here. It is said that Manager Grimm didn't think the Cubs needed a black cat.

WHITE OWL

Cigar Tobaccos now graded like Wines—by their Vintage . .

The White Owl Grade A Vintage Mark means finest filler tobaccos from selected crops

MOST fine wines have Vintage years . . . 1911 for the Hocks from Rheingau . . . 1921 for the Champagnes from Rheims . . . 1924 for Médoc Clarets—Vintage years when they're at their best.

Tobacco, too, has its Vintage years. Years in which the leaf is mild, full-flavored. Only tobacco of such quality ever goes into the filler of White Owls.

The General Cigar Company maintains a vast inspection system by means of which we keep a record—throughout the growing season—of districts raising filler tobacco in Pennsylvania and Ohio . . . the two states which produce nearly all United States cigar filler tobacco.

Thus, we know where the Vintage crops occur—and we buy White Owl's Grade A tobacco only from such quality yields. No other tobacco is ever used in the filler of White Owls.

Look for the Grade A VINTAGE Mark

That's why we can put a Grade A Vintage mark on every White Owl box. Now you can choose a 5¢ cigar without guesswork—just look for the Vintage mark.

How White Owl Smokers Are Protected

THE General Cigar Company maintains a comprehensive Crop Inspection System built up over the last ten years. By this means, we learn the condition of nearly every tobacco district in Pennsylvania and Ohio—the two states which produce practically all the cigar filler tobacco grown in the United States.

So accurate is this inspection system that every vintage crop can be forecast, and our buyers are on the spot to purchase the best of it for White Owls.

But vintage tobaccos alone are not enough. Even in Vintage years we classify all filler tobacco into seven grades. And only tobacco of the quality of the top three grades passes White Owl's strict requirements for its Grade A filler tobacco. No other filler tobacco is ever used in White Owls. That's what we mean when we say Grade A Vintage tobacco.

At the present moment, we have sufficient Grade A Vintage filler tobacco mellowing in our warehouses to make nearly 1 billion White Owls—more than a two-year supply. With this tremendous reserve, we can assure every White Owl smoker of a continued supply of the mild, fragrant cigars which Vintage tobaccos yield.

White Owls are now being made from famous Vintage Crops . . . the 1931 Pennsylvania and the 1930 and 1931 Ohio.

BY FRENCH LANE.

A 2 year old which does most of its running in the stretch was uncovered in the Brookdale purse at Hawthorne yesterday.

The youngster is Listening, a daughter of Morse Code-Mirthful, which sports the white and green jacket of Thomas Piatt, veteran Kentucky horseman. After Bert Reid had apparently stolen the race at the had of the stretch with a two length lead, Listening began to move up from fifth place in the six horse field.

She dashed past Show Boy, Wise Player, and No Saint in midstretch. Within the shadow of the finish line she jumped along side the fast moving Bert Reid. Her sudden appearance startled Jocky Charley Landolt, up on Bert Reid. Before he could get in a whipping position Listening was the winner by a head and Bert Reid was in second place just a neck ahead of Pompous Genie.

It Was Plenty Close.

The three leaders put on one of the most thrilling finishes of the Hawthorne season and persons not on a direct line with the wire could not separate the three leaders. Listening, fresher than any of the others among her 2 year old rivals, was going strong and had run the six furlongs over an off track in 1:14 3-5.

It had been a wide open betting race with No Saint, owned by Mrs. Jack Whitney, which finished last, installed as the 3 to 1 favorite. Listening paid $15.16 to win, $6.64 to place, and $3.92 to show. So evenly balanced was the field, she was the long shot of the race. Bert Reid's place price was $6.28 and he paid $4.38 to show. Pompous Genie was at $4.24 to show.

Another finish which offered so many thrills it made the Hawthorne visitors forget all about the heat and the humidity, came in the running of the 6½ furlong sixth race.

Up From Behind.

The winner which drove up from behind in this instance was Wise Ways, a son of Supremus-Belle Alliance from the barn of R. T. Watts of Chicago.

When the battle started down the stretch Broad Meadows, a former campaigner for Col. Edward R. Bradley, now racing for the Running W. Ranch stable of Texas, was enjoying a lead of two lengths. After a stiff brush with Levaal on the last turn, Broad Meadows had romped away from his field. Wise Ways was running third, a good three lengths back of the two leaders.

Jocky King had rated him to perfection and had given him just the sort of breathing spell he needed before it was time to do some real running. When called upon, Wise Ways had all sorts of speed. He soon ran down Broad Meadows and went on to win without being hustled in the final stages.

Broad Meadows hung on fairly well after Wise Ways had conquered him and saved second money from Hoops, which had moved up from far back. This was another wide open betting affair, with Blue Day, which finished fourth, the favorite at 3 to 1. Wise Ways was nearly 4 to 1 in the betting.

VINES, KOZELUH WILL REVEAL 2 STYLES OF PLAY

When Ellsworth Vines and Karel Kozeluh play Saturday on the courts of the Knollwood Country club, Lake Forest, tennis fans will see American and European styles of play.

Vines, as an exponent of the American school, is the driving type, who by force of return, endeavors to overwhelm his opponent.

Kozeluh, on the other hand, plays a conservative game, constantly keeping the ball in play, jockying for position until finally a telling placement can be made.

SNOBEEDO took command at once, was steadied on the turn and, mildly shaken up entering stretch, continued well, winning with something left. BRILLIANT QUEEN, much the best and hustled to lead on inside, was under strong restraint rounding the turn, came away in stretch and was taken in hand in last sixteenth. JOSEPH J. G., rank at post, raced wide and, closing resolutely, slowly disposed of TABITHA in final eighth. Latter weakened slightly after reaching closing eighth.

TEAROUT away poorly and raced wide throughout, made up ground rapidly, and was kept under energetic riding after gaining the lead. PEPPLER, a strong factor after first quarter, held the lead briefly soon after reaching stretch and was beaten when he stumbled in final stretch and closed with fine late speed.

Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 3.50½. At post one minute. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily; second and third driving.

CARBON, a strong factor from the start, swerved out badly when going to front soon after entering stretch and came away from BAY SERVANT in last eighth. Latter, also close up from the start, was forced wide by winner and faltered slightly after making a game bid. BELLE GRIER, away fast but taken back, saved ground entering stretch and finished well.

Sallee. Went to post at 4:16. At post 2½ minutes. Start good from Bahr gate; won driving; second third same.

LISTENING, away slowly and slow to respond to light pressure, saved some ground entering the stretch and gaining fast after straightening up, came around BERT REID gradually and was up in closing strides. BERT REID took command easily after racing NO SAINT into submission and held on stubbornly but was not good enough. POMPOUS GENIE, rank as post and badly outrun early, lost much ground on the stretch turn and closing with a rush appeared best.

SIXTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

WISE WAYS, away fast but taken back slightly under snug restraint, offered excellent response when called upon and, wearing down BROAD MEADOWS, came away to win without need of pressure. BROAD MEADOWS took an easy lead on stretch turn and, though failing to withstand winner, held on courageously. HOOPS made a weak bid after reaching stretch, then faltered, but withstood BLUE DAY. The latter, badly outrun to stretch, made up ground thereafter.

RED WHISK, much the best, gained fast on outside after reaching the turn, opened up a long lead quickly, and won in hand. SINGLE STRIPE, forced to ease on turn and brought to outside in stretch, closed boldly. LE MISERABLE, away slowly and forced to lose ground much of the way, moved up after reaching stretch and fought it out gamely.

PAIGE, COLORED PITCHING STAR, FANS HIS FOES

Satchel Paige, gangling right hander of the Pittsburgh Crawfords, is expected to be the starting pitcher for the east in the annual all-star game of the Negro National league, which will be played at Comiskey park on Aug. 26.

When Paige turns on his fast ball and assortment of curves batters of the Negro National league usually are out swinging. It is not unusual for him to fan 16 in a game. Paige's achievements have not been limited to the colored leagues, for coast leaguers and major leaguers who play winter ball in California have looked helpless against him.

Last winter in the California winter league Paige won 21 games and lost 3 and averaged 14 strikeouts per game. There are many fans on the coast who believe this 6 foot 2 inch pitcher is a match for any major league batsman.

In ten years of professional competition he has struck out 4,187 batters.

Watches Show Electric Eye Fraction Off

Hawthorne's widely heralded electric eye timer became temperamental in the hot weather which prevailed yesterday. It was off a fifth of a second, according to some clockers, in races at 6½ furlongs. The eye was rechecked during the afternoon, and later on in the day registered perfect fractions once more.

The eighth straight first race favorite went down into defeat yesterday when the 3 to 2 choice Transcall finished second to the Audley Farm stable's Snobeedo.

A new low was hit on Hawthorne daily double payoffs yesterday when the winning combination of Brilliant Queen and Tearout won the second and third races. Both were short priced favorites. The daily double paid off at $8.92.

After whipping his field by ten lengths in the last race on Monday, Snaplock woke up yesterday morning to discover that the purse had been taken away from his owner, William Sachsenmaier of Jersey City. Snaplock should have carried 3 pounds more than he did as he sailed along to his easy triumph. The $625 in first money was awarded to George Keeton, whose Try It finished second. The decision had no effect on the betting.

An amendment to the claiming rule was announced yesterday by the Illinois racing commission which provides that when a stable has been eliminated under the Illinois claiming rule—that is, when an owner's last horse is claimed—the owner may make claims at succeeding meetings for the remainder of the year without being represented by horses at the track where he wishes to make claims.

Chuck Klein of the Cubs was a Hawthorne visitor yesterday. Another visitor was the mother of Jocky Paul Keester, who saw her son ride for the first time when he was beaten on Transcall in the first race.

Michigan Lists Trout Streams, Muskie Waters

BY BOB BECKER.

Fishermen who are planning to go to Michigan will find the listing of trout streams and muskie waters, prepared by the fisheries division of the department of conservation, of considerable help. This list directs attention to the larger trout streams of the state, in which millions of fish are planted every year. Write directly to the department of conservation, Lansing, Mich., if you wish a copy of this list.

By calling attention to names and locations of lakes in which muskellunge are found Michigan should help many anglers, because there aren't many places in the state where the muskie has made a place for himself. In fact, Michigan was rather slighted by nature when the muskies were shuffled around and distributed in the middle west.

When distribution was completed Michigan received around 20 or 25 lakes and streams stocked with muskies, a relatively small number considering many muskie lakes in Wisconsin, Minnesota, and other areas to the north.

Among Michigan waters offering a fisherman a chance at a muskie are Bellaire and Clam lakes in Antrim county; Elk and Torch lakes, two beautiful deep lakes of magnificent color; Gun and Thornapple lakes in Berry county; Platte lake in Benzie county; Black, Burt, and Mullet lakes and the Indian river in Cheboygan county; St. Mary's river, Munuscong bay, and Duck lake in Chippewa county; Lake Leelanau, in Leelanau county [northwest of Traverse City]; Muscalunge lake in Luce county; Brevort lake, which is in the upper peninsula of Michigan; Hamlin and Pere Marquette lakes in Mason county; and Bear lake in Muskegon county.

Although fishermen do get a few muskies in these waters it is only fair to say that Michigan does not pretend to have muskie fishing that is found in other states where considerable effort is spent to stock waters with this game fish. Therefore, we would not recommend that an ardent muskie fisherman pin all his hopes on Michigan waters in an effort to land a big muskellunge.

Michigan's magnificent, well stocked trout streams, plus the bass and pike fishing, top the muskie waters in the state by a wide margin.

The lakes of southern Michigan are black bass and bluegill waters, whereas the lakes of the north are largely pike waters, either great northern or wall eyed pike. The muskie lakes are scattered from the northern extremes of the state well into the southern part of the lower peninsula.

The state also has a fairly large number of waters where one can pick up lake trout. When we were around Torch and Elk lakes the boys were trolling for the big lakers.

WILLIAM S. VARE DIES; WAS 'BOSS' OF PHILADELPHIA

Last of 3 Brothers, All Party Leaders.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 7.—[Special.]—William S. Vare, one of the last of the old time political bosses and for nearly a generation the colorful dictator of Republican activities in Philadelphia, died today at his summer home here.

He was 66 years old and had been in ill health for the last six years. A week ago he suffered a relapse from the heat and succumbed to a heart attack at 11:30 a. m. today. He passed away 20 minutes after he was stricken.

Although the former congressman had been confined to bed for the last ten days, no intimation of the seriousness of his condition was made public by his physician and son-in-law, Dr. John J. Shaw, until this morning. However, all members of the family had been summoned to the Vare cottage over the week-end.

Family at Bedside.

Among those at the bedside when the end came were Mrs. Vare, two daughters, Mrs. William Kipp and Mrs. John J. Shaw and their husbands; the congressman's sister-in-law, Mrs. Flora Vare, widow of State Senator Edwin H. Vare; her son, Edwin H., and his wife, the former Glenna Collette, golf star; and two sisters of the widow.

Vare was essentially a self-made man and by his own vigor raised himself from an obscure farm boy to leadership in the Republican dynasty during the exciting times when such political figures as Boies Penrose, Matt Quay, and Jim McNichol were at the height of their careers.

He was the last of three brothers who were in Philadelphia politics. The first was State Senator George H. Vare, South Philadelphia "ward boss." Upon his death another brother, Edwin S. Vare, succeeded him in the state senate and became a political power in the city.

Following the death of the Vares' factional foe, Senator Penrose, Edwin Vare took over the undisputed leadership of the city organization. Bill Vare stepped into Edwin's shoes upon the latter's death.

In Office 30 Years.

Bill Vare, however, had been extremely active in Republican party circles long before he ascended to a position where he was considered the dictator of political destinies in eastern Pennsylvania. For 30 years he had held public office.

Throughout that time he had been known as a fighter, but the greatest political battle of his life was his futile three year fight for a seat in the United States senate following his election to that body in 1926. His seat was refused on charges of excessive campaign expenditures.

During the warfare he was stricken with a paralytic stroke in August, 1928, and remained in a critical condition for many days. But he finally rallied and continued his fight to enter the senate.

His failure to win the seat was one of the major disappointments of his political career, for his greatest ambition had been to become a United States senator.

A second major disappointment he suffered was his inability to realize his aspirations of becoming mayor of Philadelphia.

His final defeat, which recently ended his control of Philadelphia, was accomplished by ward leaders he had placed in office.

TWO DEAD, FOUR HURT AS AUTOS CRASH ON ROAD

Woman and Man Lose Lives at Palatine.

Two persons were killed and four others were injured, one possibly fatally, last night when an automobile bound from Chicago to Lake Delavan crashed into the rear of a car backing away from a roadside stand on Northwest highway near Colfax avenue in Palatine.

Those killed, Mrs. Meta Hildebrand, 35 years old, and Herman Berlin, 33 years old, both of Palatine, were in the car which backed away from the stand.

Witnesses to the accident, among whom were Mrs. Hildebrand's husband, Peter, said that the northbound automobile, driven by Thomas Cirone, 45 years old, 1501 North Lockwood avenue, crashed into the rear of Berlin's car.

Driver Hurt Seriously.

Cirone was critically injured, and his three companions, Frances, a sister, Frances Romano, a cousin living at 6533 Farragut street, and Clarence Sherman, 4345 North Albany avenue, were cut and bruised. All were taken to the Palatine hospital.

The deaths of Mrs. Hildebrand and Berlin, with four others, raised the Cook county motor toll for 1934 to 715. The other victims:

Walter Gustafson, 35 years old, 1245 Newport avenue. Died yesterday in the Martha Washington hospital from injuries incurred Aug. 4 in an automobile collision at Irving Park boulevard and Damen avenue.

Oscar Donnell, 64 years old, 1426 Mohawk street. Died yesterday at Henrotin hospital of injuries suffered earlier when he was struck by an automobile in La Salle street between Erie and Ontario streets.

Ray Randolph, 68 years old, 918 Lafayette place. Died yesterday as a result of injuries incurred in July when a backing bus knocked him down at the Montrose beach.

Fred Burre, 67 years old, 607 West Madison street, who operated a news stand at Wells and Lake streets, died in St. Elizabeth's hospital last night of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile while crossing the street at his corner on Aug. 1. James Healy, 21 years old, 10906 Church street, driver of the car, was ordered to appear at the inquest to be held today.

SALESMAN ROBBED OF $150.

Joseph M. Saunders, 35 years old, of the Windsor hotel, 4820 West Chicago avenue, a salesman, was robbed of $150 by an armed man at Lamon avenue and Iowa street early today.

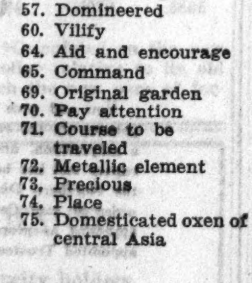
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The Swift Bridge of Service at the Fair always has one more musical surprise. Palmer Clark's Sophisticated Symphony is to be brought back and put on the air over W-G-N when the Chicago Symphony concludes its engagement on Sept. 8. And in addition to Jane Carpenter, pianist, the orchestra is to feature a string of guest artists yet to be chosen. Moreover, this packing company is to go on the air over a big NBC network on Oct. 6 with the kind of a musical show that is definitly going to help radio stand on its own feet.

Sigmund Romberg, the composer of the music of "The Student Prince," "Blossom Time," "The New Moon" and two dozen other musical successes, has been engaged to write and produce original operettas which will be presented from 7 to 8 o'clock Saturday evenings. Prof. William Lyon Phelps of Yale university will act as narrator and commentator on these shows, which will feature a picked vocal chorus and soloists still to be chosen. Jimmy Wallington will be the announcer.

Another ambitious original musical show is also scheduled for Saturday evenings on NBC. Sponsored by a soap concern, this production will be written by Courtney Riley Cooper with Howard Dietz and Arthur Schwartz writing original lyrics and music. Don Voorhees is to be musical director and Conrad Thibault and Lois Bennett are reported the choice for soloists. The cast also is to include Jack and Loretta Clemens, Ann Elstner and Bill Adams, who used to impersonate the President on the air. Looks like Saturday night won't be bath night for radio fans this season.

Johnny Hamp's orchestra will follow Earl Burtnett at the Drake hotel and on W-G-N on Aug. 24 when the Burtnett crew starts a tour of the theaters. . . . W-G-N has a new double piano team—Alice Blue and Fred Wittmer, heard with June Provines. . . . Carlos Molina, the South American rhumba maestro, will return from Texas tomorrow. He opens at the Palace on Friday and may be on the air shortly from a downtown hotel.

William S. Paley, president of the Columbia Broadcasting system, with Mrs. Paley, paused in Chicago yesterday to visit the Fair. They are on their way back to New York following a vacation on the west coast. . . . Rowene Williams, songstress heard over W-G-N from the Chicago theater on Tuesday evenings, won the midwestern auditions at CBS conducted to find a leading lady to play with Dick Powell in "Hollywood Hotel." Miss Williams will compete with 10 other regional winners in New York Aug. 16. The final winner will get $250 a week for at least 13 weeks.

Where's Elmer? Well, the Illinois department of the American Legion asserts that he will be in the studios of WCFL at 12:30 p. m. today to give a radio talk. The missing man of last year's convention is Elmer Taylor, 138 West 69th street, organization officer for Cook county.

FUNERAL HELD IN HANGAR FOR MRS. MARSALIS

Body Brought by Plane to New York.

New York, Aug. 7.—[Special.]—Attended by many flyers, both men and women, simple but impressive funeral services were held in a hangar at Roosevelt field this evening for Mrs. Frances Marsalis. She was killed when her racing place crashed at the National Women's Air meet at Dayton last Sunday.

Escorted by a score of army, navy and civilian planes, the body of Mrs. Marsalis, co-holder of the women's endurance flight record, was brought by plane from Dayton earlier in the day. The funeral plane was piloted by Edward Maloney, accompanied by Jack Loesing, who served on a refueling plane when Mrs. Marsalis won the endurance flight record.

Have Aerial Escort.

In addition to three army and three navy planes nine civilian ships met the funeral plane over Harrisburg, Pa., and convoyed it to Roosevelt field, where Mrs. Marsalis learned to fly. The escorting planes flew in "V" formations in back of and on either side of the plane carrying the aviatrix's body.

Led by the funeral plane the squadron landed at the field and taxied toward the hangar in which the service was held. The funeral plane taxied directly into the hangar, where an undertaker transferred the body from a stretcher to a coffin.

Noted Flyers Pay Tribute.

In a crowd of nearly 1,000 persons gathered at the field were many noted flyers assembled to pay tribute to one of the leading women aviators of the country.

The Rev. Frederic F. Bush, acting dean of the Cathedral of the Incarnation of Garden City, N. Y., officiated. Those who could not crowd into the hangar for the services stood silently outside.

William Marsalis, divorced husband of the flyer, planned to take the body to his home town, Centerville, Miss., for burial. The trip will be made by train.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—Trading in United States government bonds accounted for more than 56 per cent of total dealings in bonds on the stock exchange today. Turnover for the entire market, amounting to $14,350,000, was the heaviest since July 27, with transactions in the government group totaling $8,024,500. Government issues closed generally lower, off 10-32ds to up 1-32d point on the day.

Home Loan Bonds Active.

By far the heaviest trading in the government group occurred in the Home Owners Loan corporation 3s due 1952, in the amount of $3,073,000. The issue closed at par, off 1-32d point on the eve of the closing of subscriptions of the corporation's new issue of $150,000,000 of two to four year bonds. The corporation's 4s, due 1951, closed on the stock exchange today at 100 4-32ds, off 2-32ds.

Domestic corporation bonds were heavy in tone throughout the day. More active issues lost fractions to 3 points with a few losing more. Railroad and utility issues were the weakest, the industrials generally holding steady.

Foreign Loans Point Higher.

Foreign loans generally pointed higher in quiet trading. The German government loans were up fractionally, as were United Kingdom issues. Italian government 7s rallied 1¼ points. Latin-American bonds were irregularly higher.

Except for a recurrence of inflationary rumors from Europe, there was little in the day's news to influence prices other than an unsettled stock market, but the downward trend set in during the second hour of trading after some of the prime investment issues had registered minor gains, and continued up to the close.

On Sept. 15, 1933, the company announced it had ordered 50 new street cars and 80 trackless cars. It ordered 15 additional street cars on March 31, 1934.

In 1933 gross was $3,382,000 and net income before depreciation was $373,000. After depreciation net income was $173,000. Charges were covered 1.40 times. In 1932, including predecessor company, gross was $3,622,000, but net income before depreciation was $204,000. Charges before depreciation were covered 1.51 times.

Since the company does business on a cash basis, not much in the way of working capital is needed. On Dec. 31, 1933, current assets were $355,000 and current liabilities were $453,000. The $7,865,000 of general 5s, due 1967, are a first lien on all properties of the company, subject to the authorized but unissued first mortgage bonds and to equipment trust certificates.

Plymouth Oil.

Investors' Guide: Will thank you for information on Plymouth Oil.—B. V. J.

Answer: Plymouth Oil company's most important holding is the 75 per cent interest in Big Lake Oil company, which leases in perpetuity from the State University of Texas practically the entire Big Lake oil field in Texas.

In the company's 1933 annual report the management announced that during the last quarter of 1933 and the first quarter of 1934 price received for petroleum was 97.17 cents a barrel, a substantial increase over previously prevailing prices. The result is apparent in earnings for the first half, which despite proration measures equaled 37 cents a share, against loss of 4 cents a share for the first half of 1933.

In 1933 net income equaled 5 cents a share, against $1.68 a share in 1932, 79 cents a share in 1931 and $2.08 in 1930.

Current assets on Dec. 31, 1933, including $934,000 cash, totaled $1,711,000, and current liabilities, including $450,000 notes payable, were $968,000. On Nov. 30, 1934, $800,000 of notes will mature. There are outstanding 1,014,052 shares of $5 par capital stock. Dividends on the stock were resumed with the payment of 25 cents a share on Dec. 21, 1933. Dividends of 25 cents a quarter have since been paid regularly.

The stock is speculative.

ALL LIVE STOCK HIGHER; RECEIPTS AGAIN NORMAL

Swine Hit Best August Level in 3 Years.

All live stock moved higher yesterday as commercial shipments to leading market centers reached normal seasonal volume. Hogs advanced to a par with highest levels since last October and showed gains of 40 to 50 cents compared with the day before the stockyards strike began two weeks ago.

Swine are at the highest August levels in three years, and including the processing tax they are worth more than at any time in 36 months, top grades showing a 66 per cent gain over 1933 and a 50 per cent advance over 1932. Packers paid up to $7.50 for top grades of swine, tax included, from which the farmers' returns were $5.25. On the corresponding day last year top grades brought farmers $4.50, and two years ago they sold for $5.

These also were the prices packers paid, since the processing tax was not levied until November, 1933. Consequently, while hogs are actually costing the packers about $7.50 per head more than a year ago for a 250 pound hog, the farmers' returns, exclusive of whatever benefit payments he might get, are only about $1.90 per hog higher than a year ago.

Clearance Active.

Demand yesterday at the higher rate of prices proved brisk, and a good clearance was effected for all classes of hogs earlier than usual. Very little, mostly inferior grades, remained unsold at the finish, the high point of the day. Large local houses were aggressive on the rise, paying as much as the extreme top for selected grades of medium and weighty butchers during the activity in midsession. Receipts were moderate and the weather turned sultry, but this had little influence on the trade.

Advances at Chicago for the day amounted to 10 to 15 cents, although there were some instances early where only steady prices were paid in the lighter weights. Yesterday's general average cost, tax included, at $7.05 indicated a 10 cent gain.

Five carloads of prime weighty steers topped the market at $9.25, averaging from 1,331 to 1,455 pounds. Long yearlings averaging 1,068 pounds brought $8.75, the top for this weight. Light steers and yearlings of medium to good quality predominated in yesterday's receipts and sold at $6 to $7.50 with most of the best classes at $7.75 to $8.25.

A scattering of yearling hefers brought $7 and slightly above, but the top for load lots was $6.75, and the bulk of good kinds cashed at $6 to $6.75.

Drouth Stock at Low Mark.

Grassy natives and a scattering of common steers from the southwest sold at $3 to $5.50, and occasional lots of emaciated stock sold for less. Cows rose 10 to 15 cents on good demand, the bulk consisting of stock valued from $1.75 to $3.25, with canners down to $1.25 and a few of the best strong weight cutters up to $2.50. Calves maintained a good strong price basis again yesterday with selected vealers to all interests up to $6.50.

A rise of 25 cents in lambs carried prices 75 cents to $1 above the recent low spot of the strike period. Selected natives sold to city butchers up to $7.50, and packers bought at $7.25 and under. Light ewes were bought at $2.75 and below.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

[The following figures on hog prices include $2.25 per hundredweight collected by the federal government as processing tax. There is no processing tax on cattle or sheep. The price quotations given below are per 100 pounds of live animal.]

STEEL OUTPUT IN JULY LOWEST SINCE APRIL 1933

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—Steel output in July fell to the lowest level since April, 1933, according to the monthly report of the American Iron and Steel institute, which shows the calculated output for all companies at 1,472,584 tons. This is less than half the output of 3,015,972 tons recorded in June, and compares with 3,168,354 tons produced in July last year.

Approximate daily output in July was 58,903 tons, slightly better than half the 115,999 daily output in June and comparing with 126,734 tons produced daily in July, 1933, which was the record month for 1933. There was an increase in the estimated total capacity from 67,386,130 gross tons as of Dec. 31, 1932, to 68,478,813 gross tons a year later.

On the 1934 basis July operations were at 26.75 per cent of capacity, comparing with 52.68 per cent in June and with 58.30 per cent on the 1933 basis in July last year. For the first seven months of 1934 operations averaged 44.30 per cent of capacity, comparing with 30.87 per cent for the corresponding period of 1933 and with 33.53 per cent for the full year 1933.

Total output for the first seven months of 1934 was 17,653,473 tons, against 12,042,742 tons for the 1933 period and 22,594,079 tons for the entire year.

PLAN TO HOLD FEDERAL HIDES FOR 9C APPROVED

Tanners Believe Proposal Would Solve Problems.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

A proposal that hides of cattle killed under the federal drouth relief program be kept off the market until they reach a price of 9 cents a pound was unanimously endorsed yesterday by mid-western tanners as a step in the solution of the hide industry's problems. The tanners met at the Bismarck hotel under the chairmanship of M. C. Weimar, vice president of the Armour Leather company and a member of a committee which has been negotiating with Washington officials.

Troubles in the tanning industry were precipitated by the wholesale slaughter of cattle under the government's relief program. This huge slaughter, now going on at the rate of around 200,000 a week, is creating a hide surplus that is weakening the price structure of the market and is causing complications in the shoe manufacturing and packing industries as well as the tanning.

Tell Results at Meeting.

Mr. Weimar explained that yesterday's meeting, which was attended by 37 tanners, was held largely to inform the industry on the results of the work of the tanners' committee at Washington and to get their viewpoint. A similar meeting, attended by around fifty eastern tanners, was held yesterday at Boston.

At the conclusion of the session the following announcement was made by Mr. Weimar:

"The plan discussed by the tanners' committee and government authorities on Aug. 6 for withholding government hides and skins from the market until after the peak of drouth and crop reduction killings and their gradual and orderly marketing was presented to the tanning industry of the United States at simultaneous meetings in Boston and Chicago this morning and received the unanimous approval of the industry."

Deal Under Way for Weeks.

"These encouraging developments are being immediately reflected in the tanners' attitude toward selling."

Members of the committee are: David Ong, president of the United States Leather company; Mr. Weimar; Carl Danner, president of the American Hide and Leather company, and A. F. Hunt of the A. G. Lawrence Leather company.

Mr. Weimar said the tanners' committee has been negotiating in Washington for the last three or four weeks with members of the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the Agricultural Adjustment administration.

A proposal getting considerable attention suggested the formation of a $10,000,000 stabilization corporation in which the RFC would put up $9,000,000 and the tanners $1,000,000.

Reports from Washington indicated there was some dissatisfaction among the tanners regarding guarantees demanded by the RFC.

REORGANIZATION OF MIDDLE WEST UNITS IS NEARER

Tentative approval of the reorganization of two subsidiaries of the Middle West Utilities company under section 77-B of the amended bankruptcy act was given yesterday by Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley. The concerns are the United Public Service company and the United Public Utilities company. A final hearing on the reorganization program was set for Nov. 1.

Samuel W. White was appointed permanent trustee for the companies under the program by Judge Lindley. At the same time several other orders were entered affecting the companies' affairs.

Permission to intervene in the proceedings was granted to the first lien bondholders' committee of United Public Utilities; the United Public Service company committee headed by Ralph A. Bard and the joint reorganization committee consisting of members of the other two committees, the Central Republic Trust company and the City National bank. The banks are trustees for the bonds of the two concerns. Holders of the $14,000,000 of first lien obligations of United Public Utilities will receive securities in the new company in an amount equal to 50 per cent of their original holdings.

RFC MAY LEND DETROIT BANK 100 MILLIONS

Jones Tells Plans as Visit Here Ends.

After closing the loan for Chicago school teachers and a day of visiting with banking leaders here, Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, last night was preparing to straighten out the affairs of the closed First National bank of Detroit.

Chairman Jones announced plans to set up an economical liquidating corporation for the First National along the lines of the model plan approved last Saturday for the Guardian National Bank of Commerce of Detroit. Under this program, remaining assets will be bought from the receiver by depositors and stockholders who will conduct liquidation at their leisure.

Before steps to this end can be taken, however, an application for a loan of $100,000,000 must be disposed of by the RFC. This would permit payment of a 25 per cent dividend in addition to the 50 per cent already distributed to depositors.

May Pare Down Loan.

Mr. Jones said the loan will be closed this week, although the amount may be pared down to $72,000,000, a figure already tentatively approved by the RFC. Appraisers have been rechecking collateral, however, and may recommend the full amount. Mr. Jones will stop over in Detroit, but did not know whether he will remain until the loan is closed or wind up the deal from Washington.

A luncheon with officers of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and visits at the First National and City National banks completed Mr. Jones' program here yesterday. He also posed for pictures with a group of grateful school teachers who came to his suite in the Blackstone hotel to thank him for the RFC loan.

Nothing Unpleasant to Say.

The RFC head insisted that he had "no unpleasant things to say" to the local bankers. He said that no changes are contemplated in banks controled here through RFC preferrd stock purchases. Visits today were "purely social," he remarked.

Mr. Jones also said he is convinced that the federal reserve banks are "really trying hard" despite their failure to find any responsible borrowers for the direct loans to industry which were authorized at the last session of congress. One loan of $5,000 had been closed, according to the last reserve report.

168 MILLIONS IN MAY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation reported today that it authorized advances in May aggregating $168,644,166.

The report showed that loans authorized to banks and other financial institutions at 4 per cent interest totaled $57,512,410. Other large advances authorized included $41,820,000 for subscription to preferred stocks in banks, $45,000,000 for the Home Owners' Loan corporation, $5,455,500 for bank debentures, $7,619,576 in loans to drainage and irrigation projects. The balance was for relief and other government purposes.

Of the $57,512,410 authorized in loans, $32,698,236 went to banks and trust companies, including $28,615,330 to aid in the reorganization or liquidation of closed institutions, and $22,048,883 to mortgage loan companies.

Among some of the larger loans authorized to banks were: North-Western Trust and Savings bank, receiver, Chicago, $2,500,000; West Side Trust and Savings bank, receiver, Chicago, $1,500,000. Loans authorized to other Illinois banks included the First National bank in Aurora, $310,000; Liberty State bank in Bloomington [receiver], $82,000; Merchants State bank in Centralia [receiver], $80,221; First Trust and Savings bank in De Kalb [receiver], $190,000; Rockford National bank [receiver], $185,000. None of these authorizations had been drawn upon by May 31, the RFC added.

Natl. Aviation to Buy Eastern Air, Report

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—National Aviation corporation has virtually completed negotiations for the purchase of Eastern Air Lines, Inc., from North American Aviation, Inc., now 52 per cent owned by General Motors interests, it was learned here today. Also, National Aviation has about concluded arrangements for the purchase of assets of Air Investors, Inc., consisting mainly of stocks in aviation companies.

Under the Black-McKellar bill passed at the last session of congress, the separation of manufacturing and transport operations of all companies engaged in both branches of the business must be consummated by Dec. 31, 1934. The sale of Eastern Air Lines by North American is believed a part of the program to carry out this separation. It indicates that in the future North American will confine its activities largely to the manufacturing end of the business.

Establishes New Policy.

The purchase will establish a new policy for National Aviation, which heretofore has not been an operating organization. Eastern Air is one of the oldest and largest lines in the country and is currently operating mail, passenger, and express services from New York to Miami, Atlanta to New Orleans, and Miami to Chicago.

The consideration involved was not divulged but it is understood that part of the purchase price for Eastern Air Transport will be securities in aviation manufacturing companies now held by National Aviation and some that subsequently will be obtained by National Aviation in its deal with Air Investors, which National Aviation will acquire through an exchange of stock.

In the event of consummation it is expected Lamotte T. Cohu, president of Air Investors, will become an official of National Aviation. Mr. Cohu formerly was an executive of the Aviation corporation, but in the latter part of 1932 when E. L. Cord acquired control of the Aviation corporation Mr. Cohu resigned.

Control Still Large.

Provided the sale of Eastern Air is concluded, North American would still control one of the largest air transport systems in the country, including a transcontinental line and an important route between Salt Lake City and San Diego. The transcontinental line is owned through control of T. W. A., Inc., which in turn owns Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc.

It is currently reported that General Motors has been considering a divorcement from its air transport business for some time. In this connection it is pointed out that James H. Kindelberger, for the last several years chief engineer of the Douglas Aircraft company, was recently appointed head of the General Aviation Manufacturing corporation, 100 per cent owned by North American Aviation.

NEW DEALERS, FEARING NATURE, MOVE GOLD FROM SAN FRANCISCO

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Secretary Morgenthau disclosed today that all the gold in the San Francisco mint, amounting to approximately one and one-half billion dollars, was being removed to the mint at Denver. Shipments have been made a few days apart over a period of weeks.

The removal, Morgenthau said, was occasioned by the desire to get the metal permanently out of an area sometimes visited by earthquakes. The Denver facilities have been enlarged and strengthened considerably during the last two months.

The gold constitutes nearly one-fifth of the nation's supply. On Aug. 4, the last date for which figures are available, the treasury reported $7,946,466,267 of gold among its assets.

SALES OF WARD AND WALGREEN CLIMB IN JULY

Sales of Montgomery Ward & Co for July amounted to $15,890,560 as compared with $13,641,121 in July, 1933—an increase of $2,249,439, or 16.49 per cent. Sales for the six months ended July 31 totaled $110,697,908 as compared with $82,053,344 in the like period of 1933—an increase of $28,644,564, or 34.91 per cent.

Walgreen company sales for July totaled $4,440,318, compared with $4,179,750 for July, 1933—an increase of $260,568, or 6.2 per cent. For the first seven months of the year sales were $30,466,868, against $25,584,135 for the corresponding period of last year—a gain of $4,882,733, or 19.1 per cent. These figures do not include the stores operated at A Century of Progress. The number of stores in operation on July 31 was 480, compared with 466 a year ago.

Sales of S. H. Kress & Co. for July were $5,335,936, compared with $4,928,805 in July, 1933—an increase of 8.3 per cent. June sales showed an increase of 19.2 per cent over June, 1933. For the seven months sales totaled $39,442,056, compared with $31,398,954—an increase of 25.6 per cent.

July sales of Interstate Department Stores, Inc., excluding groceries and leased departments, were $1,115,652, a decrease of 7.4 per cent from July, 1933. Sales for the six months of the fiscal year totaled $9,391,982—an increase of 17.6 per cent over the corresponding period of 1933. Sales in June were 6.9 per cent above those of June, 1933.

Sales of the J. C. Penney company in July totaled $13,967,204, compared with $13,557,830 in the same month a year ago. In the first 7 months sales totaled $103,989,768, against $84,587,522 a year ago.

Asserts NRA Has Not Lived Up to Hopes

Dudley Cates, vice president of Marsh & McLennan, Inc., and a former assistant administrator for industry under the National Recovery administration, yesterday declared that the NRA has not lived up to expectations. He suggested that compulsion be abandoned and that the NRA return to simpler objectives.

In an address to more than 100 men at the National Institute of Chamber of Commerce Secretaries meeting at Northwestern university, Mr. Cates outlined a program by which the NRA might be salvaged along the lines of th simpler objectives which brought it into being. He suggested that compulsory attitudes be abandoned. "After NRA, What?" was his subject.

The Blue Eagle is largely disappearing from the landscape, he said. There is a new high in labor discords, codes have failed to work, and the result is public loss of confidence. Professing no quarrel with objective of the NRA, Mr. Cates said that difficulties can be overcome and confidence restored.

Wants Code Restricted.

Restricting code jurisidiction to its original scope—for industries where ruthless competition exploits labor and wastes capital in the social sense—was Mr. Cates' first suggestion for lifting NRA out of the muck.

Second, he declared, the economic fallacy that purchasing power can be increased by raising wages in advance of increased production must be scrapped. All wage agreements must be based on industry's ability to pay, thus striking a balance between social and economic values. The wage jurisdiction of the NRA, Mr. Cates set forth, should be confined to the establishment of a socially acceptable minimum wage to be increased as production increases.

Theory on Labor.

Another theory which must be repudiated, he continued, is the theory that labor will suffer under codification of industry unless it is organized.

Mr. Cates also advised promotion of industrial self government through administration of codes. The NRA would exercise only the effective right to withhold approval if agreements were contrary to public interest.

Finally, he asked for public definition of economic planning as the function of code authority boards in industrial self-government with NRA cooperation. This system should confirm official faith in the proposition "that no amount of burocratic wisdom can take the place of collective intelligence, courage, and imagination of experienced business men acting in their own interest, subject to government control of abuses," he asserted.

STOCK PRICES DROP AS DROUTH FEARS DEVELOP

General Motors One of Few to Gain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7—Awakening realization of the seriousness of the drouth situation overshadowed all other considerations in stock speculative circles today. Inflation rumors, news of further backtracking of the NRA, improvement of the European political picture—all were waved aside in face of the estimates of a huge crop shortage and the realization of the dent it is going to make in the country's purchasing power in the immediate future.

Stocks were under the hammer all day. Even the silver and other issues in line to reap the greatest immediate benefits from any marked move toward currency expansion were unable to keep above water in spite of the vigorous inflation talk exercised in their behalf.

Mining Issues Decline.

U. S. Smelting gave up nearly a point of the impressive gain it scored in yesterday's late dealings, and losses of from a fraction to a point were sustained by American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, and others of the division. The gold mine issues were weak, with the white metal issues, Alaska Juneau, McIntyre, and Dome all registering sizeable declines.

In isolated cases losses in the general list ran as high as 5 points. Union Pacific dropped 4 points on the day, U. S. Tobacco 5 and Detroit-Edison 5. Some of the preferreds did even worse.

One of the few really bright spots of the list was General Motors which countered the trend for a gain of a point on its "surprise" dividend declaration announced after the close of yesterday's market. Buying in the old line motor favorite was quite brisk at times. Chrysler, however, was unable to share the leader's enthusiasm and eased a point lower.

Utilities Resist Selling.

The utilities did better than some other groups in spite of a growing conviction that corporations in this field are facing additional handicaps in the form of either more drastic federal regulation or government ownership. American Telephone receded only fractionally and Consolidated Gas contrived to finish the session behind a modest plus sign.

Steel stocks generally found the going tough. U. S. Steel was under more or less pressure throughout the day and Bethlehem sold down a point.

New York traction shares quieted down after their rather ambitious performances on the upside yesterday. The oils managed to hold steady and closed around their previous levels.

Sugar stocks made little response to the fresh rise in the raw commodity.

DIVIDEND RAISED BY COLUMBIAN CARBON COMPANY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—Columbian Carbon company today declared a dividend of 85 cents a share, placing the stock on a $3.40 annual basis. Previously the company paid 75 cents quarterly.

Pacific Mills, which has declared no dividends since 1925, announced a distribution of 50 cents a share. The last payment was 75 cents a share nine years ago. J. B. Williams company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents and a regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents on common stock, payable Aug. 15. Directors of Union Tank Car company voted a quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share.

Socony-Vacuum Oil company authorized a payment of 15 cents a share on capital stock. Like payments were distributed in the last two quarters. Indiana Hydro-Electric Power company declared a dividend of half the normal rate on 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock. The dividend amounted to 87½ cents a share.

Dollar Slumps as Foreigners Sell on Rumors of Inflation

BY HOWARD WOOD.

The American dollar yesterday dropped sharply in foreign exchange transactions as traders in European capitals released a flood of selling orders. This weakness of the dollar continued in New York transactions after the close of European markets.

Closing quotations in New York placed the British pound at $5.06⅝, or 1⅝ cents above Monday's final figure. French francs were worth 6.63⅝ cents, up 1⅝ points. The Canadian dollar closed at 102.12½ cents, compared with 101.90⅝ cents Monday.

The sagging was accompanied by rumors in Paris and London that the American dollar was about to be further devaluated and that the United States was on the verge of more drastic inflation.

Rumors Not Substantiated.

News on this side of the Atlantic failed to substantiate these European rumors. There was no indication from Washington that further inflation is immediately impending, although traders and financiers are gradually becoming more thoroughly convinced that ultimate inflation is inevitable.

The big difference between the American and European points of view lay in the time element. Excited European traders feared a sudden move by the United States in the direction of further inflation. Americans continued to believe that this step lies further down the road.

In New York private reports were received from Paris indicating that French financiers regard rising prices for commodities here as a sign of poverty rather than affluence. This poverty, reasoned the French, will make necessary further large relief expenditures, if not additional inflation of the currency.

Commodities Continue Rise.

World-wide realization of the extent to which the drouth has destroyed American crops yesterday was reflected in rising foreign exchange quotations on the currencies of other great food producing nations.

Meanwhile in the commodity markets in this country prices continued to advance in spite of heavy profit taking following the big price gains on Monday.

Wheat and corn made fractional gains, as did oats and barley. Rye was up 1⅛ to 1⅞ cents per bushel. Raw sugar futures sold at the 2 cent a pound level for the first time since April, 1930.

Hogs joined the parade of prices to higher levels yesterday, top prices reaching $5.25 per hundred pounds, excluding the processing tax of $2.25 per hundred pounds. This is a new 1934 high for hogs and is the highest August price in three years.

Potatoes Reach New High.

On the Chicago Mercantile exchange commodity prices again scored new highs for the year but some of them fell slightly below the top at the close. Potatoes took the limelight, setting another new year's high at $1.70 per hundred pounds.

Coincident with the revival of inflation rumors the price of bar silver in New York rose ⅝ of a cent per ounce to 47⅝ cents, the highest price for this metal since December, 1929.

I. C. C. Commissioner Holds Secret Conference Here

A confidential conference between Commissioner B. H. Meyer of the interstate commerce commission and members of state railroad commissions was held at the Hotel Sherman yesterday. The conference, which is expected to last several days, is a kind which is generally held in the offices of the commission in Washington, but it was moved here for the sake of convenience, Commissioner Meyer said. He refused to discuss which cases were being considered.

Standard Oil, Cal., Plans to Build 4 Million Pipe Line

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Standard Oil Company of California announced plans today for building a new pipe line, to cost $4,000,000, which will connect the oil fields of the San Joaquin valley with the company's marine terminal at Estero bay in San Luis Obispo county. The line will consist of 108 miles of 12 inch pipe. It will require about seven months to complete, and about one thousand men will be employed.

GRAIN PRICES CLIMB TO NEW HIGHS FOR YEAR

Greater Gains Made in Foreign Marts.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

All deliveries of grain sold at new high prices for the season on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Lard and butter and eggs in Chicago also touched the best quotations of the year. In Liverpool wheat commanded the best price in nearly four years, with the May contract selling above $1.00 a bushel for the first time since Sept. 10, 1930. In the Buenos Aires and Winnipeg markets wheat reached the highest levels in recent years.

The price advances in the foreign markets again exceeded the gains recorded here. Corn and wheat finished fractionally higher here, while in Liverpool wheat advanced up to 2¾ cents a bushel and in Winnipeg an extreme gain of 3¼ cents a bushel was recorded. The Chicago market encountered heavy profit taking sales and the market was below Monday's level part of the day, but before the trading ended buying again sent prices up.

World Attitude Changes.

The conspicuous strength in the foreign markets was interpreted as indicating plainly that the world attitude toward wheat has definitly changed. For weeks the Liverpool market, the accepted gauge of world conditions, failed to show any genuine recognition of developments in North America. Meanwhile, prices here had been moving sharply forward. The current rise in the foreign markets is seen as the inevitable adjustment. At one time yesterday wheat in Liverpool was selling 5 cents a bushel above $16,100,000 is taken away from investors by slight savings for individual customers and tax increases.

Associated Gas & Electric System average residential electric rate has declined 18% since 1928. This is a large reduction. Yet it means only—

2c saved a day for the average residential electric customer—a slight saving—but it is taking away from investors annually $6,000,000

Reductions in commercial and industrial rates since 1928 are taking away 3,800,000

Increases in taxes at the rate of $9,000 a day since 1928 are taking away from investors 3,300,000

Total being taken away from investors in the Associated System annually $16,100,000

$16,100,000 would pay the interest on nearly $325,000,000 worth of securities at the rate of 5%.

If rates had not been reduced and taxes had not been increased—

45,000 debenture holders would still have a safe margin of earnings for interest on their investments.

79,000 holders of Convertible Obligations and Preferred and Preference Stocks would be receiving the cash return which they should have.

103,000 holders of Class A Stock would be receiving some return.

The Associated System management has followed the policy of advising security holders regarding developments affecting the safety of their investments. It is in keeping with the present tendency and with the spirit of the Federal Securities Act.

The principal result of confiscatory taxes and enforced rate reductions is to destroy the savings of a large number of thrifty small investors. When, however, the far-reaching consequences are sufficiently realized by investors, and their protests become sufficiently vigorous, they will receive the consideration they deserve and their savings will become more secure.

The purpose of the Associated Gas and Electric Company Plan of Rearrangement of Debt Capitalization is to protect investors against developments like these beyond the control of management.

GERMANY BOOSTS PRICE OF MARKS TO FOREIGNERS

Hope Move Will Bolster Exchange Situation.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Germany's desperate financial situation was revealed in the first measure of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's new economic dictator, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the reichsbank, in canceling a majority of the agreements signed by foreign banks for the release of registered marks for the use of foreigners residing in Germany.

Members of the diplomatic and consular services and foreign newspaper men will all be deprived of their registered marks after Oct. 1. The right to register marks is only conceded to foreign bankers and a small group of foreign importers and exporters residing in Germany. The grant of registered marks to tourists is not canceled.

Boosts U. S. Diplomatic Cost.

Cancelation of the registered mark agreement will cost Washington heavily. All American official representatives in Germany are paid in gold at the rate of 4.21 marks to the dollar, which Washington supplied in registered marks. Such marks this week sold at 3.90 marks to the dollar. Under the new ruling the United States government will be forced to pay the official rate of 2.50 marks to the dollar, increasing the American diplomatic and consular family bill in Germany 40 per cent.

While the sum involved for all countries is barely half a million gold dollars monthly, its smallness emphasizes the desperate position of Germany's finances despite assurances to the contrary.

Dr. Schacht figures that if he prevents foreign banks from selling registered marks to their customers residing in Germany, the latter will be compeled to buy marks from the reichsbank at the official rate, thus providing it with a little more foreign currency. He overlooks the fact that those affected will retrench on expenditures and trips to Germany to such an extent that the gain to the reichsbank will be practically nil.

Suffer Loss on Credits.

Foreign creditors have been accepting German official marks, suffering a 40 per cent loss compared with the ordinary mark's price, preferring to do this in order to get back a part of their loans.

This repayment also has enabled Germany to declare she is continuing to pay as much of her obligation as possible without endangering her currency. The restriction on the use of registered marks foreshadows a complete moratorium.

PROFIT TAKING IN BUTTER AND EGGS AFTER NEW HIGH

New high levels for the season on butter and egg futures were established on the Chicago Mercantile exchange early yesterday. The upturn ran into extensive profit taking by longs and the best figures were not maintained with butter closing unchanged to ⅛ cent lower and eggs ⅛ cent lower to ⅛ cent higher. Potatoes also sold at a new high for the season, and gained 5 cents per 100 pounds for the day.

The break in grains after the early bulge had some effect on produce prices. Weather conditions as a whole were regarded as unfavorable for increased production, and the movement of both butter and eggs into storage was below that of a year ago. Sales: Butter, 131 cars; eggs, 199 cars; potatoes, 3 cars. Prices follow:

LARD ERASES PART OF GAIN BUT CLOSES UP SLIGHTLY

General public buying of lard futures through commission houses carried prices to a new high for the season at the opening yesterday, but as was the case in grains, heavy realizing sales developed and a reaction equally as sharp as the opening bulge followed. Renewed buying developed on the dip with the close unchanged to 7½ cents higher.

Clear bellies yesterday closed 10 to 15 cents higher. Domestic demand for cash meats was fairly active and lard showed improvement. Cash lard closed at $7.95, loose at $7.35, and leaf at $7.50, while bellies were held at $10.50. Prices follow:

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was firm today with refiners continuing to show interest at the last paid prices or 3.30c for spots. Holders, however, were not inclined to sell at this level, and the only Cubas available were held at 3.35c, although it was reported that late yesterday about 35,000 bags of Cubas were sold for August and September shipment at 3.30c.

Influenced by the continued strength in the spot market and expectations of early enactment of the new reciprocal trade agreement with Cuba, most of the new crop positions sold at new high levels for the season, with July and next August touching the two cent level for the first time since 1930.

There was considerable realizing and hedge selling as the market advanced, but the offerings were promptly absorbed, with the market closing from 3 to 5 points net higher. Sales were 48,550 tons, the largest in a long time, although 19,570 tons were in exchanges principally from September to later deliveries. Prices:

No changes occurred in the refined market with refiners listing at 4.75c and resale sugars available at 4.70c. Withdrawals were of fair proportions, but new business continued light.

BUILDERS SHAPE PLAN TO RECLAIM S. SIDE SLUM AREA

Program to Demonstrate Possibilities.

BY AL CHASE.

Tentative plans for the reclamation along new lines of a moderate sized slum area to demonstrate what can be accomplished on a large scale throughout Chicago were announced yesterday by John Reed Fugard, chairman of the Metropolitan Housing council, at a meeting of the advisory committee of the Building Construction and Industries conference, in the council chamber of the city hall.

An area of several square blocks in one of the worst slum districts on the south side is to be used as a testing ground for reclamation by means of coöperation of property owners and city officials, he stated. The location will be announced within a few days.

Ask City to Help.

The city will be asked to enforce all ordinances affecting the health, cleanliness and safety of residents in that particular area. The property owners will be expected to repair those dwellings that need modernization and permit the Metropolitan Housing council to supervise the wrecking of buildings unfit for habitation.

According to George O. Fairweather, assistant treasurer and business manager of the University of Chicago, who originated the idea, the project probably will be coördinated with the new federal housing administration's activities along reconditioning lines.

At the meeting yesterday, presided over by Elmer C. Jensen, president of the Illinois Society of Architects, it was decided to name five committees to carry on efforts of the organization to put building construction back on its feet through coöperation with the new federal housing administration in this city. It is planned to have executive, liaison, finance, publicity, and promotional groups.

All Interests Represented.

The executive committee will have sixteen members, two from each of the following classifications: Labor, architects, engineers, material men, bankers, real estate, contractors, and Metropolitan Housing council.

It was voted to adopt the following formal statement of the activities of the conference:

"The purpose of this organization is to take council together concerning any matter of common good in the building construction industry in the Chicago metropolitan area."

ASK U. S. LOAN TO BUILD SHIPS FOR COASTAL TRADE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—An application by the Atlantic-Pacific Transport corporation for a construction loan to build five 12,500 ton refrigeration ships for the intercoastal trade today was under consideration by the United States shipping board.

The board disclosed that protests had been received from railroad companies and steamship lines already operating in the trade. The ships would carry fresh fruits, vegetables, and melons, dairy and poultry products, and dried fruit from California direct to the New York metropolitan area.

The company proposed to construct its five ships for a total of $13,000,000. It said the first could be built in ten months and the line could begin operation in 1935. It added that eventually it proposed to add more ships and serve the north Pacific coast area direct. Rates would be established, the proposal stated, at which Pacific coast shippers would be saved an average of $3,300,000 annually.

Shipping board officials said they were giving serious consideration to the application, but had formed no opinions as yet as to the need for such a carrier's entrance into the intercoastal trade. They indicated if it developed that by instituting the service other transportation companies would be seriously affected without development of new trafic the application might be rejected.

ILLINOIS HOLC SPEEDS UP LOANS TO 125 DAILY RATE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Home Owners' Loan corporation announced today its Illinois offices had speeded up mortgage loan closings with such success during the period from June 29 to July 27 that approximately 125 final papers were signed per day. Officials said 3,152 loans were closed during the period, bringing the state's total from 5,555 on June 29 to 8,707 on July 27.

They added that 3,072 more final papers had been issued in Illinois, and the loans would be consummated as quickly as mortgage creditors and debtors had affixed their signatures. In making this announcement, the corporation said it had every assurance that the speed with which the loans were granted would be "continued, if not increased."

Illinois, however, with its new record, was still far behind its sister states. The 8,707 loans closed here amounted to $33,788,854. Total applications received by Illinois offices numbered 94,365, for a total of $70,812,655. Officers said there was a marked decrease in the number of applications filed.

Credit Banks Offering $15,000,000 Debentures

Charles R. Dunn, fiscal agent of the federal intermediate credit banks announced an offering of $15,000,000 in debentures, dated Aug. 15, and due Dec. 15, bearing an interest rate of 1½ per cent. About $4,000,000 of the issue will represent new money, it was stated.

GRAIN PRICES CLIMB TO NEW HIGHS FOR YEAR

Greater Advances Made in Foreign Markets.

Monday's price, but part of the gain was later surrendered.

Final quotations on wheat in Chicago showed gains ranging from ⅝ to ¾ cents a bushel. After selling at $1.09⅛, September wheat, the most important delivery, closed at $1.08¼. Corn futures were up ⅝ to ¾ cent a bushel, with the September contract closing at 75 cents. Oats and barley were fractionally higher, while rye advanced sharply, with the gain reaching nearly 2 cents a bushel.

Traders Take Profits.

The realizing selling in the market was a result of the natural inclination of traders to take profits while they had them. One large operator, who is credited with heavy purchases of grain futures recently, was reported yesterday to have been a heavy seller. The realizing sales sent wheat 2 cents under its highest price during the day before recovery set in. The absence of heavy short selling renders the market vulnerable to such reactions although fundamental conditions show little change.

The weather forecast yesterday gave promise of showers over a wide area of the grain belt, which will be beneficial to the corn crop, but they are too late to help wheat. The Canadian grain provinces received no rain of consequence and one crop expert estimated that the wheat crop there is deteriorating at the rate of 3,000,000 bushels a day.

Trading Shows Decline.

Trading yesterday was estimated to have fallen below the heavy volume dealt in Monday when approximately 75,000,000 bushels of wheat were traded. The total in all grains Monday was 116,533,000 bushels.

A material increase has taken place in speculation by outsiders, but it has not been as large as the trade hoped for. As a result sentiment is mixed. Many brokers advised clients to clinch profits yesterday and this contributed to the selling.

GRAIN EXPORTS RISE FOR WEEK; ABOVE YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Grain exports from the United States last week totaled 490,000 bushels against 69,000 bushels the previous week and 185,000 bushels the corresponding week last year. Commerce department figures today gave the following comparison between last week's exports and those for the week before:

Wheat, 395,000 bushels against 18,000; barley, 57,000 against 9,000; Corn, 34,000 against 38,000; oats, 4,000 against 4,000. No exports of rye were reported for either week.

Canadian grain exported last week from United States ports totaled 340,000 bushels compared with 395,000 bushels the previous week while exports of North American wheat flour were 32,000 barrels against 44,000 barrels.

FAR WEST WHEAT EXPORTS HALTED AS SUPPLY DROPS

Surplus to Be Kept for Domestic Needs.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The farm administration plans to stop exporting wheat from the Pacific northwest because of the rapidly diminishing supply in the United States. To date, 28,000,000 bushels have been sold abroad by the North Pacific Export association. Operations soon will be stopped and remaining and prospective stocks shunted into domestic channels.

This country's export quota under the international wheat agreement is 47,000,000 bushels. The total exported thus far is about 32,000,000 bushels and very little more will leave this country. In halting exports of the soft grain from west of the Rockies, it was disclosed, efforts are being made to keep the grain from overrunning any of the various markets in the middle west and east.

Fear Price Reaction.

Because of low freight water rates through the Panama canal, it was said, there is danger that the northwest grain might give such competition to eastern soft wheat as to force prices down. Reopening of Pacific coast ports as a result of the strike settlement, already has caused uneasiness in eastern grain markets and has brought inquiries to the AAA.

The administration said its plans already are being carried out toward preventing an estimated 38,000,000 bushels available for shipment in the area from being dumped along the east coast. Railroads have been asked to lower their rates, it was said, in order to distribute the northwest surplus throughout the country. Aid also will be given shippers in merchandising their grain in the interior.

Supply 32 Million Bushels.

Official figures on the wheat supply from the far western area were not available at the administration, but unofficial estimates placed the total at 113,000,000 bushels, made up of 31,000,000 bushels carry-over from previous years and 82,000,000 bushels from the 1933-'34 crop. Of this, it was estimated that 75,000,000 bushels would be consumed by the region producing it.

The North Pacific Emergency Export association, a government sponsored agency, has been the northwest's wheat salesman abroad since last Oct. 11. It has disposed of most of its purchases in the orient.

Officials said the association had not and would not ship any wheat through the Panama canal. Sales to the domestic trade will be made by individual shippers with the aid and guidance of the administration.

They said also they are making a study of the causes of the differences in wheat prices in various grain markets, especially those in the east from whence some of the complaints against northwest dumping came.

HULL DISCUSSES AMERICAN BOND HOLDINGS ABROAD

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—American investments in foreign bonds were discussed today at a conference between Secretary Hull, Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking committee and Ferdinand Pecora, a member of the securities and exchange commission and former counsel to the senate committee.

Fletcher asserted that they had discussed in general the circumstances of the flotation in this country of $90,000,000 of Peruvian bonds in 1927-'28 now in default, but declined to specify any other foreign security sales they had mentioned. He said the state department had nothing to do with the preparation of the committee's report, made public yesterday, which assailed the methods used by American investment bankers in selling millions of dollars of foreign securities.

Fletcher also said he had made no suggestions to Hull concerning any action the state department might take in affording protection to American investors in foreign securities.

LETS WHEAT ROT TO KEEP WITHIN FEDERAL LIMIT

How good wheat is left in the field to rot in a year when the crop will fall far below domestic requirements is one of the quirks of "planned agriculture" reported from Greensburg, Ind.

James E. Bennett, head of the Chicago grain firm, said yesterday that he had received word from Greensburg that Harry Logan, a farmer five miles west of town, left thirty shocks of good wheat in the field on the advice of government agents. Logan had 85 acres of wheat, and was advised that to keep within the allotment plan he must not bring in the thirty shocks.

In the same vicinity the corn-hog program has limited corn production to 38 bushels per acre, although some of the good land yields from 40 to as high as 80 bushels an acre. Farmers subscribing to the plan are said to be irked by the delay in receiving their reduction bonuses, none of which have been received in that area.

•

The striking manner in which the world attitude toward wheat has changed in the last ten days is illustrated by a comparison of prices in the principal markets. The following table shows yesterday's prices in United States funds compared with a week ago and ten days ago:

	Aug. 7.	July 30.	July 26.
Chicago, Sept.	108¼	102⅝	97⅝
Winnipeg, Oct.	95⅝	90⅝	86¼
Liverpool, Oct.	94⅞	86¼	82½

Rotterdam, Sept.	83⅞	71⅞	68⅞
Buenos Aires, Aug.	75¼	63⅜	59⅜
Do Oct.	79⅞	65¼	62⅝

*Cash wheat.

The advance started in Chicago and Winnipeg and spread to the overseas markets which at first were disinclined to show any excitement over the condition of the North American crops.

•

A controversy is being waged over the probable effect of the drouth on the next winter wheat crop. Private authorities have been issuing warnings for several days that unless the southwestern winter wheat belt gets a great deal of moisture in the next two months another short wheat crop is likely to materialize next year. July, August, and September rainfall is necessary to prepare the ground for planting.

Because of the big shortage in moisture last month warnings are being given that another short crop is in the making unless unusually heavy rain comes during the next 60 days. The government authorities deny this. J. B. Kincer, head of the crop section of the weather bureau, yesterday attempted to discount these warnings. He said that the winter wheat crop depends on the fall rainfall.

Apprehension has been expressed from time to time over the possibility that stocks of old corn would be used up before the new crop begins to move next October. This possibility is not as remote as it might appear, according to Hulburd, Warren & Chandler. It is pointed out that on July 1 stocks were estimated at 507 million bushels, represented by 470 million bushels on the farms and 37 million bushels of commercial stocks. The 1933 crop totaled 2,330 million bushels. Approximately 300 million bushels have disappeared monthly.

On this basis an indicated 1,050,000,000 bushels would be used up between July 15 and Oct. 15. But because there are not sufficient supplies on hand the answer appears to be that wheat will be substituted for corn, the firm adds. Reports from the southwestern states last week said that farmers have been grinding wheat for feed.

Stock Seat Unchanged; Curb Sells Off at $3,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—A stock exchange seat was sold today for $95,000, unchanged from the last previous sale. Arrangements have been made for the sale of a New York Curb exchange seat at $23,000, off $3,000 from the previous sale.

VAST CROP LOAN SYSTEM IS PLAN OF FARM BUREAU

[Copyright: 1934: By the Associated Press.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A gigantic crop loan plan which would leave control of 1935 supplies in the hands of farmers who grew them is hatching in the farm administration.

Modeled after the year's corn and cotton loans, the plan will call for government loans on a wide range of other crops. There will be a stipulation that supplies must be sold when prices rise to a certain point.

Last year the government advanced farmers 10 cents a pound on stored cotton, and 45 cents a bushel on corn sealed in cribs or warehouses. This pegged prices at those levels. As prices advanced beyond those levels recently farmers began selling crops, paying off loans and making a profit for themselves.

Plan Marketing Control.

The farm administration declares the idea will assist farmers in holding their crops instead of selling at harvest time when marketings are ordinarily heavy and prices consequently low.

They will thus be able to obtain some cash, keep their crops readily marketable as needed, and sell them at any time the price ranges between the loan value and the upper limit.

The program would be coördinated with Secretary Wallace's idea for "ever normal" granaries. In bountiful years the stored grains would be held off the market. Ownership would be returned to farmers without repayment of the loans if they would agree to cut production the next season.

Loans to Build Granaries.

The expanded storage plan would call for increased space on farms for sealing grains, officials admit, but they expressed confidence that sufficient funds could be made available for building loans, possibly through the farm credit administration's production credit associations or coöperative banks.

Plans are yet in a nebulous stage, but officials backing them are determined to bring them to execution in time to give farmers the ultimate advantage from crops they produce next year.

OIL OUTPUT OFF 96,050 BARRELS A DAY LAST WEEK

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Daily average crude oil production in the United States decreased 96,050 barrels in the week ended Aug. 4, totaling 2,451,300 barrels, the American Petroleum institute's weekly summary indicated. Daily average production east of California decreased 78,550 barrels, to 1,950,000 barrels.

Refineries operated at 69.4 per cent of capacity and reported daily average runs of crude oil to stills as 2,341,000 barrels. The daily average the previous week for refineries operated at 73 per cent of capacity, was 2,464,000 barrels.

SOUTH SIDE BANK CLOSED IN 1932 TO PAY DIVIDEND

South Shore Will Make First Disbursement.

The South Shore State bank, closed on June 23, 1932, will pay its first dividend to depositors within a week or ten days as a result of active liquidation in the last four months. The dividend probably will be 10 per cent of the deposit liability of $465,167.

Another recent payment was 10 per cent, or $165,066, to depositors of the old Southwest Trust and Savings bank. This brought the total distribution to 30 per cent.

With these two exceptions, none of the 20 banks for which quarterly reports were issued yesterday by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett has paid any dividend since the previous report. Liquidation in this group was sluggish in most cases. Only seven of the 20 showed receipts of more than $10,000 in the three months ended June 30 last.

Southwest Trust Leads.

The Southwest Trust and Savings led the group with realization of $103,000 to make its cash total $215,981 before the dividend. Attorneys were paid $13,854, while other expenses were almost $8,000. The South Shore State receipts were $62,800, out of which came $5,000 for legal and other expenses. Total cash for dividends was $59,865 on June 30.

The United American Trust and Savings bank was next, with receipts of $54,000 for the quarter. Preferred and secured creditors took $27,000 of this, but the bank still owes $1,398,572 on borrowed money, with no cash available for dividends. Other cash was cut slightly, because of expenses and advances to protect assets.

Eight others in this group have secured claims prior to depositor rights in liquidation.

Only seven of the twenty banks have paid dividends to date, though it must be considered that three of them did not close until 1933 and two others did not shut their doors until the last forty-five days of 1932.

Make Dividend Payments.

The following banks have made dividend payments: South Side Savings Bank and Trust company and West Central State, each 45 per cent; Southwest Trust and Savings, 30 per cent; Union State of South Chicago, 22½ per cent; Stockman's Trust and Savings, 20 per cent; Twelfth Street State, 12½ per cent, and State Bank of Beverly Hills, 10 per cent. By far the largest amount paid is the $1,351,590 by the South Side Savings, where John A. Carroll is the only receiver in this group who has not been replaced by William L. O'Connell.

The only considerable cash holdings are in three members of the defunct Bain system, but this is held for trust accounts and prior claims. The cash means little to depositors. West Englewood Trust and Savings holds $271,245 in cash; Stony Island State Savings, $119,298, and West Highland State, $62,894.

So far as the reports indicate, the only hope for depositors in the near future lies in ten applications made to the Reconstruction Finance corporation for loans. Seven of these affect banks which have paid no dividends, in addition to the South Shore State, Beverly Hills, and Stockman's banks. The seven are: State Bank of Franklin Park, State Bank of Blue Island, State Bank of Palatine, State Bank of River Grove, Universal State, West City Trust and Savings, and West Irving State banks. No hope is seen for the other five which have paid nothing to date.

CATTLE, GRAIN SHIPMENTS AID WESTERN ROADS

Carloadings last week were boosted substantially by the movement of cattle from the drouth areas and increased trafic in grain. The Illinois Central was among those roads reporting gains over the preceding week and the corresponding week a year ago. The total for the week was 27,231 cars, against 26,579 and 25,216.

Rock Island loadings were 11 per cent greater than they were a year ago. Last week the line handled 21,982 cars compared with 21,384 in the preceding week and 19,791 a year ago. The Missouri Pacific moved a total of 21,941 cars, against 21,338 and 20,451. The Wabash system handled 12,172 cars, against 11,862 and 11,772.

Other loadings last week with comparisons with the preceding week and the like week a year ago were: Southern Pacific, 25,414 cars, against 26,068 and 21,092; International Great Northern, 4,920 cars, against 4,781 and 3,807; and the Gulf Coast Lines, 3,118 cars, against 3,135 and 3,256.

Loadings of revenue freight cars for the week ended Aug. 4, to be published next Friday, are estimated to total around 608,848, or approximately the same as in the preceding week, which will compare with 613,112 cars loaded in the week ended Aug. 5, 1933.

NATIONAL BANK REOPENINGS FOR JULY TOTAL 29

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Steady progress in reopening closed banks was reported today by F. G. Awalt, acting controler of the currency. He said 29 additional national institutions, with deposits of $24,472,000 had been licensed in July.

In the first federal reserve district—New England—all banks remaining closed after the banking holiday of March, 1933, have been opened or otherwise disposed of. During the first seven months of the year, 342 banks reopened, involving deposits of $294,288,000.

Only 66 national banks remained unlicensed Aug. 4. This was approximately 4.7 per cent of the number unlicensed March 16, 1933, when the banking holiday terminated.

Link-Belt Company Sales Rise in First Six Months

Sales of the Link-Belt company and subsidiaries for the first six months of 1934 totaled $4,916,830, compared with $3,154,259 a year ago. Net credit to surplus for the period was put at $378,739, against a deficit of $202,744 last year.

EMPLOYMENT IN ILLINOIS SHOWS GAIN LAST YEAR

Census Bureau Gives Results of Survey.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—Employment in the wholesale trade of Illinois increased 11 per cent for full time and 18 per cent for part time employés from January to December, 1933, the bureau of census announced today. The census of American business was conducted throughout the country by 15,000 employés of the Federal Civil Works administration.

"When both full time and part time employment are considered," said William L. Austin, director of the census bureau, "it becomes clear that the improvement during 1933 was substantial and more than seasonal.

Gain More Than Seasonal.

"According to the 1929 census of distribution, the seasonal variation of such employment for Illinois is about 2 per cent. If it is assumed that 1929 is fairly typical in this respect it would appear that the last few months of 1933 showed more than seasonal betterment."

The data for Illinois show 11,837 wholesale establishments for 1933, with net sales of $2,772,669,000. They employed 88,881 men and women full time and 7,760 part time. The total pay roll during the year was $148,072,000.

The number of wholesale establishments in 1929 was 11,587, and they employed 164,531 employés full time and part time, with a total pay roll of $341,523,000. Total net sales were $6,861,067,000.

Trade and Wages Under 1929.

"In spite of the improvement during the last few months of 1933," said the report for Illinois, "the year as a whole does not compare favorably with 1929. In 1933 the volume of business was 59.6 per cent below that of 1929, salaries and wages 56.6 per cent lower, and the number of employés decreased 41.3 per cent.

"Since pay rolls decreased more than the number of employés, it would appear that the average earnings of employés engaged in the wholesale trade were 26 per cent less than in 1929. The average annual sales per employé showed a reduction of about $13,011 [from $41,701 to $28,690], partly because of the lower prices prevailing in 1933."

NEWFOUNDLAND TO PERMIT FREE EXPORT OF GOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Aug. 7.—A bill permitting the free exportation of gold was signed by Gov. Gen. Sir David Murray Anderson today. It will be effective when it is gazetted, probably tomorrow.

The manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia said that the bank will accept gold over the counter at a 60 per cent premium, that is, it will pay $16 for a $10 gold piece and $7.80 for a sovereign [a gold coin worth one pound sterling, or $4.8665 par value].

The Bank of Montreal will accept gold at its face value and make advances to customers according to their standing, crediting their customers with the premium when the gold is marketed in London. The Royal bank and the Canadian Bank of Commerce have adopted a similar procedure. For the present the Montreal bank sells in London. The other banks sell in London and New York.

RAILS TO START TEST CASE ON PENSIONS TODAY

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Action to test the constitutionality of the new compulsory pension law for railroads will be started tomorrow, C. A. Miller, Washington, general counsel for the American Short Line Railroad association, told a convention of 200 officials of privately owned roads here today.

"The railroad retirement act is, in the opinion of many lawyers, unconstitutional," Miller said. "It is believed the railroads would be derelict in their duty to stockholders if its validity is not tested."

Saying that not less than 45 railroad general counsels have agreed the law is unconstitutional and expected it to be so decided, Miller explained a suit will be filed Wednesday in a District of Columbia court. An injunction restraining the railroad retirement board from taking any action under the new pension law will be asked, he said. The law, Miller said, will cost short line roads approximately $1,100,000 the first year it is in effect. Railroads will contribute a total of $60,000,000 to the initial pension fund, he estimated.

Miller's report listed several objections to the St. Lawrence waterway, while others pointed out strikes and the drought have and will affect railroad tonnage.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR KILLING OF A MILLION CATTLE

Government Spreads Work with Fifty Packers.

New contracts for the slaughtering and processing more than 1,000,000 cattle and calves for the Federal Surplus Relief corporation have been awarded packers at more than 50 different places in the country. The slaughtering, canning and freezing of these cattle is expected to be completed before Sept. 6. They are to be handled at the rate of 241,322 a week, it was reported yesterday.

Charges Vary.

Besides getting the offal and by products, which includes the hide, packers also are paid for slaughtering and processing. No set rate of charge for the job of slaughtering and processing is possible, and payments vary a great deal in different parts of the country, it is said, the difference depending both on the location of the packer and the kind of contract held with the FSRC.

One packer, it was learned, has no extra charge for the slaughtering and processing, getting only the offal and by products. Charges of others range from 26 to as high as 84 cents per cwt, with many in this area being paid around 40 cents.

From a reliable source it is reported that approximately 33 millions of dollars in hog processing taxes due in July were not paid by packers up to the close of last month.

U. S. Takes All Assets.

A packing plant in the southwest closed down because its owners could not meet the federal hog processing tax. They postponed payment hoping for reduction or rebate of the tax. Meanwhile they had been buying hogs and selling products without figuring the tax as a part of cost.

An adjustment was hoped for which would return creditors 25 cents on the dollar. They expected the government to "go along" with other creditors on this basis. But the government refused. The internal revenue department levied on the entire assets of this company to satisfy unpaid processing taxes. Other creditors will get nothing.

BUILDERS SHAPE PLAN TO RECLAIM S. SIDE SLUM AREA

BY AL CHASE.

Tentative plans for the reclamation along new lines of a moderate sized slum area to demonstrate what can be accomplished on a large scale throughout Chicago were announced yesterday by John Reed Fugard, chairman of the Metropolitan Housing council, at a meeting of the advisory committee of the Building Construction and Industries conference, in the council chamber of the city hall.

An area of several square blocks in one of the worst slum districts on the south side is to be used as a testing ground for reclamation by means of coöperation of property owners and city officials, he stated. The location will be announced within a few days.

Ask City to Help.

The city will be asked to enforce all ordinances affecting the health, cleanliness and safety of residents in that particular area. The property owners will be expected to repair those dwellings that need modernization and permit the Metropolitan Housing council to supervise the wrecking of buildings unfit for habitation.

According to George O. Fairweather, assistant treasurer and business manager of the University of Chicago, who originated the idea, the project probably will be coördinated with the new federal housing administration's activities along reconditioning lines.

At the meeting yesterday, presided over by Elmer C. Jensen, president of the Illinois Society of Architects, it was decided to name five committees to carry on efforts of the organization to put building construction back on its feet through coöperation with the new federal housing administration in this city. It is planned to have executive, liaison, finance, publicity, and promotional groups.

All Interests Represented.

The executive committee will have sixteen members, two from each of the following classifications: Labor, architects, engineers, material men, bankers, real estate, contractors, and Metropolitan Housing council.

It was voted to adopt the following formal statement of the activities of the conference:

"The purpose of this organization is to take council together concerning any matter of common good in the building construction industry in the Chicago metropolitan area."

ASK U. S. LOAN TO BUILD SHIPS FOR COASTAL TRADE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—An application by the Atlantic-Pacific Transport corporation for a construction loan to build five 12,500 ton refrigeration ships for the intercoastal trade today was under consideration by the United States shipping board.

The board disclosed that protests had been received from railroad companies and steamship lines already operating in the trade. The ships would carry fresh fruits, vegetables, and melons, dairy and poultry products, and dried fruit from California direct to the New York metropolitan area.

The company proposed to construct its five ships for a total of $12,000,000. It said the first could be built in ten months and the line could begin operation in 1935. It added that eventually it proposed to add more ships and serve the north Pacific coast area direct. Rates would be established, the proposal stated, at which Pacific coast shippers would be saved an average of $3,300,000 annually.

Shipping board officials said they were giving serious consideration to the application, but had formed no opinions as yet as to the need for such a carrier's entrance into the intercoastal trade. They indicated if it developed that by instituting the service other transportation companies would be seriously affected without development of new trafic the application might be rejected.

ILLINOIS HOLC SPEEDS UP LOANS TO 125 DAILY RATE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Home Owners' Loan corporation announced today its Illinois offices had speeded up mortgage loan closings with such success during the period from June 29 to July 27 that approximately 125 final papers were signed per day. Officials said 3,152 loans were closed during the period, bringing the state's total from 5,555 on June 29 to 8,707 on July 27.

They added that 3,072 more final papers had been issued in Illinois, and the loans would be consummated as quickly as mortgage creditors and debtors had affixed their signatures. In making this announcement, the corporation said it had every assurance that the speed with which the loans were granted would be "continued, if not increased."

Illinois, however, with its new record, was still far behind its sister states. The 8,707 loans closed here amounted to $33,788,854. Total applications received by Illinois offices numbered 94,365, for a total of $70,812,655. Officers said there was a marked decrease in the number of applications filed.

GRAIN PRICES CLIMB TO NEW HIGHS FOR YEAR

Greater Advances Made in Foreign Markets.

Monday's price, but part of the gain was later surrendered.

Final quotations on wheat in Chicago showed gains ranging from ⅝ to ¾ cents a bushel. After selling at $1.09⅛, September wheat, the most important delivery, closed at $1.08¼. Corn futures were up ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel, with the September contract closing at 75 cents. Oats and barley were fractionally higher, while rye advanced sharply, with the gain reaching nearly 2 cents a bushel.

Traders Take Profits.

The realizing selling in the market was a result of the natural inclination of traders to take profits while they had them. One large operator, who is credited with heavy purchases of grain futures recently, was reported yesterday to have been a heavy seller. The realizing sales sent wheat 2 cents under its highest price during the day before recovery set in. The absence of heavy short selling renders the market vulnerable to such reactions although fundamental conditions show little change.

The weather forecast yesterday gave promise of showers over a wide area of the grain belt, which will be beneficial to the corn crop, but they are too late to help wheat. The Canadian grain provinces received no rain of consequence and one crop expert estimated that the wheat crop there is deteriorating at the rate of 3,000,000 bushels a day.

Trading Shows Decline.

Trading yesterday was estimated to have fallen below the heavy volume dealt in Monday when approximately 75,000,000 bushels of wheat were traded. The total in all grains Monday was 116,533,000 bushels.

A material increase has taken place in speculation by outsiders, but it has not been as large as the trade hoped for. As a result sentiment is mixed. Many brokers advised clients to clinch profits yesterday and this contributed to the selling.

GRAIN EXPORTS RISE FOR WEEK; ABOVE YEAR AGO

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Grain exports from the United States last week totaled 490,000 bushels against 69,000 bushels the previous week and 185,000 bushels the corresponding week last year. Commerce department figures today gave the following comparison between last week's exports and those for the week before:

Wheat, 395,000 bushels against 18,000; barley, 57,000 against 9,000; Corn, 34,000 against 33,000; oats, 4,000 against 4,000. No exports of rye were reported for either week.

Canadian grain exported last week from United States ports totaled 340,000 bushels compared with 395,000 bushels the previous week while exports of North American wheat flour were 32,000 barrels against 44,000 barrels.

Four Eastern Brokers Buy Seats on Board of Trade

Four eastern brokers were elected to membership on the Chicago Board of Trade at a meeting of the directors yesterday. The new members are I. W. Burnham II. of Burnham, Herman & Co., William Campbell Gay, Whitehouse & Co., George A. Cluett Jr., J. R. Williston & Co., and Alfred Putnam of Auchincloss, Parker & Redpath.

FAR WEST WHEAT EXPORTS HALTED AS SUPPLY DROPS

Surplus to Be Kept for Domestic Needs.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The farm administration plans to stop exporting wheat from the Pacific northwest because of the rapidly diminishing supply in the United States. To date, 28,000,000 bushels have been sold abroad by the North Pacific Export association. Operations soon will be stopped and remaining and prospective stocks shunted into domestic channels.

This country's export quota under the international wheat agreement is 47,000,000 bushels. The total exported thus far is about 32,000,000 bushels and very little more will leave this country. In halting exports of the soft grain from west of the Rockies, it was disclosed, efforts are being made to keep the grain from overrunning any of the various markets in the middle west and east.

Fear Price Reaction.

Because of low freight water rates through the Panama canal, it was said, there is danger that the northwest grain might give such competition to eastern soft wheat as to force prices down. Reopening of Pacific coast ports as a result of the strike settlement, already has caused uneasiness in eastern grain markets and has brought inquiries to the AAA.

The administration said its plans already are being carried out toward preventing an estimated 38,000,000 bushels available for shipment in the area from being dumped along the east coast. Railroads have been asked to lower their rates, it was said, in order to distribute the northwest surplus throughout the country. Aid also will be given shippers in merchandising their grain in the interior.

Supply 32 Million Bushels.

Official figures on the wheat supply from the far western area were not available at the administration, but unofficial estimates placed the total at 113,000,000 bushels, made up of 31,000,000 bushels carry-over from previous years and 82,000,000 bushels from the 1933-'34 crop. Of this, it was estimated that 75,000,000 bushels would be consumed by the region producing it.

The North Pacific Emergency Export association, a government sponsored agency, has been the northwest's wheat salesman abroad since last Oct. 11. It has disposed of most of its purchases in the orient.

Officials said the association had not and would not ship any wheat through the Panama canal. Sales to the domestic trade will be made by individual shippers with the aid and guidance of the administration.

They said also they are making a study of the causes of the differences in wheat prices in various grain markets, especially those in the east from whence some of the complaints against northwest dumping came.

HULL DISCUSSES AMERICAN BOND HOLDINGS ABROAD

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—American investments in foreign bonds were discussed today at a conference between Secretary Hull, Chairman Fletcher of the senate banking committee and Ferdinand Pecora, a member of the securities and exchange commission and former counsel to the senate committee.

Fletcher asserted that they had discussed in general the circumstances of the flotation in this country of $90,000,000 of Peruvian bonds in 1927-'28 now in default, but declined to specify any other foreign security sales they had mentioned. He said the state department had nothing to do with the preparation of the committee's report, made public yesterday, which assailed the methods used by American investment bankers in selling millions of dollars of foreign securities.

Fletcher also said he had made no suggestions to Hull concerning any action the state department might take in affording protection to American investors in foreign securities.

LETS WHEAT ROT TO KEEP WITHIN FEDERAL LIMIT

How good wheat is left in the field to rot in a year when the crop will fall far below domestic requirements is one of the quirks of "planned agriculture" reported from Greensburg, Ind.

James E. Bennett, head of the Chicago grain firm, said yesterday that he had received word from Greensburg that Harry Logan, a farmer five miles west of town, left thirty shocks of good wheat in the field on the advice of government agents. Logan had 85 acres of wheat, and was advised that to keep within the allotment plan he must not bring in the thirty shocks.

In the same vicinity the corn-hog program has limited corn production to 38 bushels per acre, although some of the good land yields from 40 to as high as 80 bushels an acre. Farmers subscribing to the plan are said to be irked by the delay in receiving their reduction bonuses, none of which have been received in that area.

The striking manner in which the world attitude toward wheat has changed in the last ten days is illustrated by a comparison of prices in the principal markets. The following table shows yesterday's prices in United States funds compared with a week ago and ten days ago:

	Aug. 7.	July 30.	July 28.
Chicago, Sept.	108¼	102⅝	97⅝
Winnipeg, Oct.	95⅝	90⅝	86¼
Liverpool, Oct.	94⅞	86¼	82½
*Argentine	95¾	84⅜	81⅞
*Russian	93¼	81¼	80
*Australian	96⅝	86¼	84¾
Rotterdam, Sept.	83¼	71⅝	68⅞
Buenos Aires, Aug..	75¼	63¼	59¾
Do Oct.	79½	65¼	62⅝

*Cash wheat.

The advance started in Chicago and Winnipeg and spread to the overseas markets which at first were disinclined to show any excitement over the condition of the North American crops.

A controversy is being waged over the probable effect of the drouth on the next winter wheat crop. Private authorities have been issuing warnings for several days that unless the southwestern winter wheat belt gets a great deal of moisture in the next two months another short wheat crop is likely to materialize next year. July, August, and September rainfall is necessary to prepare the ground for planting.

Because of the big shortage in moisture last month warnings are being given that another short crop is in the making unless unusually heavy rain comes during the next 60 days. The government authorities deny this. J. B. Kincer, head of the crop section of the weather bureau, yesterday attempted to discount these warnings. He said that the winter wheat crop depends on the fall rainfall.

Apprehension has been expressed from time to time over the possibility that stocks of old corn would be used up before the new crop begins to move next October. This possibility is not as remote as it might appear, according to Hulburd, Warren & Chandler. It is pointed out that on July 1 stocks were estimated at 507 million bushels, represented by 470 million bushels on the farms and 37 million bushels of commercial stocks. The 1933 crop totaled 2,330 million bushels. Approximately 300 million bushels have disappeared monthly.

On this basis an indicated 1,050,000,000 bushels would be used up between July 15 and Oct. 15. But because there are not sufficient supplies on hand the answer appears to be that wheat will be substituted for corn, the firm adds. Reports from the southwestern states last week said that farmers have been grinding wheat for feed.

Stock Seat Unchanged; Curb Sells Off at $3,000

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 7.—A stock exchange seat was sold today for $95,000, unchanged from the last previous sale. Arrangements have been made for the sale of a New York Curb exchange seat at $23,000, off $3,000 from the previous sale.

VAST CROP LOAN SYSTEM IS PLAN OF FARM BUREAU

[Copyright: 1934: By the Associated Press.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A gigantic crop loan plan which would leave control of 1935 supplies in the hands of farmers who grew them is hatching in the farm administration.

Modeled after the year's corn and cotton loans, the plan will call for government loans on a wide range of other crops. There will be a stipulation that supplies must be sold when prices rise to a certain point.

Last year the government advanced farmers 10 cents a pound on stored cotton, and 45 cents a bushel on corn sealed in cribs or warehouses. This pegged prices at those levels. As prices advanced beyond those levels recently farmers began selling crops, paying off loans and making a profit for themselves.

Plan Marketing Control.

The farm administration declares the idea will assist farmers in holding their crops instead of selling at harvest time when marketings are ordinarily heavy and prices consequently low.

They will thus be able to obtain some cash, keep their crops readily marketable as needed, and sell them at any time the price ranges between the loan value and the upper limit.

The program would be coördinated with Secretary Wallace's idea for "ever normal" granaries. In bountiful years the stored grains would be held off the market. Ownership would be returned to farmers without repayment of the loans if they would agree to cut production the next season.

Loans to Build Granaries.

The expanded storage plan would call for increased space on farms for sealing grains, officials admit, but they expressed confidence that sufficient funds could be made available for building loans, possibly through the farm credit administration's production credit associations or coöperative banks.

Plans are yet in a nebulous stage, but officials backing them are determined to bring them to execution in time to give farmers the ultimate advantage from crops they produce next year.

OIL OUTPUT OFF 96,050 BARRELS A DAY LAST WEEK

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Daily average crude oil production in the United States decreased 96,050 barrels in the week ended Aug. 4, totaling 2,451,300 barrels, the American Petroleum institute's weekly summary indicates. Daily average production east of California decreased 78,550 barrels, to 1,950,000 barrels.

Refineries operated at 69.4 per cent of capacity and reported daily average runs of crude oil to stills as 2,341,000 barrels. The daily average the previous week for refineries operated at 73 per cent of capacity, was 2,464,000 barrels.

WANTED—MALE HELP.

WORK FOR 5 MEN

Not work in a shop or a factory—but a business of their own, a permanency of at least five years for the right men.

If you are ambitious to have a business of your own that is paying men from $35 to above $100 a week WITHOUT ONE CENT INVESTED, read this short story about three men.

Here in Chicago we started a man 32 years old and on his first day and a half he earned $52 percentage profit. The next day he had profits of $28—a total of $80 for his first 3 days in his own business, merchandising our products which include air-conditioning, electric hygiene units, etc. This man confidently expects to earn an average profit of $20 a day.

Another man was engaged at 4 p. m. Thursday and by Friday noon had earned a profit of $26.10.

Another new man started Tuesday at 1 p. m. and by Thursday had earned a profit of $72.

The above inspirational examples are all men engaged within a week's time. Many more examples are available.

Men who are established with us over a long period of time have percentage incomes many times over $100 a week. Here are two examples: One man with us over 5 years earned [last week] $194. Another man with us 2 years earned in 2 days of last week [Tuesday and Wednesday] $127.

Our company is rated in the millions—doing business all over the world and our new plan of merchandising our products has revolutionized the sales field. REMEMBER, WE ESTABLISH ALL OUR MEN IN A BUSINESS OF THEIR OWN.

We expect to and will prove every word of this story. Good ambitious men cannot afford to pass up this investigation Wednesday 10 to 10:15 a. m. and 2 to 2:15 p. m.
